Employment Reaches Record Seventy Million

Red Power Talks Begin

Nation's Job Total Still Below Need

Unemployed Rate Mounts Faster Than New Openings

WASHINGTON (UPI) — The government reported Friday that U.S. employment totalled more than 70 million for the first time in history last month — but unemployment rose 800,000 because of the influx of teen-age and college student job seekers.

Labor Secretary W. Willard Wirtz said the new employment mark of 70.3 million workers "on the face of it, seems like a good record." But he noted the fact that the June jobless figure of 4.8 million was 1.8 million more than for the same month 15 years ago.

Taking that into account, Wirtz commented: "We realize that the record is not good enough."

All of the 800,000 increase in unemployment was attributed to the entry of teen-age and college students into the labor market after the end of the school year. A Labor Department spokesman said the increase was not as great as expected.

This dropped the seasonally adjusted jobless rate to 5.7 per cent compared to 5.9 per cent in May.

Seasonally adjusted unemployment rates for adult men and adult women were unchanged from May at 4.4 and 5.4 per cent respectviely.

The jobless rate for adult men was somewhat below levels earlier this year and a little under the rate for June, 1962. For married men, the rate was 3.1 per cent, significantly below a year ago.

The teenage unemployment rate dropped back to 16 per cent between May and June. But it still was well above a year ago.

The report said an unusually large part of the summer influx of teen-agers into the labor force had taken place during May.

The number of persons who have been looking for work for 15 weeks or more declined seasonally to one million. About half of these long term unemployed had been out of work six months or longer—about the same number as a year ago.

U.S. To Move 3,000 Troops In Red Area

BERLIN (UPI) — The U.S. Army announced Friday it will move 3,000 troops across Communist East Germany in a new demonstration of an Allied right of access to West Berlin.

The Army announcement did not say when the troop movements would begin, but they were expected within the next few days. A spokesman said one 1,500 man battle group in West Germany would be exchanged for another in West Berlin.

In Moscow, the United States, France, and Britain told the Soviet Union it would be responsible for any incidents arising out of new traffic regulations for Berlin imposed by Communist East Germany.

In stern diplomatic notes, the Allies denounced the East Germans for "seriously infringing" Berlin's four-power status by creating 100-yard forbidden zones on the Communist side of the Berlin wall.

"The United States government will hold the Soviet government responsible for the consequences which may result in Berlin or elsewhere" the U.S. note said.

The troop movement over the 110 - mile highway across East Germany will be made in trucks and jeeps, probably over a period of several days.

NAACP Formally Condemns American Bar Association

Voices Approval Of Interfaith Commission

By JAN HARTNETT

CHICAGO (AP)—The National Association for the Advancement of Colored People convention condemned the American Bar Association Friday and called for an economic boycott of Portugal and the Union of South Africa.

In an emergency resolution adopted by a shouting, standing vote of 1,192 official delegates, the NAACP scored the ABA for not appointing a Negro to its Committee on Civil Rights and Racial Unrest formed in response to a request by President Kennedy.

The committee organized to find a means of best contributing to the solution of the problem raised by the civil rights crisis will report to the ABA's House of Delegates Aug. 12-16.

The resolution stated that Negro attorneys, including members of the American Bar Association, have been active leaders in the civil rights field but not one Negro was named to the ABA's group. Robert Carter, New York general counsel for the NAACP, said Negro members of the bar have been active in almost every state in the union.

The delegates also approved a resolution calling upon the U.S. to grant such aid to African nations which recently have gained their indefendence "in order that they may have an opportunity to maintain their integrity and independence."

The resolution further stated:

"We call upon the U.S. to continue its expressed disapproval of the policies of Portugaland the Union of South Africa and to declare an economic boycott against these two nations."

DeGaulle Firm On NATO And Common Mart

BONN, Germany (AP)—French President Charles de Gaulle Friday refused to modify his policies on the North Atlantic Treaty Organization and the Common Market in the interests of the new French-West German treaty of cooperation.

De Gaulle and his ministers returned by special plane to Paris after two days of consultations in Bonn, the first held under the provisions of the treaty. The next round will take place in six months.

Chancellor Konrad Adenauer and his government used the occasion to try to lessen the differences separating France from the United States and other Western nations. This was in line with West German support for President Kennedy's policies. No progress was made, according to available indications.

De Gaulle turned down a compromise they would have renewed contacts between the Common Market and Britain. The problem, played up here before hand as likely to be solved, was not mentioned in the final communique. It was shunted over to the Common Market Council of Ministers meeting in Brussels, Belgium July 11.

The West German hope that France would reconsider withdrawing its fleet from NATO was ignored. French spokesman Claude Lebel said at a concluding joint news conference that he had not even heard about it.

Plan Further Isolation Of Castro's Cuba

WASHINGTON (UPI) — The United States announced Friday it planned to take steps on its own and through the Organization of American States to further isolate Cuba economically and politically.

The State Department said: "We intend to take steps both individually and multilaterally which will in fact further isolate Cuba."

Department spokesman Richard I. Phillips also said the United States will continue "vigorous efforts" through diplomatic channels to reduce free world shipping to Cuba, which has increased recently, and will enforce vigorously U.S. shipping regulations concerning Cuba.

He did not say what other steps would be taken.

Last February the administration ordered that ships which had visited Cuba since Jan. 1, 1963, would be denied the right to load U. S. government - financed cargoes in U.S. ports unless the owners agreed to remove all their ships from the Cuba trade.

Phillips said 128 free world ships are now on the U.S. black list for having made trips to Cuba.

Senate Adjourns In Three Seconds

WASHINGTON (UPI) — The Senate met for three seconds Friday.

Never has the chamber with a reputation for long - windedness been in such a hurry to go home. The only speech Friday was 11 words long.

The record broken Friday was set on Sept. 4, 1951, when Vice President Alben W. Barkley adjourned the Senate after five seconds.

Friday presiding Sen. Lee Metcalf, D-Mont., gavelled the chamber into and out of session by saying: "The Senate under previous order will now adjourn until Tuesday next."

The House Friday took five minutes to adjourn until Monday. House members insisted, as usual, on hearing an opening prayer and a brief version of the journal of the previous day's business.

Interior Dept. Announces Birth Of Baby Trumpeters

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Interior Department proudly announced the news Friday: Four bouncing baby trumpeter swans, the first hatched east of the U.S. Rocky Mountains in 80 years.

It culminates years of planning, the birth announcement said.

It also brings the U.S. population of the big white birds outside of Alaska to about 604. There are believed to be about 1,500 in Alaska and Canada.

The heralded cygnets were seen in a nest atop a muskrat house in a remote part of the Lacreek National Wildlife Refuge in South Dakota. There's another nest in the refuge. When last observed, it was still being incubated.

The two pairs of wild trumpeters were taken there three years ago from Red Rock Lakes National Wildlife Refuge in western Montana to pioneer a hoped-for trek back eastward.

The permanent water areas of the Midwest prairies used to be the natural breeding grounds of the birds.

But the westward advance of American frontiers kept pushing the trumpeters westward, too. Traders and colonists killed the swans for meat and feathers, which were used in bedding.

Late in the 19th century, the trumpeters were threatened with extinction.

The government in the mid-30s established the Red Rock Lakes Refuge to protect the remnant flocks and in 1938 started moving young trumpeters to other refuge areas of the West.

Wirtz Hopes To Prevent Rail Tieup

Calls On Unions, Carriers To Sign Two-Year Truce

By W. B. RAGSDALE JR.

WASHINGTON (AP) — Secretary of Labor W. Willard Wirtz, warning that failure to reach agreement would damage free collective bargaining, proposed Friday a 2-year truce in the railroad work rules dispute.

He called on both the railroads and five operating unions to give him an answer Sunday afternoon. Both sides declined to comment pending further study of the proposal.

If they refuse, President Kennedy is expected to send legislation to Congress Monday, probably calling for compulsory arbitration of the dispute.

Both Sides Stand Pat

The railroads have given notice that they will put new work rules into effect when the present bargaining deadline is reached at midnight Wednesday. The unions repeated Friday they will go on strike when the new rules are put into effect.

"Unless this situation changes, it leaves only two possibilities: either a nationwide shutdown of the railroads or legislation," Wirtz told the negotiators during a 30-minute meeting. He added:

"You appear to accept the inevitability of these possibilities. I don't. Legislation would result inevitably in weakening free collective bargaining."

Wirtz said repeatedly that the principle of free collective bargaining in major labor disputes is on trial in the railroad work rules controversy.

Outlines Truce Idea

At a news conference, Wirtz outlined his proposed truce. He said it embodies the human relations approach which has been successful in the steel industry and is being tried in the auto industry.

He called for both sides to accept a Presidential emergency board's recommendations on two key issues, the question of removing some 40,000 firemen from freight yard trains and the composition of non-engine crews.

The presidential board proposed that only those firemen who had worked part time or who had been hired recently would be subject to dismissal. The rest would fade out by attrition, but in each case the railroad must declare the job unnecessary in refusing to hire a replacement. The union could protest, and if no agreement was reached within a specified time a neutral referee would be called in.

Equal Representation

The board also proposed that "key" jobs representing job groupings should be designated by an arbitrator, whose decisions would set patterns for the category.

Wirtz asked both sides to agree to a new 20-day negotiation period to iron out details with Asst. Secretary of Labor James J. Reynolds, who could make binding decisions on any problems not settled by negotiations.

Under the proposal, a new 2-year contract would be signed, with special groups set up to study how the agreement was working out, similar to the human relations committee in the steel industry.

Study groups would be set up, composed of two union and two railroad representatives.

Cardinals Finish Streamlining Plan For Holy Council

VATICAN CITY (UPI) — A commission of cardinals has finished its job of streamlining the work of the Ecumenical Council, which Pope Paul VI will reconvene here Sept. 29, it was announced Friday.

The council's press office said the seven - cardinal coordinating commission Thursday approved the last of the "schemata" that will come before the council.

The commission reduced, combined and revised some of the 70 subjects that had been scheduled to come before the council in order to make its work proceed more smoothly and quickly than it did in its first session last year.

Chinese-Soviet Delegations Argue Control Of Communism

Open Secret Sessions In Moscow

By REINHOLD G. ENSZ

MOSCOW (AP) — The great show-down battle for control of world communism opened Friday in a secret session of high Soviet and Chinese Communist delegations.

Main point of the struggle is the Chinese contention that the Russians are wrong in saying that communism can be spread without war. The Russians, following Premier Khrushchev, insist they can bury the West without violence.

Chinese Communist chief Mao Tze-tung sent a high-powered delegation headed by theorist Teng Hsiao-ping to argue for a tougher line. The outcome could determine the future of hundreds of millions of persons for years to come.

Some Expect Draw

Western observers expected a draw, with both parties sticking to their own views.

The Chinese are expected to demand that a conference of all the world's Communist parties pick the winner in a free vote. The Russians have indicated they are in no mood for such a meeting now.

A crisis atmosphere surrounded the talks after a premeeting exchange of polemics between the two Communist giants. The Soviet Union fired a twin government-Communist party salvo Thursday accusing the Chinese of lying, meddling and aggravating relations. The Chinese angrily rejected the charges.

But the tempers were not in evidence when chief Soviet negotiator Mikhail Suslov met the Chinese at the airport. Everything was smiles and flowers.

Openly Challenged

The Chinese were armed with instructions from Peking to stand firm on the basic issue of who should have the right to interpret the principles laid down by Vladimir I. Lennin, founder of the Soviet state.

The Chinese openly have challenged Khrushchev's leadership of the Communist world, and have even dared go directly to the Soviet people with their argument. Their efforts to put across their hard ideological line—by distributing leaflets attacking Khrushchev—got three Chinese diplomats and two students expelled from the Soviet Union last week.

Western diplomatic observers suspect the Chinese will brush aside most Soviet arguments about peaceful coexistence with the West, and will come out of the conference with their renewed demand for a worldwide conference of Communist parties to settle the issue.

Russians Play It Down

The Russians are deliberately playing down the conference. There were no Soviet newsmen or photographers at the airport.

As the Chinese were arriving, officials of Moscow's International Film Festival disclosed yet another Soviet-Chinese quarrel. The Chinese, they said, have withdrawn from the festival, which opens next week.

There was even a row about whether the Chinese would get their film back. But finally Chinese persistence prevailed and off they stalked with their cans of film.

U.S. Highway Toll Below Expectations

The Nation's highway death count for the long Independence Day weekend soared well past the 200 mark Friday, but the National Safety Council said the death rate was running considerably lower than expected.

Good driving habits and strict law enforcement were combining to keep the death toll down, despite perfect driving weather and heavy traffic in most areas of the nation.

The council's pre - holiday estimate was that 550 to 650 persons—a record number for a summer holiday — would die in the 102-hour weekend from 6 p.m. Wednesday to midnight Sunday. But it appeared possible the final count would not reach 500.

A United Press International count at 9:30 p.m. EDT showed that at least 225 persons have been killed in traffic accidents since 6 p.m. Wednesday.

The breakdown:
Traffic 225
Drownings 93
Boating 3
Planes 1
Fireworks 1
Miscellaneous 39
Total 362

Pennsylvania had the worst holiday death total with 24. There were 23 dead in California, 15 in Ohio, 13 in Texas, 12 each in Indiana and New York state and 11 in Iowa.

The traffic death record for a four-day summer holiday was set last Memorial Day when 525 persons lost their lives on streets and highways.

Mental Patient Slashes Babies, Wife To Death

FERGUS FALLS, Minn. (UPI) —A young mother and her two babies were found slashed to death in their small home Friday and authorities put out an alert for the arrest of her husband, a mental patient.

Mrs. Velda Stangvik, 21, was found in the bathroom with her throat cut and about 30 stab wounds. Her children, Rebecca Lynn, 3, and Scott Philip, who would have been one next Thursday, lay dead in their cribs with their throats cut.

Sheriff Russell Brooberg put out an "all-points bulletin" to arrest the husband, Philip C. Stangvik, 25, who was on a five-day pass from the state mental hospital here.

The mother had been scheduled to report for work at the Fergus Falls bus depot Friday afternoon. A baby-sitter found the bodies when she arrived at the home to take care of the children.

Authorities said the mother and children apparently were killed Thursday night.

JFK Believes Ties Between U.S., Europe Are Deeper

WASHINGTON (UPI) — President Kennedy said Friday night his 10-day trip to Europe was "a moving experience" which convinced him that ties between that continent and America are even deeper than before.

"There is still much progress to be made," he said. "There will still be disappointments. But today we can be more confident than ever that the old world and the new are partners for progress and partners for peace."

The President commented in a 300-word statement recorded and filmed Wednesday for release Friday night. It summed up his reflections on the journey to Germany, Ireland, England and Italy from which he returned early Wednesday morning.

"I think every American has reason to be proud of this nation's reputation and standing in Europe," Kennedy said.

The President noted that "most of us are descended from that continent" and some still have relatives there. He said some Americans still have sons or brothers buried in Europe, and he pointed to close cultural, intellectual and commercial ties.

"Today I can report an even deeper tie between the people of Europe and the people of the United States," he then asserted. "Our steadfast role in the defense of freedom for 18 years, for peace and justice, I think has earned us the abiding trust and respect of the people of Europe."

Ferguson Renamed To Coal Mine Board

HYANNIS PORT, Mass. (UPI) —Charles R. Ferguson, of New Kensington, Pa., was named by President Kennedy Friday for reappointment to the federal Coal Mine Safety Board of Review.

Ferguson, an international representative of the United Mine Workers union, will serve a new term expiring July 15, 1966. Compensation is $50 a day while on duty.

W.Va. Income Rises

NEW YORK (UPI)—Personal income received by West Virginia residents during the first four months of 1963 totaled $1.12 billion, business Week magazine said Friday. This is an increase of 3.1 per cent over a corresponding period last year.

Pennsylvania had the worst holiday death total with 24. There were 23 dead in California, 15 in Ohio, 13 in Texas, 12 each in Indiana and New York state and 11 in Iowa.

The traffic death record for a four-day summer holiday was set last Memorial Day when 525 persons lost their lives on streets and highways.

Mental Patient Slashes Babies, Wife To Death

FERGUS FALLS, Minn. (UPI) —A young mother and her two babies were found slashed to death in their small home Friday and authorities put out an alert for the arrest of her husband, a mental patient.

Mrs. Velda Stangvik, 21, was found in the bathroom with her throat cut and about 30 stab wounds. Her children, Rebecca Lynn, 3, and Scott Philip, who would have been one next Thursday, lay dead in their cribs with their throats cut.

Sheriff Russell Brooberg put out an "all-points bulletin" to arrest the husband, Philip C. Stangvik, 25, who was on a five-day pass from the state mental hospital here.

The mother had been scheduled to report for work at the Fergus Falls bus depot Friday afternoon. A baby-sitter found the bodies when she arrived at the home to take care of the children.

Authorities said the mother and children apparently were killed Thursday night.

JFK Believes Ties Between U.S., Europe Are Deeper

WASHINGTON (UPI) — President Kennedy said Friday night his 10-day trip to Europe was "a moving experience" which convinced him that ties between that continent and America are even deeper than before.

"There is still much progress to be made," he said. "There will still be disappointments. But today we can be more confident than ever that the old world and the new are partners for progress and partners for peace."

The President commented in a 300-word statement recorded and filmed Wednesday for release Friday night. It summed up his reflections on the journey to Germany, Ireland, England and Italy from which he returned early Wednesday morning.

"I think every American has reason to be proud of this nation's reputation and standing in Europe," Kennedy said.

The President noted that "most of us are descended from that continent" and some still have relatives there. He said some Americans still have sons or brothers buried in Europe, and he pointed to close cultural, intellectual and commercial ties.

"Today I can report an even deeper tie between the people of Europe and the people of the United States," he then asserted. "Our steadfast role in the defense of freedom for 18 years, for peace and justice, I think has earned us the abiding trust and respect of the people of Europe."

Open Secret Sessions In Moscow

By REINHOLD G. ENSZ

MOSCOW (AP) — The great show-down battle for control of world communism opened Friday in a secret session of high Soviet and Chinese Communist delegations.

Main point of the struggle is the Chinese contention that the Russians are wrong in saying that communism can be spread without war. The Russians, following Premier Khrushchev, insist they can bury the West without violence.

Chinese Communist chief Mao Tze-tung sent a high-powered delegation headed by theorist Teng Hsiao-ping to argue for a tougher line. The outcome could determine the future of hundreds of millions of persons for years to come.

Some Expect Draw

Western observers expected a draw, with both parties sticking to their own views.

The Chinese are expected to demand that a conference of all the world's Communist parties pick the winner in a free vote. The Russians have indicated they are in no mood for such a meeting now.

A crisis atmosphere surrounded the talks after a premeeting exchange of polemics between the two Communist giants. The Soviet Union fired a twin government-Communist party salvo Thursday accusing the Chinese of lying, meddling and aggravating relations. The Chinese angrily rejected the charges.

But the tempers were not in evidence when chief Soviet negotiator Mikhail Suslov met the Chinese at the airport. Everything was smiles and flowers.

Openly Challenged

The Chinese were armed with instructions from Peking to stand firm on the basic issue of who should have the right to interpret the principles laid down by Vladimir I. Lennin, founder of the Soviet state.

The Chinese openly have challenged Khrushchev's leadership of the Communist world, and have even dared go directly to the Soviet people with their argument. Their efforts to put across their hard ideological line—by distributing leaflets attacking Khrushchev—got three Chinese diplomats and two students expelled from the Soviet Union last week.

Western diplomatic observers suspect the Chinese will brush aside most Soviet arguments about peaceful coexistence with the West, and will come out of the conference with their renewed demand for a worldwide conference of Communist parties to settle the issue.

Russians Play It Down

The Russians are deliberately playing down the conference. There were no Soviet newsmen or photographers at the airport.

As the Chinese were arriving, officials of Moscow's International Film Festival disclosed yet another Soviet-Chinese quarrel. The Chinese, they said, have withdrawn from the festival, which opens next week.

There was even a row about whether the Chinese would get their film back. But finally Chinese persistence prevailed and off they stalked with their cans of film.

Ferguson Renamed To Coal Mine Board

HYANNIS PORT, Mass. (UPI) —Charles R. Ferguson, of New Kensington, Pa., was named by President Kennedy Friday for reappointment to the federal Coal Mine Safety Board of Review.

Ferguson, an international representative of the United Mine Workers union, will serve a new term expiring July 15, 1966. Compensation is $50 a day while on duty.

W.Va. Income Rises

NEW YORK (UPI)—Personal income received by West Virginia residents during the first four months of 1963 totaled $1.12 billion, business Week magazine said Friday. This is an increase of 3.1 per cent over a corresponding period last year.

National Guard Will Remain In Cambridge Over Weekend

Gov. Tawes Delays Troop Withdrawal

Negro And White Leaders Approve Executive Action

ANNAPOLIS (AP) — The 400 National Guard troops which have been in racially troubled Cambridge for three weeks will remain there until Monday, Gov. Tawes said Friday.

The governor had said Tuesday that the troops would be removed Friday from the community of 12,000 on the Eastern Shore of Chesapeake Bay.

Odell M. Smith, assistant to the governor who made the announcement, said Tawes decided to extend the period until noon Monday after talks with Maj. Gen. Milton A. Reckord, state adjutant general; Brig. Gen. George Gelston, Reckord's assistant in charge of the Cambridge troops, and Col. Carey Jarman, State Police superintendent.

Both Sides Approve

White and Negro leaders in Cambridge both expressed approval of the decision.

"I think it was a wise decision to keep them here," said Arthur Parker, City Council president.

Mrs. Gloria Richardson, chairman of the Cambridge Nonviolent Action Committee which is trying to break racial segregation, said: "It's a good thing the troops are staying until Monday."

Cambridge Police Chief Brice Kinnamon had asked that the troops not be pulled out until after the weekend. Kinnamon said he also had asked that restrictions imposed in the town be removed "so that the city could return to normal while the Guard remained on duty over the weekend."

Gen. Gelston said he knew of no such plan but Kinnamon said: "I am still hopeful that the restrictions will be lifted before the Guard leaves town."

There is a 10 p.m. curfew in Cambridge, stores must close an hour earlier than that, and sale of alcoholic beverages is forbidden. The restrictions were imposed by the Guard soon after the troops were ordered into Cambridge three weeks ago.

The governor sent them in after four nights of mass marches marked by violence.

Adopt Amendment

Cambridge's five-member City Council adopted a charter amendment last Monday night which would integrate restaurants, motels and hotels, but Negro leaders have said they will not accept this because it can be petitioned to referendum. Instead, integrationists want a city ordinance on public accommodations which would not be subject to a public vote.

Negotiations over Negro demands for equal accommodations, total school integration and improvements in housing and employment appeared near success at times, but each time no agreement was reached.

Mrs. Richardson's committee first had planned another demonstration for Independence Day but later called it off. The holiday was a quiet, uneventful one in Cambridge. Thet raditional fireworks display had been cancelled by Chief Kinnamon.

Model Prisoner's Good Deed Misfired

ALESSANDRIA, Italy (AP) — Giovanni Pratesi, 25, was a model prisoner at the Alessandria jail where he served a five-year sentence for theft.

When he was freed he promised to come back and clean up the jail yard, filled with piles of rubbish left over from the rebuilding of a wing.

He kept his promise, returned with a truck and cleaned up the yard.

Today he was behind bars again. Police charged him with theft. They said he had stolen the truck.

NAACP Formally

A resolution voiced approval of the National Conference on Religion and Race, involving the Catholic, Protestant and Jewish faiths for their work in "concrete planning on the question of racial justice."

It also expressed encouragement in the Commission on Religion and Race initiated by the National Council of Churches as well as an Interfaith Commission of religious leaders requested by President Kennedy.

The convention further called for a continuation of direct action techniques in accordance with NAACP policy. It stated:

"In furtherance of NAACP direct action policy we recommend that all NAACP units—state, area and regional conferences, branches, youth councils and college chapters—shall implement the direct action resolutions adopted at the national conventions or which become matters of national policy.

"'Such activities shall include picketing, sit-ins, mass action protests, selective-buying campaigns and all appropriate constitutional means of attacking discrimination and segregation in public accomodations, housing, education, employment and political action."

Clergymen Join Racial Protest At Gwynn Oak

White Religious Leaders Jailed But Plan Another Assault Sunday

BALTIMORE (AP) — A group of jailed clergymen planned Friday for another assault Sunday on the racial barriers at Gwynn Oak Amusement Park.

Seven imprisoned ministers, among 175 demonstrators who refused bail out of 275 arrested Thursday at the segregated park in suburban Baltimore, sent out word they had formed an "Ad Hoc Committee to Desegregate Gwynn Oak Park." "Ad Hoc" means devotion to a single aim.

Walter Carter, former chairman of Baltimore's Congress of Racial Equality which organized the July 4th mass demonstration, said pastors of all churches will be asked to urge their congregations Sunday to join a march on the park that afternoon.

Majority Are White

The overwhelming majority of those demonstrating Thursday, including 225 from New York and Philadelphia, were white.

Among them for the first time were distinguished clergymen.

Those arrested included the chief executive officer of the United Presbyterian Church, a Catholic monsignor, an Episcopal bishop and a rabbi.

Carter said Sunday's local follow-up again would be organized in the Metropolitan Methodist Church, a Negro congregation.

Emphasis on the white religious support remained dominant, however.

The three co-chairmen of Baltimore's Interfaith Committee on Human Rights issued a formal statement explaining why they participated "even at the risk of breaking the law."

Issue Statements

Catholic Father Joseph Connolly, Presbyterian Rev. Dr. John T. Middaugh, and Rabbi Morris Lieberman stated:

"Central to our religious commitments is the common teaching of our faiths that human rights, given of God, are inalienable, take precedence over property and must be guaranteed by civil society.

"So motivated, we reluctantly agreed to break the letter of the law in order to direct the attention of the faithful to the tragic gap beween ideal and practice in our democracy a century after the Emancipation Proclamation."

James F. Price, one of three brothers who own the amusement park which they advertise as Maryland's "favorite family playground," also issued a statement on the religious aspect.

"Ordering the arrest of clergymen, whom I sincerely believe were acting on the very highest of motivations, was the most difficult thing I have ever had to do," he said.

"But after much soul searching on the manner in which to protect the equally God-given right of our citizens to their private property, we felt we could not show less courage than the men of the cloth.

"Without attempting to debate the philosophic theories involved, we took the practical sound businessman's approach of meeting the conditions of the world around us as we find them to be, and not perhaps as we would like them to be.

"Segregation is not being forced upon anyone, it is created and nurtured by both whites and Negroes themselves.

"Insofar as clergymen deliberately violate a law, we are compelled to note the time-tested truism that no matter how noble an objective may be, it cannot be obtained or even justified by ignoble means. If we accept yesterday's illegal act on the grounds of morals or conscience, on what tomorrow will be asked to accept some unlawful act to justify an ideal?"

State Law Cited

The arrests were made for violation of Maryland's trespass law which gives a private property owner the right to deny access to it by anyone he chooses.

There were three dozen clergymen among those arrested. The 175 who rejected bail were to be given magistrate hearings Friday night and the 100 released are to be heard Monday.

The penalty for trespassing is a fine of $1 to $100.

Carter said Sunday's demonstrators would be recruited locally "to give the people here a chance to participate and control their own destiny."

Area Streams Good Fishing Over Weekend

CHARLESTON, W. Va. (UPI)— The Natural Resources Department issued a revised weekend stream report Friday, indicating fishing conditions have improved a little since the previous pre-holiday report Wednesday.

The department said most of the improvement was in the mid-Ohio River section and the Huntington area, while some central West Virginia streams also showed improvement.

The report showed, by areas:

Eastern Panhandle — South Branch of Potomac normal and muddy; Shenandoah River normal and milky; Patterson Creek and Cacapon River low and clear.

Huntington — Twelvepole Creek normal and clear near Cabwaylingo State Forest, muddy near Wayne; Big Sandy normal and clear, Poca low and clear.

Central — Cranberry and Williams Rivers, Sutton Reservoir and trout streams normal and clear; Elk River at Clay normal and muddy.

Beckley-Bluefield—New River at Bellepoint and Greenbrier River at White Sulphur Springs, low and clear; Gauley Bridge area, normal and clear; Bluestone Reservoir, normal and clear, white bass and channel cat were taken Thursday with live bait.

Italian Premier Favors NATO Plan

ROME (AP)—Premier Giovanni Leone Friday pledged his interim government to the Western cause, hailing the idea of a multinational nuclear striking force within NATO. He then won a vote of confidence in the Senate.

He passed the first parliamentary test for his two-week-old minority government with the indirect support of the non-Communist leftist parties.

GOP Names Speaker

HUNTINGTON, W. Va. (UPI)— Minority clerk Donald (Buz) Lukens of the U. S. House Rules Committee will speak July 12-13 at the West Virginia convention of the National Young Republican League. Lukens is the newly elected national chairman of the organization. He was elected last week in San Francisco.

Hurricane Hunter Planes Find No Storms Forming

MIAMI (UPI) — A Navy hurricane Hunter plane investigated a thick band of squalls 1,500 miles southeast of Miami Friday, but found no signs of the season's first tropical storm is developing.

The Miami weather bureau said another plane would check on the area early Saturday morning.

The hunter plane, flying out of Puerto Rico, "found nothing to indicate any organized development," the weather bureau said.

Highest winds reported by the plane were around 35 miles an hour at the northern end of the "moderate" easterly wave. Such waves often are the forerunners of tropical storms or hurricanes.

The weather bureau said the wave was about 200-300 miles wide and 500 - 600 miles, long, stretching on a southwest-to-northeast line from near the north coast of South America up through the Windward and Leeward Islands, the half - moon shaped chain of islands that mark the eastern edge of the Caribbean.

A forecaster called it, "a fairly strong wave, the strongest of the season so far."

The wave was drifting westward and was forecast to continue that movement and reach the island of Hispanola in about 48 hours.

Protest Strike Is Being Called In Argentina

BUENOS AIRES (UPI) —The Peronist-dominated general Confederation of Labor Friday called a general strike for July 12 to protest Sunday's presidential election, which the Peronists are boycotting.

The 62 Peronist unions control about one-third of the 2.5 million workers affiliated in the conference and can count on some independent support due to Peronist control over the confederation's leadership.

Interior Minister Gen. Osiris Villega spurned a bid for an election postponement, and the strike decision followed. Some of the Peronists had sought time to replace disqualified electoral college candidates with new candidates.

The Nationalist Popular Front, a Peronist coalition with the intransigent Radical Party, decided to boycott the elections when the electoral college candidates were barred in 11 of the 21 provinces. It was the "last straw" for the Peronists who were already banned by decree from running gubernatorial, or other top candidates.

The strike, called for only 24 hours and set for five days after elections are held, would be a relatively minor protest. Friday was apparently chosen as the strike day to pick up uncommitted workers desirous of a long weekend.

U.S. War Dead Honored In Korea

SEOUL (AP) — About 200 U.S. soldiers killed at the start of the Korean War were honored at a simple ceremony Friday atop a hill where they perished.

Lt. Col. J. J. Boody, who fought on the hill 13 years ago today, laid a wreath at a stone monument. The hill is 40 miles south of Seoul.

The monument was erected eight years ago in honor of the soldiers who fought onrushing Communists to give U.N. forces time to recover from a surprise attack.

Refrigerator Ship Is Still Missing

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Coast Guard said Friday it is still searching for the Sno'boy, a ship it said is missing with 55 persons aboard, including two Americans.

A Coast Guard officer said a report that the ship had been located was in error, and resulted from confusion with another ship since found.

The Navy, describing Sno'boy as a small refrigerator ship overdue on a Caribbean trip, had reported finding of the vessel.

Employment Up In Steel Industry

NEW YORK (UPI) — May employment in the steel industry totaled 545,855, up from 530,907 in April and the highest total since April a year ago, American Iron and Steel Institute reported Friday.

Employment in basic steel industry increased by more than 63,000 from the low of 482,600 in November, 1962 to the May total.

Hourly-rated employes worked an average of 40.9 hours a week during May, compared with 39.6 hours in April. It was the first time since March of last year that the average work week has been above 40 hours.

Woman Marks 106th Birthday

EAST PROVIDENCE, R. I. (UPI) — A Negro woman born in North Carolina was 106 years old Friday.

Mrs. Hattie Twine, said to be Rhode Island's oldest resident, marked the occasion Thursday at the home of a great-granddaughter.

Her secret for longevity? "I always had plenty to eat, I rested good and worked hard."

Charge Violation

TOKYO (UPI) — Communist China charged Friday that a U.S. military plane intruded into Red air space and issued its "249th serious warning" against such alleged incidents, the New China news agency said.

The news agency said that the American plane intruded into "China's territorial air over the Yunghsing, Pei and Shu islands of the Hsisha Island group in Kwangtung Province this afternoon."

Public Floggings Are Ordered In British Guiana

Efforts Made To Curb Waves Of Violence

GEORGETOWN, British Guiana (UPI) — The government of Marxist Premier Cheddi Jagan Friday ordered public floggings for rioters and life sentences for shopbreakers in an effort to curb violence connected with the eleven-week-old general strike against his regime.

Two more persons were killed in racial clashes Thursday, bringing the week's total to four. Sixty persons have been hospitalized. Fires and riots broke out in several towns Thursday and Friday.

The government invoked archaic regulations providing for sentences of life imprisonment for persons convicted of looting, robbery with violence and shipbreaking.

Magistrates were empowered to sentence lesser offenders to public floggings.

Looting of shops and market stalls has been a feature of racial clashes between Jagan's East Indian followers and Negro oppositionists.

A dead man was found Thursday in a ditch at West Ruimveldt on the southern suburbs of Georgetown. Police said he had been beaten to death. Five suspects were reported held at Ann's Grove, 20 miles east of the capital, in another beating - slaying. Both victims were East Indians.

Three houses were burned down Friday by arsonists at Victoria Village, 15 miles from the capital. Six alleged Molotov-cocktail hurlers were arrested.

At Wismar, opposite the Canadian - owned Demerara bauxite works, a shop was burned down. At the company town of MacKenzie a garage was set on fire.

Temporary Jail Lost In Shipment

HAMPTON BEACH, N.H. (AP) —Lost: one jail.

Somewhere between here and Kansas City, a temporary jail that Hampton Beach ordered last month has become lost in shipment.

The bull-pen type structure was to be erected in the town garage in time for use during the July 4 weekend.

But the jail hasn't arrived and no one seems to know where it is.

It wasn't needed Thursday, however, even though an estimated 80,000 persons thronged Hampton Beach.

Singer, Actress Get Marriage License

NEW YORK (AP)—Singer Robert Goulet and actress Carol Lawrence obtained a marriage license Friday.

Goulet, who won prominence in the Broadway musical "Camelot," said they planned to be married next week. He declined to say where the ceremony will be held.

Algerians Celebrate Liberty

ALGIERS (UPI) — A 101-gun salute, loudest gunfire heard here in a year, Friday marked Algeria's first anniversary of independence.

Thousands of Algerians, from boy scouts to elderly farmers, turned out either to watch or march in a gigantic parade celebrating the new nation's first year of self rule.

With units converging from all points of the city, the parade passed by a reviewing stand filled with Algerian and foreign dignitaries.

They included Premier Ahmed Ben Bella, Cuban Minister of Industry "Che" Guevera, and United Arab Republic Vice President Abdel Hakim Amer.

The only military note came when five Soviet-built MIGS and six Egyptian Goumourias of the Algerian air force flew past.

The parade, organized by the ruling National Liberation Front party (FLN), emphasized the peaceful building of socialism.

The peaceful parade was in stark contrast to the seven years of bitter fighting between FLN forces and the French over independence, and the ensuing internal struggle won by Ben Bella's forces.

Lima, Peru Hit By Earthquake

LIMA, Peru (AP) — Buildings and houses swayed, walls cracked and hundreds fled into the streets Thursday night when an earthquake shook Lima violently for 45 seconds.

It was described as one of the worst tremors felt here in almost a quarter of a century.

Damage was reported slight. Several persons were injured when they fell while scrambling to get out of their houses.

Justice Douglas Visiting In Liberia

MONROVIA, Liberia (AP) — Associate Justice William O. Douglas of the Supreme Court arrived Thursday night for a five-day visit. After meetings with Liberia's law groups, he will visit the interior to look over rural development projects.

W.Va. Farmer Uses Axe In Dual Slaying

Was Awaiting Court Hearing On Charge Of Lunacy

SUTTON, W. Va. (UPI)—Braxton County authorities said Friday that Hoy Prunty, 60, killed his wife and their 6-year-old grandson, then took his own life on the eve of a scheduled appearance at a lunacy hearing here.

Prunty, who owned a farm on U. S. 119 near here, had been scheduled to appear in court Friday on a lunacy warrant sworn out by his son.

Authorities were told by Prunty's daughter-in-law, Mrs. Pearl Prunty, that she was awakened Thursday by the sound of scuffling and found Prunty slashing at his wife with a butcher knife.

She said she managed to wrest the knife from him, then ran for help, throwing the knife into some bushes as she left the house.

When police arrived at the scene, they found that Prunty had killed his wife, Rosie, and grandson Stevie Lynn Prunty, son of Pearl, with an ax, then used another knife to kill himself. The bodies were found on the front porch of the house.

Authorities said Prunty had been treated for a mental illness at a Charleston hospital for a short time.

National Guard Will Remain In Cambridge Over Weekend

Gov. Tawes Delays Troop Withdrawal

Negro And White Leaders Approve Executive Action

ANNAPOLIS (AP) — The 400 National Guard troops which have been in racially troubled Cambridge for three weeks will remain there until Monday, Gov. Tawes said Friday.

The governor had said Tuesday that the troops would be removed Friday from the community of 12,000 on the Eastern Shore of Chesapeake Bay.

Odell M. Smith, assistant to the governor who made the announcement, said Tawes decided to extend the period until noon Monday after talks with Maj. Gen. Milton A. Reckord, state adjutant general; Brig. Gen. George Gelston, Reckord's assistant in charge of the Cambridge troops, and Col. Carey Jarman, State Police superintendent.

Both Sides Approve

White and Negro leaders in Cambridge both expressed approval of the decision.

"I think it was a wise decision to keep them here," said Arthur Parker, City Council president.

Mrs. Gloria Richardson, chairman of the Cambridge Nonviolent Action Committee which is trying to break racial segregation, said: "It's a good thing the troops are staying until Monday."

Cambridge Police Chief Brice Kinnamon had asked that the troops not be pulled out until after the weekend. Kinnamon said he also had asked that restrictions imposed in the town be removed "so that the city could return to normal while the Guard remained on duty over the weekend."

Gen. Gelston said he knew of no such plan but Kinnamon said: "I am still hopeful that the restrictions will be lifted before the Guard leaves town."

There is a 10 p.m. curfew in Cambridge, stores must close an hour earlier than that, and sale of alcoholic beverages is forbidden. The restrictions were imposed by the Guard soon after the troops were ordered into Cambridge three weeks ago.

The governor sent them in after four nights of mass marches marked by violence.

Adopt Amendment

Cambridge's five-member City Council adopted a charter amendment last Monday night which would integrate restaurants, motels and hotels, but Negro leaders have said they will not accept this because it can be petitioned to referendum. Instead, integrationists want a city ordinance on public accommodations which would not be subject to a public vote.

Negotiations over Negro demands for equal accommodations, total school integration and improvements in housing and employment appeared near success at times, but each time no agreement was reached.

Mrs. Richardson's committee first had planned another demonstration for Independence Day but later called it off. The holiday was a quiet, uneventful one in Cambridge. Thet raditional fireworks display had been cancelled by Chief Kinnamon.

It also expressed encouragement in the Commission on Religion and Race initiated by the National Council of Churches as well as an Interfaith Commission of religious leaders requested by President Kennedy.

The convention further called for a continuation of direct action techniques in accordance with NAACP policy. It stated:

Clergymen Join Racial Protest At Gwynn Oak

White Religious Leaders Jailed But Plan Another Assault Sunday

BALTIMORE (AP) — A group of jailed clergymen planned Friday for another assault Sunday on the racial barriers at Gwynn Oak Amusement Park.

Seven imprisoned ministers, among 175 demonstrators who refused bail out of 275 arrested Thursday at the segregated park in suburban Baltimore, sent out word they had formed an "Ad Hoc Committee to Desegregate Gwynn Oak Park." "Ad Hoc" means devotion to a single aim.

Walter Carter, former chairman of Baltimore's Congress of Racial Equality which organized the July 4th mass demonstration, said pastors of all churches will be asked to urge their congregations Sunday to join a march on the park that afternoon.

Majority Are White

The overwhelming majority of those demonstrating Thursday, including 225 from New York and Philadelphia, were white.

Among them for the first time were distinguished clergymen.

Those arrested included the chief executive officer of the United Presbyterian Church, a Catholic monsignor, an Episcopal bishop and a rabbi.

Carter said Sunday's local follow-up again would be organized in the Metropolitan Methodist Church, a Negro congregation.

Emphasis on the white religious support remained dominant, however.

The three co-chairmen of Baltimore's Interfaith Committee on Human Rights issued a formal statement explaining why they participated "even at the risk of breaking the law."

Issue Statements

Catholic Father Joseph Connolly, Presbyterian Rev. Dr. John T. Middaugh, and Rabbi Morris Lieberman stated:

"Central to our religious commitments is the common teaching of our faiths that human rights, given of God, are inalienable, take precedence over property and must be guaranteed by civil society.

"So motivated, we reluctantly agreed to break the letter of the law in order to direct the attention of the faithful to the tragic gap beween ideal and practice in our democracy a century after the Emancipation Proclamation."

James F. Price, one of three brothers who own the amusement park which they advertise as Maryland's "favorite family playground," also issued a statement on the religious aspect.

"Ordering the arrest of clergymen, whom I sincerely believe were acting on the very highest of motivations, was the most difficult thing I have ever had to do," he said.

"But after much soul searching on the manner in which to protect the equally God-given right of our citizens to their private property, we felt we could not show less courage than the men of the cloth.

"Without attempting to debate the philosophic theories involved, we took the practical sound businessman's approach of meeting the conditions of the world around us as we find them to be, and not perhaps as we would like them to be.

"Segregation is not being forced upon anyone, it is created and nurtured by both whites and Negroes themselves.

If we accept yesterday's illegal act on the grounds of morals or conscience, on what tomorrow will be asked to accept some unlawful act to justify an ideal?"

State Law Cited

The arrests were made for violation of Maryland's trespass law which gives a private property owner the right to deny access to it by anyone he chooses.

There were three dozen clergymen among those arrested. The 175 who rejected bail were to be given magistrate hearings Friday night and the 100 released are to be heard Monday.

The penalty for trespassing is a fine of $1 to $100.

Area Streams Good Fishing Over Weekend

CHARLESTON, W. Va. (UPI)—The Natural Resources Department issued a revised weekend stream report Friday, indicating fishing conditions have improved a little since the previous pre-holiday report Wednesday.

The department said most of the improvement was in the mid-Ohio River section and the Huntington area, while some central West Virginia streams also showed improvement.

The report showed, by areas:

Eastern Panhandle — South Branch of Potomac normal and muddy; Shenandoah River normal and milky; Patterson Creek and Cacapon River low and clear.

Huntington — Twelvepole Creek normal and clear near Cabwaylingo State Forest, muddy near Wayne; Big Sandy normal and clear, Poca low and clear.

Central — Cranberry and Williams Rivers, Sutton Reservoir and trout streams normal and clear; Elk River at Clay normal and muddy.

Beckley-Bluefield—New River at Bellepoint and Greenbrier River at White Sulphur Springs, low and clear; Gauley Bridge area, normal and clear; Bluestone Reservoir, normal and clear, white bass and channel cat were taken Thursday with live bait.

Italian Premier Favors NATO Plan

ROME (AP)—Premier Giovanni Leone Friday pledged his interim government to the Western cause, hailing the idea of a multinational nuclear striking force within NATO. He then won a vote of confidence in the Senate.

He passed the first parliamentary test for his two-week-old minority government with the indirect support of the non-Communist leftist parties.

GOP Names Speaker

HUNTINGTON, W. Va. (UPI)—Minority clerk Donald (Buz) Lukens of the U. S. House Rules Committee will speak July 12-13 at the West Virginia convention of the National Young Republican League. Lukens is the newly elected national chairman of the organization. He was elected last week in San Francisco.

Hurricane Hunter Planes Find No Storms Forming

MIAMI (UPI) — A Navy hurricane Hunter plane investigated a thick band of squalls 1,500 miles southeast of Miami Friday, but found no signs of the season's first tropical storm is developing.

The Miami weather bureau said another plane would check on the area early Saturday morning.

The hunter plane, flying out of Puerto Rico, "found nothing to indicate any organized development," the weather bureau said.

Highest winds reported by the plane were around 35 miles an hour at the northern end of the "moderate" easterly wave. Such waves often are the forerunners of tropical storms or hurricanes.

The weather bureau said the wave was about 200-300 miles wide and 500 - 600 miles, long, stretching on a southwest-to-northeast line from near the north coast of South America up through the Windward and Leeward Islands, the half - moon shaped chain of islands that mark the eastern edge of the Caribbean.

A forecaster called it, "a fairly strong wave, the strongest of the season so far."

The wave was drifting westward and was forecast to continue that movement and reach the island of Hispanola in about 48 hours.

Protest Strike Is Being Called In Argentina

BUENOS AIRES (UPI) —The Peronist-dominated general Confederation of Labor Friday called a general strike for July 12 to protest Sunday's presidential election, which the Peronists are boycotting.

The 62 Peronist unions control about one-third of the 2.5 million workers affiliated in the conference and can count on some independent support due to Peronist control over the confederation's leadership.

Interior Minister Gen. Osiris Villega spurned a bid for an election postponement, and the strike decision followed. Some of the Peronists had sought time to replace disqualified electoral college candidates with new candidates.

The Nationalist Popular Front, a Peronist coalition with the intransigent Radical Party, decided to boycott the elections when the electoral college candidates were barred in 11 of the 21 provinces. It was the "last straw" for the Peronists who were already banned by decree from running gubernatorial, or other top candidates.

The strike, called for only 24 hours and set for five days after elections are held, would be a relatively minor protest. Friday was apparently chosen as the strike day to pick up uncommitted workers desirous of a long weekend.

U.S. War Dead Honored In Korea

SEOUL (AP) — About 200 U.S. soldiers killed at the start of the Korean War were honored at a simple ceremony Friday atop a hill where they perished.

Lt. Col. J. J. Boody, who fought on the hill 13 years ago today, laid a wreath at a stone monument. The hill is 40 miles south of Seoul.

The monument was erected eight years ago in honor of the soldiers who fought onrushing Communists to give U.N. forces time to recover from a surprise attack.

Refrigerator Ship Is Still Missing

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Coast Guard said Friday it is still searching for the Sno'boy, a ship it said is missing with 55 persons aboard, including two Americans.

A Coast Guard officer said a report that the ship had been located was in error, and resulted from confusion with another ship since found.

The Navy, describing Sno'boy as a small refrigerator ship overdue on a Caribbean trip, had reported finding of the vessel.

Employment Up In Steel Industry

NEW YORK (UPI) — May employment in the steel industry totaled 545,855, up from 530,907 in April and the highest total since April a year ago, American Iron and Steel Institute reported Friday.

Employment in basic steel industry increased by more than 63,000 from the low of 482,600 in November, 1962 to the May total.

Hourly-rated employes worked an average of 40.9 hours a week during May, compared with 39.6 hours in April. It was the first time since March of last year that the average work week has been above 40 hours.

Woman Marks 106th Birthday

EAST PROVIDENCE, R. I. (UPI) — A Negro woman born in North Carolina was 106 years old Friday.

Mrs. Hattie Twine, said to be Rhode Island's oldest resident, marked the occasion Thursday at the home of a great-granddaughter.

Charge Violation

TOKYO (UPI) — Communist China charged Friday that a U.S. military plane intruded into Red air space and issued its "249th serious warning" against such alleged incidents, the New China news agency said.

The news agency said that the American plane intruded into "China's territorial air over the Yunghsing, Pei and Shu islands of the Hsisha Island group in Kwangtung Province this afternoon."

Public Floggings Are Ordered In British Guiana

Efforts Made To Curb Waves Of Violence

GEORGETOWN, British Guiana (UPI) — The government of Marxist Premier Cheddi Jagan Friday ordered public floggings for rioters and life sentences for shopbreakers in an effort to curb violence connected with the eleven-week-old general strike against his regime.

Two more persons were killed in racial clashes Thursday, bringing the week's total to four. Sixty persons have been hospitalized. Fires and riots broke out in several towns Thursday and Friday.

The government invoked archaic regulations providing for sentences of life imprisonment for persons convicted of looting, robbery with violence and shipbreaking.

Magistrates were empowered to sentence lesser offenders to public floggings.

Looting of shops and market stalls has been a feature of racial clashes between Jagan's East Indian followers and Negro oppositionists.

A dead man was found Thursday in a ditch at West Ruimveldt on the southern suburbs of Georgetown. Police said he had been beaten to death. Five suspects were reported held at Ann's Grove, 20 miles east of the capital, in another beating - slaying. Both victims were East Indians.

Three houses were burned down Friday by arsonists at Victoria Village, 15 miles from the capital. Six alleged Molotov-cocktail hurlers were arrested.

At Wismar, opposite the Canadian - owned Demerara bauxite works, a shop was burned down. At the company town of MacKenzie a garage was set on fire.

Temporary Jail Lost In Shipment

HAMPTON BEACH, N.H. (AP) —Lost: one jail.

Somewhere between here and Kansas City, a temporary jail that Hampton Beach ordered last month has become lost in shipment.

The bull-pen type structure was to be erected in the town garage in time for use during the July 4 weekend.

But the jail hasn't arrived and no one seems to know where it is.

It wasn't needed Thursday, however, even though an estimated 80,000 persons thronged Hampton Beach.

Singer, Actress Get Marriage License

NEW YORK (AP)—Singer Robert Goulet and actress Carol Lawrence obtained a marriage license Friday.

Goulet, who won prominence in the Broadway musical "Camelot," said they planned to be married next week. He declined to say where the ceremony will be held.

Algerians Celebrate Liberty

ALGIERS (UPI) — A 101-gun salute, loudest gunfire heard here in a year, Friday marked Algeria's first anniversary of independence.

Thousands of Algerians, from boy scouts to elderly farmers, turned out either to watch or march in a gigantic parade celebrating the new nation's first year of self rule.

With units converging from all points of the city, the parade passed by a reviewing stand filled with Algerian and foreign dignitaries.

They included Premier Ahmed Ben Bella, Cuban Minister of Industry "Che" Guevera, and United Arab Republic Vice President Abdel Hakim Amer.

The only military note came when five Soviet-built MIGS and six Egyptian Goumourias of the Algerian air force flew past.

The parade, organized by the ruling National Liberation Front party (FLN), emphasized the peaceful building of socialism.

The peaceful parade was in stark contrast to the seven years of bitter fighting between FLN forces and the French over independence, and the ensuing internal struggle won by Ben Bella's forces.

Lima, Peru Hit By Earthquake

LIMA, Peru (AP) — Buildings and houses swayed, walls cracked and hundreds fled into the streets Thursday night when an earthquake shook Lima violently for 45 seconds.

It was described as one of the worst tremors felt here in almost a quarter of a century.

Damage was reported slight. Several persons were injured when they fell while scrambling to get out of their houses.

Justice Douglas Visiting In Liberia

MONROVIA, Liberia (AP) — Associate Justice William O. Douglas of the Supreme Court arrived Thursday night for a five-day visit. After meetings with Liberia's law groups, he will visit the interior to look over rural development projects.

W.Va. Farmer Uses Axe In Dual Slaying

Was Awaiting Court Hearing On Charge Of Lunacy

SUTTON, W. Va. (UPI)—Braxton County authorities said Friday that Hoy Prunty, 60, killed his wife and their 6-year-old grandson, then took his own life on the eve of a scheduled appearance at a lunacy hearing here.

Prunty, who owned a farm on U. S. 119 near here, had been scheduled to appear in court Friday on a lunacy warrant sworn out by his son.

Authorities were told by Prunty's daughter-in-law, Mrs. Pearl Prunty, that she was awakened Thursday by the sound of scuffling and found Prunty slashing at his wife with a butcher knife.

She said she managed to wrest the knife from him, then ran for help, throwing the knife into some bushes as she left the house.

When police arrived at the scene, they found that Prunty had killed his wife, Rosie, and grandson Stevie Lynn Prunty, son of Pearl, with an ax, then used another knife to kill himself. The bodies were found on the front porch of the house.

Authorities said Prunty had been treated for a mental illness at a Charleston hospital for a short time.

Redevelopment Funds To Aid W.Va. State Parks

By THOMAS P. FAZIO

CHARLESTON, W. Va. (UPI)—State Natural Resources Director Warden M. Lane said Wednesday loans and grants from the Area Redevelopment Administration for development of four major tourist areas will also help to beef up the federal and West Virginia tax structures—by about $1 million.

Last week, West Virginia received some $24 million in loans and grants for Bluestone State Park near Hinton, Blackwater Falls State Park, Hawk's Nest State Park, Twin Falls recreation area in Wyoming County.

Taking Bluestone as an example, Lane said 358 people would be directly employed at an annual salary of about $1.58 million.

He said the park, expected to draw at least 400,000 tourists annually, should produce nearly $1 million worth of business.

From Bluestone alone, Lane expects $400,000 to go into federal and state tax coffers.

From the payroll, he said about $190,000 will go to the federal government in taxes and 6 per cent of this, or about $11,000, would go to the state annually. Consumers sales taxes should amount to another $30,000, he said.

Part of the facilities to be operated by concessionaires should give the state another $3,000 in business and occupation taxes, he said.

Assuming that the tourists arrive at the park at an average of four to a car, or 100,000 cars, Lane said most would probably drive about 200 miles. The 11 cent federal and state gasoline tax would derive about $50,000 annually.

This, he said, plus other taxes would total about $400,000 from Bluestone State Park alone.

Lane said he did not know when construction would start at the park but he anticipates that architects and engineers will begin their preliminary planning next week.

He said next week he will request State Atty. Gen. C. Donald Robertson for legal assistance in acquiring land for condemnation.

The director said by the time the land is condemned, he hopes to be ready to sell revenue bonds so that contracts can be awarded. The first bond payment is due May 1, 1966, unless the department asks for an extension. Lane hopes to have the park in operation by May 1, 1965 so that the first year of revenues can be applied toward the bonds.

Lane said he expects certain changes in projects planned for the parks but had not been informed exactly which ones may be struck out.

However, he said he was informed that the airport and employes quarters planned at Bluestone had been eliminated by ARA.

The grants and loans from ARA last week included $9,816,000 for Bluestone; $9,470,000 for Blackwater Falls State Park; a $1,760,000 loan for Hawk's Nest State Park; $2,879,000 for Twin Falls recreation area, Wyoming County. Lane said another $576,000 grant for development of the Cass railroad also has been made available.

Antique Locomotive Is Viewed Here

An antique locomotive, "The General," owned by the Louisville and Nashville Railroad was seen on a B&O Railroad siding opposite Queen City station yesterday.

Local B&O officials said the small and brightly painted engine, which is of the Civil War vintage, is being taken to Cleveland where it will be exhibited under auspices of the Ohio Historical Society and the Railroad Community Committee of Ohio.

The locomotive has been shown in eastern cities recently.

Mr., Mrs. Talley To Mark 61st Wedding Anniversary

The 61st wedding anniversary of Mr. and Mrs. Henry Raymond Talley and the 85th birthday of Mrs. Talley will be observed with visits by the family tomorrow. Because Mrs. Talley has to spend half her time in bed, there will be no formal celebration.

Former residents of Fifth Street, Mr. and Mrs. Talley for the past three years have been residing with their son-in-law and daughter, Mr. and Mrs. Anthony Russell, 313 Franklin Street.

The former Miss Barbara Green, daughter of the late Mr. and Mrs. George Green, Thomas Street, formerly of Baltimore, became the bride of Mr. Talley, son of the late Mr. and Mrs. Stephen Talley, who came here from Martinsburg, W. Va., July 7, 1902. The late Rt. Rev. Msgr. Edward J. Wunder officiated at the ceremony, which was solemnized in St. Patrick's Catholic Church.

Mr. and Mrs. Talley are the parents of seven children, Mrs. Mary A. Russell, Mrs. Louis D'Alessandro, Charles L. Talley, James Talley, Joseph Talley, Cumberland, and twins, George Talley, Baltimore, and Raymond Talley. They have 24 grandchildren and 12 great-grandchildren.

A former employe of the Taylor Tin Plate Mill, Mr. Talley is a member of the Holy Name Society of St. Mary's Catholic Church and was employed at the church until his retirement two years ago. Reported in "pretty good health" he spends most of his time rocking and visiting.

Mrs. Talley is a member of the Women of the Moose Chapter 914; of Court Cardinal Gibbons, Catholic Daughters of America, and of Sodality of St. Mary's Church.

Bedford Road Club To Sell Dutch Bulbs

The Bedford Road Homemakers Club selected its project and received reports from College Park at the annual covered dish picnic supper held Tuesday evening at the Thomas Wotring picnic grounds, Christie Road.

For its project, the club is taking orders for flowers from Holland, which include tulips, narcissus, hyacinth, muscari, daffodils and crocus. They may be obtained by calling Mrs. Paul Gilford by August 1.

Two delegates were selected to attend Adult Camp, July 28 to August 2 at Bittinger. They are Mrs. Marjory Broadwater and Mrs. Marian Day. Members were reminded it will open with a covered dish supper and vesper service, to which families and friends are invited.

Discussing the Cumberland Fair, members were urged to enter exhibits. The club will give a demonstration on sweaters August 20 from 3 until 5 o'clock.

A delegate report on College Park was given by Mrs. Theodore Wojcik. It concerned the food and nutrition class, graduation exercises, a reception and boat trip. It also was announced that Mrs. Gilford sang a solo at the vesper service and also at the sing-a-long. Other reports of College Week for Women included landscaping by Mrs. Bette Adam; vesper service, band concert, sing-along and reading class, Mrs. Fred Roberts; speakers, clothing demonstration and home management, Mrs. Gilford.

The meeting opened with the group singing "The More We Get Together," led by Mrs. Gilford. Roll call was answered with each telling where she was going for vacation. Routine reports were given by Mrs. Rachael Iames and Mrs. Broadwater. The club canceled the August meeting and selected July 10 for members and friends to visit the Crystal Laundry at 10 a.m. Meetings will be resumed in September.

Guests were Mrs. Fay Kolb, Mrs. William C. Shaw, Jr., Mrs. John Lynch, Miss Dorothy Streett, Miss Malola Lynch, Christine Day and Janice Brode. There were 22 members present. Hostesses for the evening were Mrs. Winnie Brode, Mrs. Robert Streett, Mrs. Gary Shrout, Mrs. Leslie Brinkman, Mrs. Vincent Lindner, Mrs. LaMar Wentling and Mrs. Thomas J. Wotring.

Head Club 25

Officers were elected at a brief business meeting of Club 25, held in conjunction with the annual dance at the Cumberland Country Club recently. Mr. and Mrs. Charles Roy were elected president; Mr. and Mrs. Gerald Skelley, vice president; Mr. and Mrs. William Frey, secretary, and Mr. and Mrs. John Lester, treasurer.

Dancing was to music by Jimmy Andrews' Orchestra. Approximately 40 couples attended.

EXPLAINING EXTENSION PROGRAM — Mrs. Patricia Seaton, left, is shown discussing the University of Maryland extension program work with Mrs. Lessie Aronhalt, who assumed her duties as office secretary to Miss Mary P. Wise, Allegany County home demonstration agent, July 1. Mrs. Aronhalt succeeds Mrs. Seaton, who has resigned to reside in Hyattsville. She will be working with the assistant dean in the College of Business and Public Administration at the university.

Anniversary

The class of 1943 of Catholic Girls Central High School will celebrate its 20th anniversary of graduation with an informal party entertaining their husbands. It will be held at 6:30 tonight in the private dining room at Cas Taylor's, beginning with a cocktail hour.

Dr. and Mrs. Donald Rolley and children have returned to Salisbury after visiting his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Herman Rolley, Patterson Avenue.

Ann Landers . . .

Answers Your Problems

DEAR ANN LANDERS: I am a heartbroken mother who needs some advice.

Our 21-year-old son is so handsome the movies would be glad to have him. He has been chased by girls since he was 13 and naturally he is a little conceited and spoiled.

Six months ago he started to go steady with a little dried up peanut whose father is a bus driver. I almost had a heart attack when he brought the girl home to dinner. She didn't say more than four sentences the whole evening. It was, "How do you do. Please pass the salt. May I have another roll?"—and "Thanks for dinner."

Five weeks ago our son told us he and the peanut had to get married right away. What could we say but "Go ahead"?

Last week he announced she had made a mistake and there is no baby on the way. He wants to get out of this marriage and we want to help him get out. We feel he was trapped. What can we do? —MOTHER OF AN HONORABLE BOY

DEAR MOTHER: No sympathy from this corner, Madame. You sound like a lovely group. I hold no brief for your daughter-in-law but if your son was such an honorable citizen he wouldn't be a candidate for the trap. See your clergyman and a lawyer about the possibility of an annulment.

DEAR ANN LANDERS: Once again it is "cottage time." Please print this letter. Thousands of wives will be grateful.

Our cottage is our summer home. We welcome friends and relatives for weekends and holidays. We make salads, prepare steaks for barbecue and the bar is always open. We want our guests to relax and enjoy themselves. But why must they be so utterly helpless?

After a swim they walk in, soaking wet, leaving puddles in the hallways, the bathroom and the bedroom. Wet towels are left on the floor or on the beds. They saunter out to get some sun after lunch and when snack time rolls around no one lifts a hand except to reach for the cool drink and the sandwich.

At the end of the summer our friends are all brown as berries and I am as white as a lily. I've spent my entire summer inside—cooking, picking up after people, and preparing snacks and drinks. Please tell guests to pitch in and help the hostess. She's—TIRED

DEAR TIRED: I suggest the hostess give all guests the short course on arrival. And those who don't understand the lesson the first time should not be asked to return.

DEAR ANN LANDERS: This problem is no big deal but a lot of the kids at school have different ideas on the subject and we would like you to settle it once and for all.

On which finger and on which hand is the high school graduation ring worn? Thank you from all of us — CONFUSED STUDENTS AT CONN. HIGH

DEAR STUDENTS: The graduation ring should be worn on the third finger of the right hand.

CONFIDENTIAL to WHERE DID WE FAIL?: Unfortunately your children had the disadvantage of too many "advantages." Parents who tell me they gave their children "everything" mistakenly believe that cars, clothes and spending money are a suitable substitute for time, attention and a sound example to follow.

CONFIDENTIAL to KEEN OBSERVER: Since you are so good at "noticing things" how come you haven't noticed that your beak is very deep in someone else's business? Since they seem to be able to tolerate each other pretty well (45 years yet) I suggest you get interested in gardening or church work and leave them alone.

Does almost everyone have a good time but you? If so, send for ANN LANDERS' booklet, "How To Be Well-Liked," enclosing with your request 20c in coin and a long, self-addressed, stamped envelope.

Secrets Of Charm

by John Robert Powers

Top Tip For Charm—Remember Names

One of the Powers Girls, just returned from a visit to her home town, in singing the praises of her six-year-old nephew. When the two of them took a walk one day, she tells us, he exchanged greetings with everyone they encountered, and called each person by name.

"Why, Jimmy," she said to him, "you know everybody in town."

He didn't understand why she seemed surprised. "Aunt Lynn," he said quite seriously, "I like everybody!"

Some people have a very winning talent for remembering faces and names with the greatest of ease. This certainly gives them a running start toward making friends—they're always the kind who have many. And didn't little Jimmy hit the nail exactly on the head when he explained himself? Isn't it a receptive spirit that makes the remembering easy?

Take enough interest in anyone and you won't forget him. Begin at a first meeting. Give him your full attention to impress his face on your mind. Repeat the name and concentrate on it as you associate it with the face. Specifically recall both later to strengthen the identification. But make sure the interest you take is real, to make the memory stick. It's the appreciation of others, so natural to the happy little boy, that makes the big difference between remembering those you meet and pleasing them with your recognition—and creating an impression of carelessness or snobbishness.

If you want to remember faces and names, you can. And to do so is to be courteous and kind—and charming.

Klein Clan Has Election Of Officers

Mountain District To Meet

Mountain District, American Legion Auxiliary will meet tomorrow at the Cresaptown fire hall, beginning at 2:30 p. m.

A nominee for district president will be selected, and plans will be discussed for the September meeting of the district.

Chilcot - Cresap Ladies Auxiliary to American Legion Post 209 will present a gift to the retiring president, which was voted at the auxiliary meeting Tuesday at Toohey's Restaurant, conducted by Mrs. Isabelle Anderson.

A contribution also was sent to the state officers, for their retirement gift. The gifts will be presented at the state convention to be held in Baltimore July 17. At that time also the district president will be elected.

Chilcot - Cresap auxiliary voted to cancel the August meeting. The next regular session will be September 2 at Toohey's.

Reunion Tonight

The 10th anniversary of the Allegany High School Class of 1953 will be observed at a reunion dinner dance tonight.

It will be at the Ali Ghan Shrine Club. Dinner will be at 7, followed by dancing with music by Roy Knotts' Orchestra.

To Wed Today

The marriage of Miss Beverly Lee Wiegand, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. James W. Wiegand, Valley Road, to John Richard Bell, son of Mr. and Mrs. Paul V. Bell, also of Valley Road, will be performed today at 6 p.m. in First Baptist Church.

A reception will be held in the Bowman's Addition fire hall. Friends and relatives will be welcome to both.

The bride and bridegroom are graduates of Fort Hill High School. The latter is serving with the Air Force in New Hampshire.

Secrets Of Charm

Top Tip For Charm—Remember Names

One of the Powers Girls, just returned from a visit to her home town, in singing the praises of her six-year-old nephew. When the two of them took a walk one day, she tells us, he exchanged greetings with everyone they encountered, and called each person by name.

"Why, Jimmy," she said to him, "you know everybody in town."

He didn't understand why she seemed surprised. "Aunt Lynn," he said quite seriously, "I like everybody!"

Some people have a very winning talent for remembering faces and names with the greatest of ease. This certainly gives them a running start toward making friends—they're always the kind who have many. And didn't little Jimmy hit the nail exactly on the head when he explained himself? Isn't it a receptive spirit that makes the remembering easy?

Take enough interest in anyone and you won't forget him. Begin at a first meeting. Give him your full attention to impress his face on your mind. Repeat the name and concentrate on it as you associate it with the face. Specifically recall both later to strengthen the identification. But make sure the interest you take is real, to make the memory stick. It's the appreciation of others, so natural to the happy little boy, that makes the big difference between remembering those you meet and pleasing them with your recognition—and creating an impression of carelessness or snobbishness.

If you want to remember faces and names, you can. And to do so is to be courteous and kind—and charming.

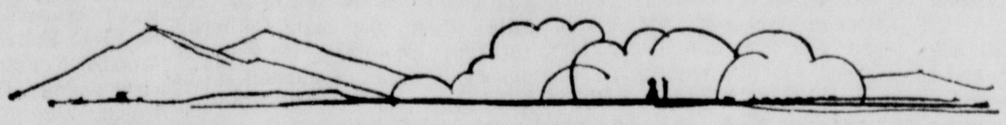
drowsy afternoon

It is good to lie down on the grass and look up into the sky. Your mind starts to wander — the way it always does when you take the time really to look at it. The heaven is so immense that you can't find a word big enough for it. Those thunderheads, building up in the west — they are so huge that they dwarf the work of man into total insignificance.



The stars are still up there too. We can't see them in the daytime and always this seems strange. But they are just as much there as they are at night — and you don't have to see them to know it.

You don't have to see God either, to know that He's there — though some people seem to feel it's something that has to be proved. They couldn't be more wrong. God's evidence is everywhere. Just walk into a church on Sunday and sit down and listen awhile, and then you will know for sure.

THE CHURCH FOR ALL • ALL FOR THE CHURCH

The Church is the greatest factor on earth for the building of character and good citizenship. It is a storehouse of spiritual values. Without a strong Church, neither democracy nor civilization can survive. There are four sound reasons why every person should attend services regularly and support the Church. They are: (1) For his own sake. (2) For his children's sake. (3) For the sake of his community and nation. (4) For the sake of the Church itself, which needs his moral and material support. Plan to go to church regularly and read your Bible daily.

Prophet Isaiah Is Quoted In Senate Debate

By LOUIS CASSELS
United Press International

During a recent Senate debate on Housing legislation, Sen. Clifford P. Case, R-N.J., pleaded for new controls over "urban sprawl" which leaves no open space between developments.

To bolster his argument, he read from the Bible a warning voice 2,700 years ago by the prophet Isaiah:

"Woe to those who join house to house,

"Who add field to field,

"Until there is no more room. . ."

That Isaiah is still being quoted in legislative assemblies, after 27 centuries, will come as no surprise to anyone who is familiar with the Old Testament book which bears his name.

Isaiah was one of the greatest of the Hebrew prophets. He spoke passionately about the problems of his own time and place. But his generation had much in common with our own, and many of his sermons might have been preached to an American congregation of the year 1963.

Isaiah poured out his message to the children of Israel for a period of about 40 years, beginning around 740 B.C. This was a time when the kingdom of Judah was under constant threat of attack by a ruthless aggressor, the Assyrian empire.

It was a time when people were very punctilious about keeping up the external appearances of religious devotion. They kept all of the feasts and were faithful in their attendance at solemn assemblies.

Beneath this superficial piety, however, Isaiah saw a spreading moral rot.

There were grave social injustices in the land. But the people who controlled the power structures of society were not doing very much to correct them. In fact, some were trying to perpetuate oppressions.

Although the nation was enjoying economic prosperity, there were vast numbers of poor people who did not share in it. The well-fed weren't concerned about them; they were solely interested in piling up more luxuries for themselves.

To escape from anxiety about the international situation, or out of boredom, many of the "best" people had begun to drink heavily, and to engage in promiscuous sexual adventures.

It was to this people that Isaiah spoke. And he made clear that the warnings were not his own, but the words of the Lord.

Isaiah said God had only contempt for a people who "honor me with their lips, while their hearts are far from me."

"Hear the word of the Lord," he cried.

"Bring me no more vain offerings; your incense is an abomination to me.

"Your solemn assemblies and your appointed feats, my soul hates; they have become a burden to me.

"Even though you make many prayers, I will not listen while your hands are full of blood.

"But wash yourselves; make yourselves clean; remove the evil of your doings from before my eyes;

"Cease to do evil, learn to do good;

"Seek justice, correct oppression, defend the fatherless, support the widow."

Again and again, Isaiah stressed that just treatment of all men was not merely an incidental aspect of religion, but the heart and core of it. And he said that God was angry at every wrong inflicted upon the weak or disadvantage members of society.

Speaks Of The Weak

"What do you mean by crushing my people,

"By grinding the faces of the poor? says the Lord God of Hosts."

He also spoke unequivocally about the rising rate of alcoholism, the vain and provocative feminine display, and other symptoms of moral decadence which he saw in a materialistic and self-centered society.

"Woe to those who rise early in the morning that they may run after strong drink;

"Who tarry late into the evening, until wine inflames them."

And in another place he pronounced a woe upon "the daughters of Zion (who) are haughty and walk with outstretched necks, glancing wantonly with their eyes, mincing along as they go."

"Hear the word of the Lord," Isaiah cried to the rulers and people of his day.

"The Lord of Hosts says. . I will turn my hand against you,

"And . will smelt away your dross as with lye

"And remove all of your alloy. . .

"Zion shall be redeemed by justice

"And those in her who repent, by righteousness.

"But rebels and sinners shall be destroyed together,

"And those who forsake the Lord shall be consumed."

Nazareth Linked To Jesus' Time

By CARL C. CRAFT

LOUISVILLE, Ky. (AP—Was Jesus from Nazareth? Indeed, was there a Nazareth in his time, or was it invented to satisfy pilgrims to the place where Jesus lived?

A workman's accidental discovery of a fragment of a Hebrew inscription on marble may help answer these questions. The fragment is being studied by the Israel Department of Antiquities of Hebrew University.

Shalom Attiah noticed the chunk of marble in his wheelbarrow at an excavation site at Caesarea, Israel, on the Mediterranean Coast.

Dr. Jerry Vardaman, archaeology professor at the Southern Baptist Theological Seminary in Louisville, who had charge of the digging, recalled that workmen had been told to be watchful because some searchers were growing disheartened and careless near the end of the season.

The seminary has a copy of the fragment, which is said to add to evidence that Nazareth did exist in the time of Jesus. The inscription on the marble was part of a list of Jewish priestly families and the towns where they lived in Galilee.

Authorities place the fragment in the period of the late second to the fourth century, A.D. Dr. Vardaman said the inscription contains the earliest known Hebrew references to Nazareth.

Many scholars have contended that Jesus lived in Chorazin or Capernaum. The Name "Nazarene" as applied to Jesus sometimes is said to refer to a pre-Christian religious group.

Skepticism on the subject was noted in the Encylopedia Biblica:

"It is very doubtful whether the beautiful mountain village of Nazareth itself was really the dwelling place of Jesus. No such town is mentioned in the Old Testament, in Josephus, or in the Talmud."

Dr. Vardaman said he is certain some sort of settlement existed at the present site of Nazareth in Jesus' time.

He said recent excavations there—along with the prize find of the fragment—have produced strong archeological support for the scriptural statement that Jesus was from Nazareth.

Croatians Known For Big Families

CLEVELAND (AP) — "Croatians are known for their big families," Bishop Nicholas T. Elko of Pittsburgh told Croatian Catholics of the Byzantine Rite at the 60th anniversary of Cleveland's St. Nicholas Church.

"But the size of these families never has been a source of economic distress," the bishop said, "because of the confidence of these people in the providence of God."

Bishop Elko declared that "youth today needs the confidence which the founders of this parish had." Croatia has been part of Yugoslavia since 1918, and Croatian migration to the United States began in the 1880s.

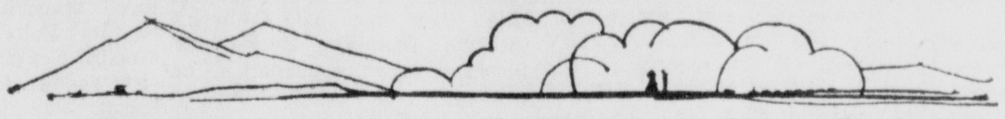
drowsy afternoon

It is good to lie down on the grass and look up into the sky. Your mind starts to wander — the way it always does when you take the time really to look at it. The heaven is so immense that you can't find a word big enough for it. Those thunderheads, building up in the west — they are so huge that they dwarf the work of man into total insignificance.



The stars are still up there too. We can't see them in the daytime and always this seems strange. But they are just as much there as they are at night — and you don't have to see them to know it.

You don't have to see God either, to know that He's there — though some people seem to feel it's something that has to be proved. They couldn't be more wrong. God's evidence is everywhere. Just walk into a church on Sunday and sit down and listen awhile, and then you will know for sure.

THE CHURCH FOR ALL • ALL FOR THE CHURCH

The Church is the greatest factor on earth for the building of character and good citizenship. It is a storehouse of spiritual values. Without a strong Church, neither democracy nor civilization can survive. There are four sound reasons why every person should attend services regularly and support the Church. They are: (1) For his own sake. (2) For his children's sake. (3) For the sake of his community and nation. (4) For the sake of the Church itself, which needs his moral and material support. Plan to go to church regularly and read your Bible daily.

Prophet Isaiah Is Quoted In Senate Debate

By LOUIS CASSELS
United Press International

During a recent Senate debate on Housing legislation, Sen. Clifford P. Case, R-N.J., pleaded for new controls over "urban sprawl" which leaves no open space between developments.

To bolster his argument, he read from the Bible a warning voice 2,700 years ago by the prophet Isaiah:

"Woe to those who join house to house,

"Who add field to field,

"Until there is no more room. . ."

That Isaiah is still being quoted in legislative assemblies, after 27 centuries, will come as no surprise to anyone who is familiar with the Old Testament book which bears his name.

Isaiah was one of the greatest of the Hebrew prophets. He spoke passionately about the problems of his own time and place. But his generation had much in common with our own, and many of his sermons might have been preached to an American congregation of the year 1963.

Isaiah poured out his message to the children of Israel for a period of about 40 years, beginning around 740 B.C. This was a time when the kingdom of Judah was under constant threat of attack by a ruthless aggressor, the Assyrian empire.

It was a time when people were very punctilious about keeping up the external appearances of religious devotion. They kept all of the feasts and were faithful in their attendance at solemn assemblies.

Beneath this superficial piety, however, Isaiah saw a spreading moral rot.

There were grave social injustices in the land. But the people who controlled the power structures of society were not doing very much to correct them. In fact, some were trying to perpetuate oppressions.

Although the nation was enjoying economic prosperity, there were vast numbers of poor people who did not share in it. The well-fed weren't concerned about them; they were solely interested in piling up more luxuries for themselves.

To escape from anxiety about the international situation, or out of boredom, many of the "best" people had begun to drink heavily, and to engage in promiscuous sexual adventures.

It was to this people that Isaiah spoke. And he made clear that the warnings were not his own, but the words of the Lord.

Isaiah said God had only contempt for a people who "honor me with their lips, while their hearts are far from me."

"Hear the word of the Lord," he cried.

"Bring me no more vain offerings; your incense is an abomination to me.

"Your solemn assemblies and your appointed feats, my soul hates; they have become a burden to me.

"Even though you make many prayers, I will not listen while your hands are full of blood.

"But wash yourselves; make yourselves clean; remove the evil of your doings from before my eyes;

"Cease to do evil, learn to do good;

"Seek justice, correct oppression, defend the fatherless, support the widow."

Again and again, Isaiah stressed that just treatment of all men was not merely an incidental aspect of religion, but the heart and core of it. And he said that God was angry at every wrong inflicted upon the weak or disadvantage members of society.

Speaks Of The Weak

"What do you mean by crushing my people,

"By grinding the faces of the poor? says the Lord God of Hosts."

He also spoke unequivocally about the rising rate of alcoholism, the vain and provocative feminine display, and other symptoms of moral decadence which he saw in a materialistic and self-centered society.

"Woe to those who rise early in the morning that they may run after strong drink;

"Who tarry late into the evening, until wine inflames them."

And in another place he pronounced a woe upon "the daughters of Zion (who) are haughty and walk with outstretched necks, glancing wantonly with their eyes, mincing along as they go."

"Hear the word of the Lord," Isaiah cried to the rulers and people of his day.

"The Lord of Hosts says. . I will turn my hand against you,

"And . will smelt away your dross as with lye

"And remove all of your alloy. . .

"Zion shall be redeemed by justice

"And those in her who repent, by righteousness.

"But rebels and sinners shall be destroyed together,

"And those who forsake the Lord shall be consumed."

Nazareth Linked To Jesus' Time

By CARL C. CRAFT

LOUISVILLE, Ky. (AP—Was Jesus from Nazareth? Indeed, was there a Nazareth in his time, or was it invented to satisfy pilgrims to the place where Jesus lived?

A workman's accidental discovery of a fragment of a Hebrew inscription on marble may help answer these questions. The fragment is being studied by the Israel Department of Antiquities of Hebrew University.

Shalom Attiah noticed the chunk of marble in his wheelbarrow at an excavation site at Caesarea, Israel, on the Mediterranean Coast.

Dr. Jerry Vardaman, archaeology professor at the Southern Baptist Theological Seminary in Louisville, who had charge of the digging, recalled that workmen had been told to be watchful because some searchers were growing disheartened and careless near the end of the season.

The seminary has a copy of the fragment, which is said to add to evidence that Nazareth did exist in the time of Jesus. The inscription on the marble was part of a list of Jewish priestly families and the towns where they lived in Galilee.

Authorities place the fragment in the period of the late second to the fourth century, A.D. Dr. Vardaman said the inscription contains the earliest known Hebrew references to Nazareth.

Many scholars have contended that Jesus lived in Choraizin or Capernaum. The Name "Nazarene" as applied to Jesus sometimes is said to refer to a pre-Christian religious group.

Skepticism on the subject was noted in the Encylopedia Biblica:

"It is very doubtful whether the beautiful mountain village of Nazareth itself was really the dwelling place of Jesus. No such town as Nazareth is mentioned in the Old Testament, in Josephus, or in the Talmud."

Dr. Vardaman said he is certain some sort of settlement existed at the present site of Nazareth in Jesus' time.

He said recent excavations there—along with the prize find of the fragment—have produced strong archeological support for the scriptural statement that Jesus was from Nazareth.

Croatians Known For Big Families

CLEVELAND (AP) — "Croatians are known for their big families," Bishop Nicholas T. Elko of Pittsburgh told Croatian Catholics of the Byzantine Rite at the 60th anniversary of Cleveland's St. Nicholas Church.

"But the size of these families never has been a source of economic distress," the bishop said, "because of the confidence of these people in the providence of God."

Bishop Elko declared that "youth today needs the confidence which the founders of this parish had." Croatia has been part of Yugoslavia since 1918, and Croatian migration to the United States began in the 1880s.

NOTICE

The Board of Building, Savings & Loan Association Commissioners has tentatively adopted the following Regulations and will hold a hearing on the Proposed Regulations July 24, 1963 at 10:30 A. M. in the State Roads Commission Auditorium, 300 W. Preston Street, Baltimore 1, Maryland. Any interested party having suggestions regarding the Proposed Regulations must submit his views in writing to the Board, no later than Friday, July 12, 1963, in order to be heard at the hearing.

100 DEFINITION OF TERMS

100.1 BRANCH OFFICE:

Branch Office as used in Section 161V is any office of an Association which is open to the public for the acceptance of free share accounts. An office which otherwise fits this definition shall be considered a branch office, within the meaning of Section 161V, even though such office shall be the only office or also the principal office of an association.

100.2 DELINQUENCY:

A loan is delinquent when:

(a) In any 12 month period immediately preceding the date of examination by the Department, less than 75% of the required weekly or monthly payment of principal, interest and expenses have not been paid or—

(b) Taxes on the property which is security for such loan have been unpaid for a period of 12 months after becoming due and payable. or—

(c) Ground rent issuing out of the property which is security for such loan has been unpaid for a period of 6 months after becoming due and payable or—

(d) The premium for insurance on the property has been unpaid for a period of 30 days after becoming due and payable.

100.3 MARKET VALUE:

Market value is the highest price in terms of cash, or on terms reasonably equivalent to cash which a property will bring if exposed for sale on an open market by an informed seller, with a reasonable time to find a purchaser buying with full knowledge of all the uses and purposes to which it is adapted and for which it is capable of being used, with neither the buyer or seller being under compulsion to buy or sell.

100.4 MORTGAGE:

Where the word "mortgage" is used in Sections 150 and 161Z of Article 23, and in these Regulations, it shall include a mortgage, a deed of trust, or other security instrument evidencing or creating the lien of the association upon real or leasehold property.

103 ACCOUNTING RECORDS AND PRACTICES

103.1 RECORDS:

Each Savings and Loan Association shall keep adequate and accurate books of accounts, including a General Ledger and such registers and subsidiary records as may be essential. No particular system or method of accounting is prescribed, other than the double entry system written in the English language. The General Ledger shall be posted either with pen or ink or by other permanent methods which shall show dates, necessary, explanatory details and posting references. All Journal Entries, Cash Disbursements and checks drawn shall be supported by properly approved vouchers and records posted in such manner as to distinguish between cash and non-cash items, to the end that the accounting procedures will truly, accurately and honestly reflect the affairs of the association. The books and records shall be maintained in accordance with generally accepted accounting practices and shall conform at all times with the Laws and Regulations of the United States and the State of Maryland.

The association shall maintain the following basic records:

Minute Book

Double Entry Cash Receipts and Disbursements Book

Free Share Ledger or Card System

General Ledger

Check Book including cancelled checks, deposit receipts & bank statements

Income Accounts

Expense Accounts

and such other books and records as may be requisite.

Such books and records shall be posted promptly and shall be balanced by the appropriate officer or officers of the association no less than twice yearly; such books and records shall be available to the duly constituted authority.

103.2 DEFERRED INCOME:

In accounting, for purposes of calculating income, items of deferred income and initial loan charges shall be interpreted as provided in 103.21, 103.22, 103.23, 103.24, and 103.25.

103.21 ENTRANCE FEES:

In accordance with Section 144 (b) of Article 23 of the Annotated Code of Maryland (1957 Edition), an association may charge entrance fees authorized by its Articles of Incorporation or By-Laws, and may take into immediate income such entrance fees. Entrance fees shall be within the existing limits of trade practices and customs.

103.22 COMMISSIONS:

Any charge by whatsoever name or description levied by an association and paid to an association in connection with the making of a loan shall be treated as a deferred credit and be taken into income by the charging association ratably over the life of the loan, unless the lending institution has rendered an unusual service in connection with the mortgage loan, in which case the association may charge a reasonable fee to recapture the actual cost of such service and take such fee into current income.

103.23 DISCOUNTS:

When an association purchases a loan at a discount such discount shall be taken into income ratably over the life of the loan.

103.24 MISCELLANEOUS CHARGES:

An association charging service fees, points and other charges of a similar nature, by what ever name called, in the absence of definite proof of an unusual service rendered in connection with such charge, shall take into income ratably over the life of the loan any amount so received.

103.25 EXCLUSIONS:

The usual closing cost of a transaction, such as fees for title examination, appraisal fees, president's fee, recording cost, documentary stamps and other charges of a similar nature, which are specifically excluded from 103.2, etc. of these Regulations.

104 VALUATION OF ASSETS

104.1 REVALUATION BY DIRECTOR — With the prior approval of the Board, the Director may make a revaluation of any asset of an association including any property given as security for any loan held by an association. If the Director finds it necessary, he may, with the prior approval of the Board, use for that purpose any independent appraiser or appraisers. Such independent appraiser or appraisers shall be selected by the Director from a list of qualified appraisers to be furnished by the Board of Building, Savings and Loan Association Commissioners. A copy of the appraisal report on the property being revalued shall be furnished the association, and the association shall bear the expense of such appraisal or appraisals and promptly pay the cost thereof upon receipt of a bill for such appraisal or appraisals. The Director may require an association to establish and maintain a specific loss reserve for the amount by which the book value of any asset exceeds any such revaluation, or for the amount by which the unpaid balance of any loan exceeds the amount for which such loan might lawfully be made, based upon such revaluation.

105 ADVERTISING AND PROMOTIONAL ACTIVITIES

105.1 ASSOCIATION'S ADVERTISING FILE

Each association shall maintain or cause to be maintained, and make available for inspection at its home office, a chronological file of all forms of advertisement used by it during the preceding 18 months.

105.2 FILING OF ADVERTISING PRIOR TO PUBLICATION

The Director may require any or all associations to file a true copy of the text of any advertisements in the office of the Department of Building, Savings and Loan Associations at least 5 days prior to issuance, circulation or publication of such advertisements. Filing shall not be necessary, except when specifically required by the Director.

105.21 USE AFTER NOTICE

Advertising shall not be used after the Director has given written notice that the advertisement is unauthorized, false, misleading or likely to deceive the public.

105.3 IDENTIFICATION OF THE ASSOCIATION

The complete corporate name of the association shall be set forth at least once in any advertisement.

105.4 MISLEADING IMPRESSION

Any advertisement or any advertising sign as a whole shall not be inaccurate or create a misleading impression even though statements therein, separately considered, are literally truthful.

105.5 DIVIDEND PAYMENT

No association shall advertise in a manner which implies that the rate advertised will be paid for a longer period than 6 months. All advertisements of "rate" shall make clear that it is the current annual rate.

105.6 WITHDRAWAL OF FUNDS

No association shall advertise concerning the availability of funds for withdrawal in such a manner as to lead a reasonable person to believe that funds will necessarily be available on demand.

105.7 PROMOTIONAL GIVEAWAYS

No association shall give for the opening of, maintaining of, or increasing the amount of any account, any gift or premium that has a monetary value in excess of $2.50, as required by Section 161AA of Article 23 (Acts of 1961).

105.71 SALES OF GIFTS OR PREMIUMS

No association shall give or sell gifts or premiums conditioned upon the payment of a specified sum of money to cover all or part of the cost of the gift or the premium.

105.8 GIVEAWAY PROHIBITION APPLICABLE TO DEALINGS WITH BROKERS AND OTHER PERSONS

No association shall enter into any agreement or understanding with, or accept funds for investment in free share accounts from any broker or other person engaging in activities that are prohibited associations by Section 105.7.

107 GUARANTY STOCK

107.1 MINIMUM DIVIDEND ON FREE SHARE ACCOUNTS OF GUARANTY STOCK ASSOCIATIONS

Any association authorized by law to issue or maintain shares of Guaranty Stock must, prior to the payment of any dividend on such Guaranty Stock, in any dividend period, declare and pay dividends on all free share accounts, in accordance with the provisions of Section 161FF of Article 23 of the Annotated Code of Maryland, at a rate not less than 3½%.

107.2 CERTIFICATE — STATED RESTRICTIONS

Each certificate heretofore or hereafter issued as evidence of ownership of Guaranty Stock shall clearly show on its face in a type size no less than 50 points that such stock is "Guaranty Stock." In addition, pursuant to Section 27(c) of Article 23, each stock certificate shall state the restrictions upon such stock, including the following:

1. that Guaranty Stock constitutes a secondary reserve for losses.
2. that Guaranty Stock is non-withdrawable.
3. that Guaranty Stock is assessable in the hands of the owner thereof to the par value thereof.
4. that Guaranty Stock is entitled to the payment of dividends only after dividends have been declared and paid on all free share accounts.
5. such other restrictions with respect to the stock as may be required to appear on the certificate under Sections 27(c) and 161P of Article 23.

107.21 With respect to Guaranty Stock issued prior to the effective date of 107.2, an association may comply by preparing a glued sticker containing a list of the restrictions as required in 107.2 to be sent to each of its Guaranty Stockholders with instructions that a sticker shall be placed on each certificate. An association may, in the alternative, call in outstanding certificates, and issue new certificates in their place. After the effective date of 107.2, all new certificates shall comply with 107.2.

107.22 Each association authorized to issue Guaranty Stock shall file with the Department of Building, Savings and Loan Associations specimen certificates and specimen stickers.

107.23 Each association authorized to issue Guaranty Stock shall file with the Director of the Department of Building, Savings and Loan Associations an Affidavit that it has complied with these provisions.

109 INVESTMENTS

109.1 LOANS SECURED BY REAL AND LEASEHOLD PROPERTY

The following provisions shall apply to any loan granted by any association on the security of real or leasehold property:

(a) APPLICATION — an association shall, in every such loan, first obtain a written application signed by or on behalf of the person for whose benefit the loan is to be made, which application shall contain such necessary and pertinent information with respect to the borrower and the security as the circumstances may require. All applications shall contain at least the following:

(1) the name, address and occupation of the applicant for the loan.

(2) the name and address of the employer of the applicant, if the applicant is employed.

(3) the location of the property, character of the improvements thereon, and, if leasehold, the amount of the ground rent thereon.

(4) the date title to the property was acquired by the applicant, and his present valuation thereof, or if the applicant does not have title at the time of the application, the actual consideration to be paid therefor.

The application shall also state whether any money or other thing of value has been or is to be paid to any corporation or person, other than the association, as a fee, commission, or gift for procuring or for endeavoring to procure such loan from the association, or for any services in connection with such loans, aside from those set forth on the Memorandum of Settlement, and, if so, the amount or value of such fee, commission, or gift and to whom it has been, or is to be paid.

(b) APPRAISAL — before an association shall make a loan to be secured by mortgage on real or leasehold property, it shall first obtain a written appraisal of such property from at least two qualified persons, which written appraisal shall state the market value of such property in dollars, and be signed by all appraisers. The qualified persons making such appraisal may be members of the association's Board of Directors or licensed real estate brokers.

(c) FIRST LIEN — all loans given by an association secured by real or leasehold property shall constitute a lien thereon in accordance with Section 161Z of Article 23 of the Annotated Code of Maryland. A mortgage held by an association shall be considered a first lien, within the meaning of the aforesaid Section of Article 23, even though there may be ground rent issuing out of said property and/or a lien upon such property for current taxes, assessments and special assessments so long as such ground rent, taxes, assessments and special assessments shall not be due and payable when the mortgage is executed or proper provision is made for payment when due and payable and further, such mortgage shall constitute a first lien even though easements, restrictive covenants, or other incorporal heriditements exist against the property.

(d) Title Certification — no association shall disburse any money upon a mortgage loan unless it shall first secure a title certification from its approved attorney, or a title insurance policy from a qualified title company to the effect that upon closing:

(1) title is good and merchantible in the mortgagor.

(2) the association has a first lien, or a second lien subject to ownership by the association of the primary lien.

(3) all taxes and other charges due and payable at the time of settlement are paid or proper provision has been made for their payment.

(4) in the event any other liens are existing that might be prior to the lien of the association, adequate steps have been taken to protect the association and/or mortgagor.

(e) INSURANCE — an association shall require the mortgagor to maintain at the mortgagor's expense, so long as his loan may be outstanding, fire and extended coverage insurance upon the improvements on the real or leasehold property securing such loan, in an amount at least sufficient to protect the interest of the association, in a company qualified to do business in the State of Maryland and approved by the association; such insurance shall be appropriately endorsed to reflect the interest of the association in any proceeds payable under such policy.

109.2 LOAN PORTFOLIO

109.21 MORTGAGE LOANS

Each association shall maintain a separate file for each loan secured by a lien upon real or leasehold property. Such file shall contain the following papers and documents:

(a) Application as required by 109.1(a).

(b) Appraisal report as required by 109.1(b).

(c) A copy of the Memorandum of Settlement as required by Section 161GG and signed by the borrower.

(d) The original of the current insurance policy required by 109.1(e).

(e) The evidence of Certification of Title as required by 109.1(d).

(f) The original mortgage.

(g) The originals of all instruments creating additional security for the loan.

(h) When a loan is otherwise prohibited under Section 161W of Article 23:

(i) a certified copy of the resolution approving the loan as required by Section 161W(b) and

(ii) the written approval of the Director of the Department of Building, Savings and Loan Associations.

109.22 LOANS SECURED BY FREE SHARE ACCOUNTS

An association making a loan on the security of a free share account shall obtain a Promissory Note under seal, in a form to be approved by Counsel to the association, and signed by the owner or owners of the free share account. The free share ledger account of the borrowers shall be clearly marked in such fashion as to indicate that said account has been pledged as security for a loan and the amount of said pledge.

109.23 The association shall, at all times, maintain the application, appraisal and Memorandum of Settlement required by 109.21 or 109.22 for the life of the loan and for 3 years thereafter.

109.3 PERMISSIBLE RATIO OF LOANS

109.31 CONCENTRATION OF LOANS

No more than 10% of the assets of an association shall be due from any one person, partnership, company, firm or corporation, or any combination thereof, which is beneficially owned or controlled, either directly or indirectly, by any one person, partnership, company, firm or corporation, or any combination thereof.

109.32 MAXIMUM SINGLE LOAN

No association shall make any one (1) loan which exceeds 10% of the assets of the association as of the date such loan is made. The term 'one loan' shall include any combination of loans which are so related as to time, borrower or borrowers, or geographical location as to constitute a single transaction or indebtedness.

109.33 PERMISSIBLE PERCENTAGE OF SECURITY

No association shall make a loan upon the security of real or leasehold property, the aggregate amount of which exceeds the percentage of fair market value of the security as follows:

(a) UNIMPROVED PROPERTY:

(1) amortizing on weekly or monthly basis, and with terms of 5 years or less — 60%.

(2) non-amortizing on weekly or monthly basis — 50%, with terms not to exceed 3 years.

(b) IMPROVED PROPERTY:

(1) amortizing on weekly or monthly basis, and with term of 25 years or less — 80%.

(2) amortizing on weekly or monthly basis, and with term of more than 25 years — 70%.

(3) non-amortizing on weekly or monthly basis — 60%, with term not to exceed 5 years.

(c) CONSTRUCTION LOANS — not to exceed 80% of the fair market value of the property after completion of the improvements, but with term not to exceed 18 months.

(d) INSURED OR GUARANTEED LOAN — a loan which is, or will be, insured or guaranteed by the United States Government, or any instrumentality thereof, may be made for an amount in excess of these restrictions, but only to the extent that such loan is insured or guaranteed.

109.34 PERMISSIBLE PERCENTAGE OF CATEGORY

An association may make loans upon the security of real or leasehold property so long as the aggregate outstanding principal balance of all loans so secured shall not at any time exceed the following percentages of the following categories:

(a) COMMERCIAL LOANS — 20%. For purposes of this subsection all loans secured by real or leasehold property improved by a building containing 4 (four) or less family units are residential loans. All other loans on improved real or leasehold property are commercial loans.

(b) CONSTRUCTION LOANS — 10%.

(c) UNIMPROVED LAND LOANS — 10%.

Any interested party having suggestions regarding the Proposed Regulations must submit his views in writing to the Board, no later than Friday, July 12, 1963, in order to be heard at the hearing.

100 DEFINITION OF TERMS

100.1 BRANCH OFFICE:

Branch Office as used in Section 161V is any office of an Association which is open to the public for the acceptance of free share accounts. An office which otherwise fits this definition shall be considered a branch office, within the meaning of Section 161V, even though such office shall be the only office or also the principal office of an association.

100.2 DELINQUENCY:

A loan is delinquent wnen:

(a) In any 12 month period immediately preceding the date of examination by the Department, less than 75% of the required weekly or monthly payment of principal, interest and expenses have not been paid or—

(b) Taxes on the property which is security for such loan have been unpaid for a period of 12 months after becoming due and payable. or—

(c) Ground rent issuing out of the property which is security for such loan has been unpaid for a period of 6 months after becoming due and payable or—

(d) The premium for insurance on the property has been unpaid for a period of 30 days after becoming due and payable.

100.3 MARKET VALUE:

Market value is the highest price in terms of cash, or on terms reasonably equivalent to cash which a property will bring if exposed for sale on an open market by an informed seller, with a reasonable time to find a purchaser buying with full knowledge of all the uses and purposes to which it is adapted and for which it is capable of being used, with neither the buyer or seller being under compulsion to buy or sell.

100.4 MORTGAGE:

Where the word "mortgage" is used in Sections 150 and 161Z of Article 23, and in these Regulations, it shall include a mortgage, a deed of trust, or other security instrument evidencing or creating the lien of the association upon real or leasehold property.

103 ACCOUNTING RECORDS AND PRACTICES

103.1 RECORDS:

Each Savings and Loan Association shall keep adequate and accurate books of accounts, including a General Ledger and such registers and subsidiary records as may be essential. No particular system or method of accounting is prescribed, other than the double entry system written in the English language. The General Ledger shall be posted either with pen or ink or by other permanent methods which shall show dates, necessary, explanatory details and posting references. All Journal Entries, Cash Disbursements and checks drawn shall be supported by properly approved vouchers and records posted in such manner as to distinguish between cash and non-cash items, to the end that the accounting procedures will truly, accurately and honestly reflect the affairs of the association. The books and records shall be maintained in accordance with generally accepted accounting practices and shall conform at all times with the Laws and Regulations of the United States and the State of Maryland.

The association shall maintain the following basic records:

Minute Book
Double Entry Cash Receipts and Disbursements Book
Free Share Ledger or Card System
General Ledger
Check Book including cancelled checks, deposit receipts & bank statements
Income Accounts
Expense Accounts
and such other books and records as may be requisite.

Such books and records shall be posted promptly and shall be balanced by the appropriate officer or officers of the association no less than twice yearly; such books and records shall be available to the duly constituted authority.

103.2 DEFERRED INCOME:

In accounting, for purposes of calculating income, items of deferred income and initial loan charges shall be interpreted as provided in 103.21, 103.22, 103.23, 103.24, and 103.25.

103.21 ENTRANCE FEES:

In accordance with Section 144 (b) of Article 23 of the Annotated Code of Maryland (1957 Edition), an association may charge entrance fees authorized by its Articles of Incorporation or By-Laws, and may take into immediate income such entrance fees. Entrance fees shall be within the existing limits of trade practices and customs.

103.22 COMMISSIONS:

Any charge by whatsoever name or description levied by an association and paid to an association in connection with the making of a loan shall be treated as a deferred credit and be taken into income by the charging association ratably over the life of the loan, unless the lending institution has rendered an unusual service in connection with the mortgage loan, in which case the association may charge a reasonable fee to recapture the actual cost of such service and take such fee into current income.

103.23 DISCOUNTS:

When an association purchases a loan at a discount such discount shall be taken into income ratably over the life of the loan.

103.24 MISCELLANEOUS CHARGES:

An association charging service fees, points and other charges of a similar nature, by what ever name called, in the absence of definite proof of an unusual service rendered in connection with such charge, shall take into income ratably over the life of the loan any amount so received.

103.25 EXCLUSIONS:

The usual closing cost of a transaction, such as fees for title examination, appraisal fees, president's fee, recording cost, documentary stamps and other charges of a similar nature, which are specifically excluded from 103.2, etc. of these Regulations.

104 VALUATION OF ASSETS

104.1 REVALUATION BY DIRECTOR — With the prior approval of the Board, the Director may make a revaluation of any asset of an association including any property given as security for any loan held by an association. If the Director finds it necessary, he may, with the prior approval of the Board, use for that purpose any independent appraiser or appraisers. Such independent appraiser or appraisers shall be selected by the Director from a list of qualified appraisers to be furnished by the Board of Building, Savings and Loan Association Commissioners. A copy of the appraisal report on the property being revalued shall be furnished the association, and the association shall bear the expense of such appraisal or appraisals and promptly pay the cost thereof upon receipt of a bill for such appraisal or appraisals. The Director may require an association to establish and maintain a specific loss reserve for the amount by which the book value of any asset exceeds any such revaluation, or for the amount by which the unpaid balance of any loan exceeds the amount for which such loan might lawfully be made, based upon such revaluation.

105 ADVERTISING AND PROMOTIONAL ACTIVITIES

105.1 ASSOCIATION'S ADVERTISING FILE

Each association shall maintain or cause to be maintained, and make available for inspection at its home office, a chronological file of all forms of advertisement used by it during the preceding 18 months.

105.2 FILING OF ADVERTISING PRIOR TO PUBLICATION

The Director may require any or all associations to file a true copy of the text of any advertisements in the office of the Department of Building, Savings and Loan Associations at least 5 days prior to issuance, circulation or publication of such advertisements. Filing shall not be necessary, except when specifically required by the Director.

105.21 USE AFTER NOTICE

Advertising shall not be used after the Director has given written notice that the advertisement is unauthorized, false, misleading or likely to deceive the public.

105.3 IDENTIFICATION OF THE ASSOCIATION

The complete corporate name of the association shall be set forth at least once in any advertisement.

105.4 MISLEADING IMPRESSION

Any advertisement or any advertising sign as a whole shall not be inaccurate or create a misleading impression even though statements therein, separately considered, are literally truthful.

105.5 DIVIDEND PAYMENT

No association shall advertise in a manner which implies that the rate advertised will be paid for a longer period than 6 months. All advertisements of "rate" shall make clear that it is the current annual rate.

105.6 WITHDRAWAL OF FUNDS

No association shall advertise concerning the availability of funds for withdrawal in such a manner as to lead a reasonable person to believe that funds will necessarily be available on demand.

105.7 PROMOTIONAL GIVEAWAYS

No association shall give for the opening of, maintaining of, or increasing the amount of any account, any gift or premium that has a monetary value in excess of $2.50, as required by Section 161AA of Article 23 (Acts of 1961).

105.71 SALES OF GIFTS OR PREMIUMS

No association shall give or sell gifts or premiums conditioned upon the payment of a specified sum of money to cover all or part of the cost of the gift or the premium.

105.8 GIVEAWAY PROHIBITION APPLICABLE TO DEALINGS WITH BROKERS AND OTHER PERSONS

No association shall enter into any agreement or understanding with, or accept funds for investment in free share accounts from any broker or other person engaging in activities that are prohibited associations by Section 105.7.

107 GUARANTY STOCK

107.1 MINIMUM DIVIDEND ON FREE SHARE ACCOUNTS OF GUARANTY STOCK ASSOCIATIONS

Any association authorized by law to issue or maintain shares of Guaranty Stock must, prior to the payment of any dividend on such Guaranty Stock, in any dividend period, declare and pay dividends on all free share accounts, in accordance with the provisions of Section 161FF of Article 23 of the Annotated Code of Maryland, at a rate not less than 3½%.

107.2 CERTIFICATE — STATED RESTRICTIONS

Each certificate heretofore or hereafter issued as evidence of ownership of Guaranty Stock shall clearly show on its face in a type size no less than 50 points that such stock is "Guaranty Stock." In addition, pursuant to Section 27(c) of Article 23, each stock certificate shall state the restrictions upon such stock, including the following:

1. that Guaranty Stock constitutes a secondary reserve for losses.
2. that Guaranty Stock is non-withdrawable.
3. that Guaranty Stock is assessable in the hands of the owner thereof to the par value thereof.
4. that Guaranty Stock is entitled to the payment of dividends only after dividends have been declared and paid on all free share accounts.
5. such other restrictions with respect to the stock as may be required to appear on the certificate under Sections 27(c) and 161P of Article 23.

107.21 With respect to Guaranty Stock issued prior to the effective date of 107.2, an association may comply by preparing a glued sticker containing a list of the restrictions as required in 107.2 to be sent to each of its Guaranty Stockholders with instructions that a sticker shall be placed on each certificate. An association may, in the alternative, call in outstanding certificates, and issue new certificates in their place. After the effective date of 107.2, all new certificates shall comply with 107.2.

107.22 Each association authorized to issue Guaranty Stock shall file with the Department of Building, Savings and Loan Associations specimen certificates and specimen stickers.

107.23 Each association authorized to issue Guaranty Stock shall file with the Director of the Department of Building, Savings and Loan Associations an Affidavit that it has complied with these provisions.

109 INVESTMENTS

109.1 LOANS SECURED BY REAL AND LEASEHOLD PROPERTY

The following provisions shall apply to any loan granted by any association on the security of real or leasehold property:

(a) APPLICATION — an association shall, in every such loan, first obtain a written application signed by or on behalf of the person for whose benefit the loan is to be made, which application shall contain such necessary and pertinent information with respect to the borrower and the security as the circumstances may require. All applications shall contain at least the following:

(1) the name, address and occupation of the applicant for the loan.

(2) the name and address of the employer of the applicant, if the applicant is employed.

(3) the location of the property, character of the improvements thereon, and, if leasehold, the amount of the ground rent thereon.

(4) the date title to the property was acquired by the applicant, and his present valuation thereof, or if the applicant does not have title at the time of the application, the actual consideration to be paid therefor.

The application shall also state whether any money or other thing of value has been or is to be paid to any corporation or person, other than the association, as a fee, commission, or gift for procuring or for endeavoring to procure such loan from the association, or for any services in connection with such loans, aside from those set forth on the Memorandum of Settlement, and, if so, the amount or value of such fee, commission, or gift and to whom it has been, or is to be paid.

(b) APPRAISAL — before an association shall make a loan to be secured by mortgage on real or leasehold property, it shall first obtain a written appraisal of such property from at least two qualified persons, which written appraisal shall state the market value of such property in dollars, and be signed by all appraisers. The qualified persons making such appraisal may be members of the association's Board of Directors or licensed real estate brokers.

(c) FIRST LIEN — all loans given by an association secured by real or leasehold property shall constitute a lien thereon in accordance with Section 161Z of Article 23 of the Annotated Code of Maryland. A mortgage held by an association shall be considered a first lien, within the meaning of the aforesaid Section of Article 23, even though there may be ground rent issuing out of said property and/or a lien upon such property for current taxes, assessments and special assessments so long as such ground rent, taxes, assessments and special assessments shall not be due and payable when the mortgage is executed or proper provision is made for payment when due and payable and further, such mortgage shall constitute a first lien even though easements, restrictive covenants, or other incorporal heriditements exist against the property.

(d) Title Certification — no association shall disburse any money upon a mortgage loan unless it shall first secure a title certification from its approved attorney, or a title insurance policy from a qualified title company to the effect that upon closing:

(1) title is good and mercnantible in the mortgagor.

(2) the association has a first lien, or a second lien subject to ownership by the association of the primary lien.

(3) all taxes and other charges due and payable at the time of settlement are paid or proper provision has been made for their payment.

(4) in the event any other liens are existing that might be prior to the lien of the association, adequate steps have been taken to protect the association and/or mortgagor.

(e) INSURANCE — an association shall require the mortgagor to maintain at the mortgagor's expense, so long as his loan may be outstanding, fire and extended coverage insurance upon the improvements on the real or leasehold property securing such loan, in an amount at least sufficient to protect the interest of the association, in a company qualified to do business in the State of Maryland and approved by the association; such insurance shall be appropriately endorsed to reflect the interest of the association in any proceeds payable under such policy.

109.2 LOAN PORTFOLIO

109.21 MORTGAGE LOANS

Each association shall maintain a separate file for each loan secured by a lien upon real or leasehold property. Such file shall contain the following papers and documents:

(a) Application as required by 109.1(a).

(b) Appraisal report as required by 109.1(b).

(c) A copy of the Memorandum of Settlement as required by Section 161GG and signed by the borrower.

(d) The original of the current insurance policy required by 109.1(e).

(e) The evidence of Certification of Title as required by 109.1(d).

(f) The original mortgage.

(g) The originals of all instruments creating additional security for the loan.

(h) When a loan is otherwise prohibited under Section 161W of Article 23:

(i) a certified copy of the resolution approving the loan as required by Section 161W(b) and

(ii) the written approval of the Director of the Department of Building, Savings and Loan Associations.

109.22 LOANS SECURED BY FREE SHARE ACCOUNTS

An association making a loan on the security of a free share account shall obtain a Promissory Note under seal, in a form to be approved by Counsel to the association, and signed by the owner or owners of the free share account. The free share ledger account of the borrowers shall be clearly marked in such fashion as to indicate that said account has been pledged as security for a loan and the amount of said pledge.

109.23 The association shall, at all times, maintain the application, appraisal and Memorandum of Settlement required by 109.21 or 109.22 for the life of the loan and for 3 years thereafter.

109.31 CONCENTRATION OF LOANS

No more than 10% of the assets of an association shall be due from any one person, partnership, company, firm or corporation, or any combination thereof, which is beneficially owned or controlled, either directly or indirectly, by any one person, partnership, company, firm or corporation, or any combination thereof.

109.32 MAXIMUM SINGLE LOAN

No association shall make any one (1) loan which exceeds 10% of the assets of the association as of the date such loan is made. The term 'one loan' shall include any combination of loans which are so related as to time, borrower or borrowers, or geographical location as to constitute a single transaction or indebtedness.

109.33 PERMISSIBLE PERCENTAGE OF SECURITY

No association shall make a loan upon the security of real or leasehold property, the aggregate amount of which exceeds the percentage of fair market value of the security as follows:

(a) UNIMPROVED PROPERTY:

(1) amortizing on weekly or monthly basis, and with terms of 5 years or less — 60%.

(2) non-amortizing on weekly or monthly basis — 50%, with terms not to exceed 3 years.

(b) IMPROVED PROPERTY:

(1) amortizing on weekly or monthly basis, and with term of 25 years or less — 80%.

(2) amortizing on weekly or monthly basis, and with term of more than 25 years — 70%.

(3) non-amortizing on weekly or monthly basis — 60%, with term not to exceed 5 years.

(c) CONSTRUCTION LOANS — not to exceed 80% of the fair market value of the property after completion of the improvements, but with term not to exceed 18 months.

(d) INSURED OR GUARANTEED LOAN — a loan which is, or will be, insured or guaranteed by the United States Government, or any instrumentality thereof, may be made for an amount in excess of these restrictions, but only to the extent that such loan is insured or guaranteed.

109.34 PERMISSIBLE PERCENTAGE OF CATEGORY

An association may make loans upon the security of real or leasehold property so long as the aggregate outstanding principal balance of all loans so secured shall not at any time exceed the following percentages of the following categories:

(a) COMMERCIAL LOANS — 20%. For purposes of this subsection all loans secured by real or leasehold property improved by a building containing 4 (four) or less family units are residential loans. All other loans on improved real or leasehold property are commercial loans.

(b) CONSTRUCTION LOANS — 10%.

(c) UNIMPROVED LAND LOANS — 10%.

Maryland News In Brief

ELLICOTT CITY, Md. (AP) — William Richards, 30, of Baltimore, suffered only cuts and bruises Thursday when his light plane crashed in a field near this Howard County seat.

Richards, a student pilot, told police the plane had developed engine trouble when he took off from the airstrip at the Truf Valley County Club. He was trying to land in the field north of U.S. 40, he said, when an elevator of the tail assembly struck a treetop.

Richards was treated at St. Agnes Hospital in Baltimore and released.

CENTREVILLE, Md. (AP)—A Bethesda man apparently suffered a fatal heart attack on the Fourth of July while driving his wife and daughter to Rehoboth Beach, Del.

Trooper 1.C. Vernon Bledsoe said quick thinking by the man's wife, Mary H. Lynch, prevented an accident. When James R. Lynch, 42, slumped over the wheel the trooper said, Mrs. Lynch brought the car to a halt safely on Maryland 404 near Denton, Caroline County.

Lynch, an attorney with the U.S. Department of Interior, was dead on arrival at the office of Dawson O. George, Caroline County medical examiner.

ANNAPOLIS (AP) — Concrete Structures Inc. of Richmond, Va., will build a plant in Anne Arundel County for the production of precast structural concrete products

The announcement was made Friday by the Maryland Department of Economic Development and the Board of County Commissioners for Anne Arundel County.

The company will employ about 20 men initially and is expected to begin operation in one month. It will be located on an 18-acre site on Sand Road near Davidsonville.

BALTIMORE (AP)—There were 18 more homicides in Baltimore during the first half of 1963 than during the corresponding six-month period a year ago.

Police statistics showed that there were 59 persons slain in the city between Jan. 1 and June 30, and all but five of the cases have been solved.

The first submarine circumnavigation was achieved by the U.S. nuclear submarine Triton.

Arrest Made In Slaying Of Ft. Meade Man

BALTIMORE (AP) — A young shipyard worker was charged Friday with the shotgun killing of a 19-year-old sldier at Ft. Meade, Md.

Arraigned before U.S. Commissioner Ernest Volkart in Baltimore, he was booked as William Warfel, 21, Hanover Md., and was ordered held without bail.

Warfel was charged in the shooting last night of Pfc. Cologn R. Rodriguez, 19, near an intersection on the army post.

Police said three companions told them Rodriguez was driving his automobile on a road near the post when a second car forced it to the side.

Rodriguez drove into Ft. Meade and a short time later the same vehicle again forced his car to the side of the road and came to a stop, blocking its path, police were told.

Witnesses said Rodriguez got out of his car to approach the second car and was hit in the face by a shotgun blast fired from that vehicle. He was pronounced dead at the Kimbrough Army Hospital.

Military police latre arrested a man and turned him over to the FBI for questioning.

Police said Rodriguez' mother lives in Puerto Rico, his father in New York City and his wife in Portsmouth, Va.

A preliminary hearing for Warfel was set for 10 a.m., July 10.

Volunteers Continue Search For Missing 3-Year-Old Boy

SEAT PLEASANT, Md. (AP)—Hundreds of Prince Georges County police, firemen and volunteers searched Friday for a 3-year-old boy, missing from his home since shortly after noon Thursday.

Object of the search is Jerry Lee Tucker, the only child of Mrs. Hilda Tucker of this Washington suburb.

Jerry was last seen by his mother about 12:30 p.m. Thursday as he played with some other children in playground less than a block from the family apartment.

Prince Georges police joined the search a half hour later. They were joined by canine corps man-dog teams, more than 50 volunteer firemen, the Civil Air Patrol, and about 200 neighbors.

Police Investigate Home Entry

City Police yesterday were investigating a breaking and entering at the home of Rev. Arthur Vespa, 23 Elder Street.

Rev. Mr. Vespa yesterday informed authorities that someone had entered his home and stole a small amount of cash.

Police said the intruder entered the home after breaking a glass section out of a back door. Several rooms were ransacked.

Jordan Elects Parliament Today

AMMAN, Jordan (AP) — The Cabinet headed by Premier Sheriff Hussein Ben Nasser is expected to resign after Saturday's Parliament elections for the 60-seat lower house.

The government was formed April 21 for the purpose of dissolving the lower house and supervising new elections.

Exhibitor Loses Suit Against Censors

BALTIMORE (AP)—A film exhibitor's $250,000 damage suit against the Maryland Board of Motion Picture Censors was dismissed Friday in Baltimore Circuit Court.

Judge Edwin Harlan ruled that state officials correctly claimed governmental immunity as a defense against the suit filed by Robert T. Marhenke, Baltimore County distributor.

Marhenke contended in his suit that the board had acted arbitrarily in connection with the film, "Wild Gals of the Naked West."

Marhenke said Friday that the court's ruling would be appealed. He said the decision "means these political appointees can now be ruthless, arrogant and do whatever they please as there is no redress through the courts."

Two Planes Missing

TOKYO (UPI) — Two U. S. Navy A4C attack planes were missing and presumed to have crashed, the Navy announced Friday.

The announcement came after Japanese police reported sighting aircraft wreckage on a road near Komagatake Mountain. Police said the wreckage was scattered more than 500 yards and that it was possible that two planes had crashed.

The Navy said a rescue team was en route to the scene. There was no mention of the fate of the pilots.

Rail Merger

The Chicago & North Western Railway said it would apply to the Interstate Commerce Commission for authority to acquire stock control of the Chicago, Rock Island and Pacific Railroad as the initial step toward merger of the two lines. In filing the application, the North Western will become a formal rival of the Union Pacific for the control of the Rock Island.

U.S. Exports

The Commerce Department announced that United States exports in the first five months of 1963 were at an annual rate of $21.413 billion, about two per cent above the annual rate in the same period of 1962. Exports in May totaled $1.9 billion, down one per cent from April exports of $1.918 billion.

Rev. Mr. Vespa yesterday informed authorities that someone had entered his home and stole a small amount of cash.

Police said the intruder entered the home after breaking a glass section out of a back door. Several rooms were ransacked.

Jordan Elects Parliament Today

AMMAN, Jordan (AP) — The Cabinet headed by Premier Sheriff Hussein Ben Nasser is expected to resign after Saturday's Parliament elections for the 60-seat lower house.

The government was formed April 21 for the purpose of dissolving the lower house and supervising new elections.

Exhibitor Loses Suit Against Censors

BALTIMORE (AP)—A film exhibitor's $250,000 damage suit against the Maryland Board of Motion Picture Censors was dismissed Friday in Baltimore Circuit Court.

Judge Edwin Harlan ruled that state officials correctly claimed governmental immunity as a defense against the suit filed by Robert T. Marhenke, Baltimore County distributor.

Marhenke contended in his suit that the board had acted arbitrarily in connection with the film, "Wild Gals of the Naked West."

Marhenke said Friday that the court's ruling would be appealed. He said the decision "means these political appointees can now be ruthless, arrogant and do whatever they please as there is no redress through the courts."

Two Planes Missing

TOKYO (UPI) — Two U. S. Navy A4C attack planes were missing and presumed to have crashed, the Navy announced Friday.

The announcement came after Japanese police reported sighting aircraft wreckage on a road near Komagatake Mountain. Police said the wreckage was scattered more than 500 yards and that it was possible that two planes had crashed.

The Navy said a rescue team was en route to the scene. There was no mention of the fate of the pilots.

Rail Merger

The Chicago & North Western Railway said it would apply to the Interstate Commerce Commission for authority to acquire stock control of the Chicago, Rock Island and Pacific Railroad as the initial step toward merger of the two lines. In filing the application, the North Western will become a formal rival of the Union Pacific for the control of the Rock Island.

U.S. Exports

The Commerce Department announced that United States exports in the first five months of 1963 were at an annual rate of $21.413 billion, about two per cent above the annual rate in the same period of 1962. Exports in May totaled $1.9 billion, down one per cent from April exports of $1.918 billion.

Macmillan's Tenure And The Laborites

Speculation continues in London, Washington and other world capitals that Prime Minister Macmillan of Britain will resign eventually in favor of a younger member of the Conservative Party.

Macmillan, though a gallant and a patriotic figure, is tarnished by failure. He staked his reputation and his future on gaining England's admission to the European Common Market, and he was unsuccessful.

Macmillan has presided over Britain's government at a time when the people reached a full realization of the diminished stature of their nation in world affairs. The Profumo affair, with its sinister implications for the country's security, came almost as anti-climax, although a very damaging one for Macmillan.

At 69, the Prime Minister must recognize that his years of future service are limited and that despite his own courage and considerable talent for leadership, the only hope for his Conservative Party is in the choice of a younger and more dynamic man to lead it.

Any British Prime Minister is handicapped by the memory of Winston Churchill still fresh in the public mind. Eden and Macmillan have suffered from it — unfairly, for not many men develop Churchill's oratorical skill.

But fair or not, the comparsion is inevitable. The best way to combat it is with a fresh leader. Otherwise Britain will again fall under the aegis of the Labor Party.

How To Succeed

Out at Flushing Meadow on Long Island, where millions will be congregating next year for the New York World's Fair of 1964-65, the concrete has been poured and the steel framework has already gone up for a Hall of Free Enterprise, the particular baby of the American Economic Foundation. Some of the exhibits planned for the hall — a "pathway to plenty" and a "tree of economic life"—are fascinating things in their present working model form. But the promoters of the World's Fair, far from needing a lesson in economics, might give even the pundits of the American Economic Foundation a lesson or two in how to make an enterprise pay off.

The amazing thing about this particular World's Fair is that it is already on the high road to solvency some ten months before the first visitor has had a chance to pass the turnstile on opening day, which is scheduled for April 22 in 1964. In marked contrast to the story of the World's Fair of 1939, which financed itself by selling bonds for $26,862,000 and then paid only thirty-three cents on the dollar to the purchasers, the newest Fair organization is proving highly ingenious at shifting its bills to the people who stand to get something out of the festivities.

Quite apart from the money received from New York City and from banks, insurance companies, department stores, restaurants, newspapers and industrial corporations in exchange for promissory notes, the World's Fair management, led by the redoubtable Robert Moses, has already generated a cash flow that mounts higher by the minute.

In 1939 the late Grover Whalen's Fair organization, consisting of some 37,000 paid employees, ate up funds like a horde of Kansas grasshoppers consuming a field of grain. The 1939 Fair built its own buildings and rented them out—and was stuck with the loss when the rents failed to cover the building costs. The 1964-65 Fair, by contrast, is renting only the ground space to corporations like General Motors, Coca Cola, IBM and other blue chips. The corporations are doing their own building on the rented sites, and are paying for the construction out of their own pockets. To handle the business of passing the detail along to the customers, Robert Moses is employing a permanent staff of only seventy-five people in comparison to the 37,000 of 1939. The landscaping, the engineering, the accounting, the security arrangements, are all being contracted out. When the 1939 Fair closed down, Grover Whelan had 37,000 hardship cases on his hands that needed other jobs. Mr. Moses's tiny picked group of seventy-five, with their reputations solidified, will probably be quite able to fend for themselves.

The 1964-65 World's Fair Corporation has discovered a variety of ways of collecting well in advance of the Fair itself. Anybody buying tickets before next March gets thirty-two-and-one-half per cent discount—and corporations and societies have been purchasing blocks of tickets to the tune of a million dollars worth for distribution to their employees and members next Spring. There has been a big preliminary cash flow of $11 million from rents, licenses and parking. An advance on royalties on the official guide to the Fair has already brought in $900,000.

True enough, the municipality of New York City is putting up $24.5 million for the Fair's promissory notes. This money goes into basic groundwork that will eventually be handed over to the city in the form of permanent park improvements at Flushing Meadow. But the city also stands to have its $24.5 million returned to it out of the first surpluses generated from the Fair's income. Thus, in the virtually certain event of a 100 per cent pay-out, the city will be getting an improved park at Flushing Meadow at no cost whatsoever to the taxpayer. And in addition to this, the city will benefit mightily from the four per cent sales tax on extra business that visitors to the Fair account for.

The city of New York may well smack its lips over the entire prospect. And Mayor Wagner can start grooming himself for the role of the man who had his cake and ate it too.

Rules Committee Chief Laughs Off Sen. Morse's Liquor Resolution

By Drew Pearson

WASHINGTON—Wayne Morse, the beetle-browed Senator from Oregon, is waging an unrelenting campaign against serving liquor at Senate receptions. Some of his colleagues wish he wasn't so persistent. They may be put on the spot before the summer is over.

It all began last year when the so-called "Rayburn wing" of the Capitol was dedicated, and Sen. Morse saw cartloads of liquor being wheeled into the reception room.

A few minutes later, Morse interrupted his debate on the question of suspending the 160-acreage limitation on federal reclamation projects regarding the San Luis Project in Central California. Morse was opposed to letting the Southern Pacific Railroad and other big landowners benefit from federal water by suspending the 160-acre limitation. But suddenly switching from water to liquor, he called attention to the fact that young girls were sightseeing in the Capitol as huge cases of liquor were wheeled past for consumption at the Senate reception.

"What Senators drink in private is their business," said the Senator from Oregon, "but what they drink in public is the Senate's business. This is government property, and the alcohol, for all I know, may be paid for by the government."

At this point, Sen. Mike Mansifeld, D-Mont., walked into the room.

"I was about to give Wayne an adjournment so he could attend the reception," Mansfield said later, "when he hit me over the head with a forensic club. He accused me of defaming the sacred halls of Congress with booze."

Morse continued to speak against both liquor and the administration's plan to suspend the 160-acre limitation for the San Luis Project while most other Senators went to the wing of the Capitol to enjoy liquid refreshments. One of those who arrived for the reception was none other than the President of the United States, who was promptly told about Morse's speech. President Kennedy was careful not to go near either bar, but later, on his way back to the White House, he stopped in for a visit to his old stamping ground—the Senate floor.

By accident, he poked his nose in the door just a few feet from Senator Morse.

"Come in, Mr. President. I was just telling about the irregularities of your administration in abolishing the 160-acre limitation," said Morse, who likes Kennedy but enjoys ribbing him. "Sit down, Mr. President, this will do you good."

"This is where I left the Senate," grinned the President, and bowed out.

Morse followed up his speech, however, by introducing a resolution against the serving of liquor in public places in the Senate. The resolution was referred to the Rules Committee and promptly buried. So far this year it has remained buried.

When Morse asks Sen. Everett Jordan, D-N.C., chairman of the Rules Committee, when his resolution will be voted on, Jordan just laughs. Jordon comes from the relatively dry state of North Carolina, but he doesn't want to embarrass his colleagues by forcing them to vote on a resolution which would put them on the spot with every temperance group in the nation.

Morse has also asked Democratic leader Mansfield to report out his resolution. Mansfield also laughs.

So Morse now intends to tack a liquor rider on the next important appropriations. bill It would ban the expenditure of any funds for government buildings which permit serving liquor.

A True Friend

An unassuming Negro, bent with age, joined Senators and other celebrities the other day in honoring Sen. Frank Moss of Utah at a dinner in Salt Lake City.

The old man, Abner Howell, was invited to say a few words. He stood up slowly and spoke simply about his late son, Paul, who had been a boyhood companion of the Senator.

"When Paul went to school," old Abner said, "the other kids sort of picked on him, as children will do. When Paul came home, he said to me that 'Ted Moss is my friend. He told the other boys to leave me alone and he stopped them from picking on me'.

"All through school, until Paul died, he and Ted Moss were close friends. When Paul was taken as a young boy, Ted Moss was a pallbearer at his funeral.

"It is worthwhile to be a friend. It is to come into people's lives with hallowed influences and never again to go out of them. To have the privilege of being a friend to many people is one of earth's most sacred gifts.

"I want to pay tribute to Senator Moss tonight as my lifelong friend."

It was something in the old Negro's voice and the simplicity of his manner that brought tears to the eyes of the high and mighty who listened to him.

The Heroes Of Vietnam

A confidential cable has arrived at the Pentagon from Gen. Paul Harkins, the American commander in South Vietnam, pointing out that U. S. helicopter crews are not the only heroes of the Vietnamese jungle fighting.

Time magazine had praised the whirlybird warriors, who have been hopping around the jungles in their UH1 helicopters.

"In spite of my high regard for the capability of the UH1 and the crews who fly them," Harkins cabled, "I have never stated that they are the most essential unit in my command."

He described his command as a "team," whose components are all "equally essential."

The Second American Revolution Has Begun

By Joseph Alsop

WASHINGTON

On July 4, 1776, when a number of the boldest leaders signed the Declaration of Independence, the American Revolution began in deadly earnest.

Even then, a wiser government in London might perhaps have diluted or deferred the American Revolution, by bold generosity and shrewd, swift concession. But George III, Lord North and Lord George Germain were a trio dedicated to disaster. With Washington and Jefferson and Adams, their names should also be inscribed upon our list of founding fathers.

On July 4, 1963, it is needful to do something beyond commemorating the other, more glorious Fourth of July with festive firecrackers. It is needful to face the fact that for good or ill, something like a second revolution has begun here in America.

The symbolic figure, who warns us where we now stand, is the dead Medgar Evers. When Evers took the leadership of the NAACP in Mississippi, he cannot have acted from ambition, or in the hope of gain. He must have known the risks he ran. He ran those risks to free his people; and in the end he was brutally and shamefully assassinated.

The assassination of Medgar Evers does not compel us to be piously sentimental. Just the opposite is what is wanted. The murder of Evers calls for indignation, of course; but above all, it calls for realism.

Let the nine Americans out of ten who are white be realists as well. Then they must see at once that the Negro movement could not possibly produce such a man as Evers, to do the sort of thing that Evers did, without a strong tinge of revolutionary fervor. The emotion that induces self-sacrifice is the heart of the matter.

In some other Negro leaders, like James Baldwin for example, it may be reasonable to suspect that the element of self-pity is stronger than the element of self-sacrifice. But that does not alter the equation. Any student of the risings of the subject peoples against the colonial empires, is well aware that the self-pitying revolutionaries are generally more numerous than self-sacrificing ones.

These rising of subject peoples against colonial empires are the cases to consider. They are the cases to consider, moreover, not because our own American Revolution was the first and the most fruitful rising, but because they tell us so much that we need to know about the second revolution that has imperceptibly begun in our midst.

For the nine Americans out of ten who are white, the object of this new revolution is the key point to weigh. Its object, one must always remember, is not to subvert or destroy or replace the American system. The Negroes' object, rather, is only to gain the full American citizenship that the Constitution guarantees to them.

For the one American in every ten who is a Negro, the extreme peculiarity of the Negro revolutino is the key point to weigh. This movement, for all its kinship to one of the anti-colonial risings, is also set apart by a profound difference. The Negro claims may be just, but those who make the claims are still a minority; and the susceptibilities and even the prejudices of the majority must therefore be considered at all times.

Hence realism urgently requires the Negro leaders and their followers to avoid excess. That does not mean avoiding the insistent presentation of just claims. But it does mean refraining from pressing these claims by violence, or in other ways that can profoundly alienate the white majority. There is far more danger of this than many good people as yet imagine.

By the same token, however, realism also urgently requires the American white majority not to blink at, or try to wish away, or blur over the harsh outlines of the problem confronting us. This is not the moment for carneying arguments that the Constitution puts property rights ahead of civil rights, or for wishful suggestions that everything would be all right if it were not for a handful of "agitators."

Before they faced the truth, the British in India also talked about "agitators." As for the truth that the British in India finally had to face, it was bleakly simple. The truth was that they had only two practical choices open to them.

One choice was to concede to the Indian people what they were clamoring for, without weak half-measures or self-deluding compromises. And the other choice was to shoot enough Indians to make a new silence in the land, as Nikita S. Khrushchev later did in Hungary.

The British did not make Khrushchev's choice, essentially because they did not want to live in the kind of country that would do that kind of thing. What the Negro people in America are clamoring for is very different from what the Indians demanded of the British. But the practical choices open to the white American majority will surely be found, in the end, to be as limited as the British choices were, and for much the same reasons.

HOMEMADE "ART" — Attorney General Robert Kennedy's high-domed Justice Department office is profusely decorated with "original" art. Most of it is the product of his brood of pre-teenage children, and involves everything from pencil sketches, through crayons to oils.

Bobby explains that it gives him a lift to be reminded of his family while he's engrossed in governmental and political affairs, and it gives his children assurance when they visit him that he's not forgotten them in the rush of his official life.

A visitor recently walked around the room and inspected some of the "art." Among the pictures hanging on the walls was an original in oil by the noted abstract painter William Walton.

With a perfectly straight face, the visitor turned to the attorney general and remarked, "Say, this one's pretty good for a kid."

"CULTURE VULTURE"? — Some members of Congress are backing a proposal to create a Federal Advisory Council on the Arts, a move designed to elevate the cultural level of the nation.

Among them is Rep. Frank Thompson of New Jersey. He addressed a convention of the American Federation of Musicians the other day, and in commenting on his stand said:

"I am beginning to become known around Washington as a 'culture vulture.' I don't mind it too much. That's not a bad title for a guy who plays the washboard. But I want to serve notice here and now that I am not going to grow a beard and carry a guitar."

Early Tests Might Prevent Heart Damage

By Theodore R. Van Dellen

The life of many a man has been cut short in the late forties or early fifties by a heart attack. In all probability, damage to the coronary arteries could have been prevented had certain tests been made 5 to 10 years previously. This is said because several of the abnormalities that make a person more susceptible to heart disease are correctable.

The blood cholesterol is one clue but we are not sure about its importance. The saturated fats in our diet have been blamed, especially those from meats and dairy products. There is no doubt that up to 80 per cent of all victims of heart attacks have an elevated reading but we don't know whether the high cholesterol is responsible for hardening of the coronary arteries. In addition, lowering the level does not prevent recurrences of coronary thrombosis.

The cholesterol level may reflect the status of the thyroid gland. In this respect, the amount in the blood may be controled by the thyroid in much the same way as the elevated blood sugar level of the diabetic is controled by the pancreas. The reading goes up when a thyroid deficiency exists, which in turn may damage the arteries.

Several specialists administered small daily doses of thyroid to men who have had heart attacks and found it reduced the cholesterol level and prevented recurrences. But this extract should not be used indiscriminately because it might backfire and make the ailing heart work harder.

Obesity is another high risk factor and the low caloric diet will bring on weight loss. This diet should contain few saturated fats but more vegetable oils. High blood pressure must be corrected to lessen susceptibility to heart attacks. Certain changes in the mode of living are necessary, especially those associated with overwork, fatigue, and stimulation. Emotional upheavals such as anger must be eliminated too.

LOW SODIUM DIET

J. H. writes: I'm supposed to cut down on table salt and foods high in sodium. What items should be omitted?

REPLY

Among such foods are certain types of cereals, cheeses, and crackers, as well as bacon and products such as catsup and mustard. Send stamped, self-addressed envelope for leaflet on foods highest in sodium content.

SPREAD OF VIRUS

P. K. writes: What would cause encephalitis with the mumps?

REPLY

Mumps is caused by a virus. Now and then the virus spreads to the brain, causing encephalitis as a complication.

JOINT CHANGES

W. N. writes: Is there such a thing as painless arthritis?

REPLY

Yes, in that the X-ray may show evidence — often extensive — of arthritis but the individual has no pain, swelling, or limitation of movement of the joint.

HEALING AFTER SURGERY

R. C. writes: After an abdominal operation, does a person heal faster on the outside than the inside?

REPLY

Healing takes place at the same rate, provided it is not altered by strain, infection, or movement.

TEST AFTER INSPECTION

Mrs. B. writes: Is a urinalysis necessary after an attack of tonsilitis?

REPLY

Not absolutely necessary but urinalysis often is advised to determine whether infection has spread to the kidneys.

To the limit of space questions pertaining to the prevention of diseases will be answered. Personal replies will be made when return stamped envelope is enclosed. Telephone inquiries not accepted. Dr. Van Dellen will not make diagnoses or prescribe for individual diseases.

Try And Stop Me

By Bennett Cerf

Francis Coburn tells of a typically laconic storekeeper in northeastern Vermont who has never let anything upset him very much. At the height of the 1937 hurricane in those parts, for instance, the storekeeper, watching trees, barns, and trucks swept away, would only admit, "It's a bit airy, ain't it?" There was a day, too, when a perfectly attired sportsman from Boston dropped in to inquire, "Do you carry shot for grouse?" The storekeeper regarded him sourly, then answered, "If you mean cartridge for partridge, we've got it."

Every session of Britain's House of Commons is called to order by the Speaker, who marches into the halls with the flowing train of his black gown held up by a page, looking for all the world like a character in Gilbert & Sullivan. On the way to the House, he strides through the visitors' hall, a herald preceding him to call out "Hat's Off, Strangers!" Tourists who have gathered from all parts of the world to watch the colorful and traditional ceremony, obediently doff their headgear as the procession goes by.

One day a great personal friend of the Speaker, named Neil McLean, was in the gathering in the visitors' hall. The Speaker spotted him as he walked through and impulsively cried out, "Neil! Neil!" Every tourist present promptly dropped to his knees!

Jim Bishop: Reporter

By Jim Bishop

Americans feel an enormous pride in the Revolution of 1776. The school studies in this country are prejudiced, biased and, in some cases, in disagreement with the facts. As a war, it was one of the most poorly fought of all time. George Washington was the epitome of honor, a fox-hunter and a good dancer, but, as a general, he spent a great deal of time trying to avoid a decisive action with the British.

The Yankee colonists wanted a nation. The British crown wanted a subservient colony. That was the issue. Each put an army into the field. The Redcoats were a well-disciplined group, accustomed to standing in company front and firing muskets en masse. The colonists were farmers with no knowledge of tactics, except to hide behind trees and stone walls and fire independently.

The Continental Congress spent much of its time in Philadelphia, playing politics by day and throwing wild parties by night. Sometimes, these perfumed gentlemen ignored Washington's anguished pleas for more men, more arms, and more money. Sometimes, to keep him quiet, they made promises. The men of congress fled Philadelphia when the British army arrived, just as they would desert the city of Washington in the War of 1812.

At Valley Forge, our army never numbered more than about 3,000 men. The enemy wasn't the English, living high in Philadelphia. It was malnutrition, gangrene and desertion. Sir William Howe, who held a secret admiration of the colonists, had been replaced by Sir Henry Clinton, a man who decided to ignore General Washington and, instead, pillage and burn the colonies. Howe missed the lace handkerchief set in the court of George III, Clinton wanted to win quickly by destroying the will of the people to resist.

Washington had two first-rate field tacticians: Benedict Arnold and Mad Anthony Wayne. The first became a traitor; the second inspired fear as an impetuous maniac. The war should have ended in June 1778, instead of three years later, but Washington missed one more glittering opportunity when he caught up with Clinton's Army at Englishtown, New Jersey.

In history, it is referred to as the Battle of Monmouth. Clinton was leading his regulars from Philadelphia to Sandy Hook, there to embark on British ships which would take them to New York. Washington led his ragamuffins from Valley Forge, across the Delaware, and made contact with Clinton's Army. The British, with a slow baggage train 12 miles long, were hung up half way to the fleet and safety.

Washington's weakness was a sense of honor. Instead of ordering his little band to attack both flanks in the middle and cut the British in half, he called a council of war. Wayne yelled: "Fight! I tell you, fight!" Gen. Charles Lee, a fear-ridden man, advised nothing more daring than small irritating forays. General the Marquis de LaFayette said "Do battle now." Alexander Hamilton murmured, with contempt, that the council would "do honor to the most Honorable Society of Midwives."

Caution sat on Washington's shoulders like the spectre of death. The colonies had just achieved an alliance with France and, if his army was defeated, the French might withdraw their support. He was afraid to fight, and afraid not to. He held a second conference with his generals at Hopewell. Only Generals Greene, Wayne, LaFayette and the handsome aide, Hamilton, favored a battle.

Clinton, locked on an alien road, 16 miles from vanguard to rear guard, was properly worried. Washington ordered an engagement and made the mistake of sending Lee, an hysteric, to feel out the British left flank. He specified that the attack was to be in the "rear" of the enemy army. This was another mistake. The rear was composed of 3,000 Philadelphia tories and their luggage. He should have cut Clinton's flashing fighting force in half.

Continental cavalry should have hit the head of the long snake. George Washington had little understanding of cavalry and less faith in it. Charles Lee started a battle he had opposed. He ordered Wayne and LaFayette out in front. The British wheeled to meet them.

In less than an hour, Lee was roaring: "You don't know British soldiers! We cannot stand against them!" And in those ten words went the Battle of Monmouth and a quick end to the war. The temperature in the fields was 96, Hessians in full uniform collapsed and died amid swarms of mosquitoes, Continental farmers fled, their wool shirts plastered to their backs.

George Washington rode up, tired and disillusioned. Hamilton called to him: "We are betrayed sir. General Lee has betrayed the army." Washington found Lee and dressed him down like a trooper. Lee's excuse was that his orders had been disobeyed. Only Washington could have retrieved the situation, and Washington did. He rode his white horse up and down the line, exhorting the men to face the enemy and fight.

General Steuben was a hero that day. So was Col. Monckton of the British. There were others, unknown, unsung. The Americans were winning at sunset, too late. Clinton withdrew in the night, marched his army to Highlands, and crossed to Sandy Hook. The war would go on three more years until Lord Cornwallis surrendered at Yorktown.

History is more than dates. It is men and mistakes . . .

How To Succeed

Out at Flushing Meadow on Long Island, where millions will be congregating next year for the New York World's Fair of 1964-65, the concrete has been poured and the steel framework has already gone up for a Hall of Free Enterprise, the particular baby of the American Economic Foundation. Some of the exhibits planned for the hall — a "pathway to plenty" and a "tree of economic life"—are fascinating things in their present working model form. But the promoters of the World's Fair, far from needing a lesson in economics, might give even the pundits of the American Economic Foundation a lesson or two in how to make an enterprise pay off.

The amazing thing about this particular World's Fair is that it is already on the high road to solvency some ten months before the first visitor has had a chance to pass the turnstile on opening day, which is scheduled for April 22 in 1964. In marked contrast to the story of the World's Fair of 1939, which financed itself by selling bonds for $26,862,000 and then paid only thirty-three cents on the dollar to the purchasers, the newest Fair organization is proving highly ingenious at shifting its bills to the people who stand to get something out of the festivities.

Quite apart from the money received from New York City and from banks, insurance companies, department stores, restaurants, newspapers and industrial corporations in exchange for promissory notes, the World's Fair management, led by the redoubtable Robert Moses, has already generated a cash flow that mounts higher by the minute.

In 1939 the late Grover Whalen's Fair organization, consisting of some 37,000 paid employees, ate up funds like a horde of Kansas grasshoppers consuming a field of grain. The 1939 Fair built its own buildings and rented them out—and was stuck with the loss when the rents failed to cover the building costs. The 1964-65 Fair, by contrast, is renting only the ground space to corporations like General Motors, Coca Cola, IBM and other blue chips. The corporations are doing their own building on the rented sites, and are paying for the construction out of their own pockets. To handle the business of passing the detail along to the customers, Robert Moses is employing a permanent staff of only seventy-five people in comparison to the 37,000 of 1939. The landscaping, the engineering, the accounting, the security arrangements, are all being contracted out. When the 1939 Fair closed down, Grover Whelan had 37,000 hardship cases on his hands that needed other jobs. Mr. Moses's tiny picked group of seventy-five, with their reputations solidified, will probably be quite able to fend for themselves.

The 1964-65 World's Fair Corporation has discovered a variety of ways of collecting well in advance of the Fair itself. Anybody buying tickets before next March gets thirty-two-and-one-half per cent discount—and corporations and societies have been purchasing blocks of tickets to the tune of a million dollars worth for distribution to their employees and members next Spring. There has been a big preliminary cash flow of $11 million from rents, licenses and parking. An advance on royalties on the official guide to the Fair has already brought in $900,000.

True enough, the municipality of New York City is putting up $24.5 million for the Fair's promissory notes. This money goes into basic groundwork that will eventually be handed over to the city in the form of permanent park improvements at Flushing Meadow. But the city also stands to have its $24.5 million returned to it out of the first surpluses generated from the Fair's income. Thus, in the virtually certain event of a 100 per cent pay-out, the city will be getting an improved park at Flushing Meadow at no cost whatsoever to the taxpayer. And in addition to this, the city will benefit mightily from the four per cent sales tax on extra business that visitors to the Fair account for.

The city of New York may well smack its lips over the entire prospect. And Mayor Wagner can start grooming himself for the role of the man who had his cake and ate it too.

Rules Committee Chief Laughs Off Sen. Morse's Liquor Resolution

By Drew Pearson

WASHINGTON—Wayne Morse, the beetle-browed Senator from Oregon, is waging an unrelenting campaign against serving liquor at Senate receptions. Some of his colleagues wish he wasn't so persistent. They may be put on the spot before the summer is over.

It all began last year when the so-called "Rayburn wing" of the Capitol was dedicated, and Sen. Morse saw cartloads of liquor being wheeled into the reception room.

A few minutes later, Morse interrupted his debate on the question of suspending the 160-acreage limitation on federal reclamation projects regarding the San Luis Project in Central California. Morse was opposed to letting the Southern Pacific Railroad and other big landowners benefit from federal water by suspending the 160-acre limitation. But suddenly switching from water to liquor, he called attention to the fact that young girls were sightseeing in the Capitol as huge cases of liquor were wheeled past for consumption at the Senate reception.

"What Senators drink in private is their business," said the Senator from Oregon, "but what they drink in public is the Senate's business. This is government property, and the alcohol, for all I know, may be paid for by the government."

At this point, Sen. Mike Mansifeld, D-Mont., walked into the room.

"I was about to give Wayne an adjournment so he could attend the reception," Mansfield said later, "when he hit me over the head with a forensic club. He accused me of defaming the sacred halls of Congress with booze."

Morse continued to speak against both liquor and the administration's plan to suspend the 160-acre limitation for the San Luis Project while most other Senators went to the wing of the Capitol to enjoy liquid refreshments. One of those who arrived for the reception was none other than the President of the United States, who was promptly told about Morse's speech. President Kennedy was careful not to go near either bar, but later, on his way back to the White House, he stopped in for a visit to his old stamping ground—the Senate floor.

By accident, he poked his nose in the door just a few feet from Senator Morse.

"Come in, Mr. President. I was just telling about the irregularities of your administration in abolishing the 160-acre limitation," said Morse, who likes Kennedy but enjoys ribbing him. "Sit down, Mr. President, this will do you good."

"This is where I left the Senate," grinned the President, and bowed out.

Morse followed up his speech, however, by introducing a resolution against the serving of liquor in public places in the Senate. The resolution was referred to the Rules Committee and promptly buried. So far this year it has remained buried.

When Morse asks Sen. Everett Jordan, D-N.C., chairman of the Rules Committee, when his resolution will be voted on, Jordan just laughs. Jordon comes from the relatively dry state of North Carolina, but he doesn't want to embarrass his colleagues by forcing them to vote on a resolution which would put them on the spot with every temperance group in the nation.

Morse has also asked Democratic leader Mansfield to report out his resolution. Mansfield also laughs.

So Morse now intends to tack a liquor rider on the next important appropriations. bill It would ban the expenditure of any funds for government buildings which permit serving liquor.

A True Friend

An unassuming Negro, bent with age, joined Senators and other celebrities the other day in honoring Sen. Frank Moss of Utah at a dinner in Salt Lake City.

The old man, Abner Howell, was invited to say a few words. He stood up slowly and spoke simply about his late son, Paul, who had been a boyhood companion of the Senator.

"When Paul went to school," old Abner said, "the other kids sort of picked on him, as children will do. When Paul came home, he said to me that 'Ted Moss is my friend. He told the other boys to leave me alone and he stopped them from picking on me'.

"All through school, until Paul died, he and Ted Moss were close friends. When Paul was taken as a young boy, Ted Moss was a pallbearer at his funeral.

"It is worthwhile to be a friend. It is to come into people's lives with hallowed influences and never again to go out of them. To have the privilege of being a friend to many people is one of earth's most sacred gifts.

"I want to pay tribute to Senator Moss tonight as my lifelong friend."

It was something in the old Negro's voice and the simplicity of his manner that brought tears to the eyes of the high and mighty who listened to him.

The Heroes Of Vietnam

A confidential cable has arrived at the Pentagon from Gen. Paul Harkins, the American commander in South Vietnam, pointing out that U. S. helicopter crews are not the only heroes of the Vietnamese jungle fighting.

Time magazine had praised the whirlybird warriors, who have been hopping around the jungles in their UH1 helicopters.

"In spite of my high regard for the capability of the UH1 and the crews who fly them," Harkins cabled, "I have never stated that they are the most essential unit in my command."

He described his command as a "team," whose components are all "equally essential."

The Second American Revolution Has Begun

By Joseph Alsop

WASHINGTON

On July 4, 1776, when a number of the boldest leaders signed the Declaration of Independence, the American Revolution began in deadly earnest.

Even then, a wiser government in London might perhaps have diluted or deferred the American Revolution, by bold generosity and shrewd, swift concession. But George III, Lord North and Lord George Germain were a trio dedicated to disaster. With Washington and Jefferson and Adams, their names should also be inscribed upon our list of founding fathers.

On July 4, 1963, it is needful to do something beyond commemorating the other, more glorious Fourth of July with festive firecrackers. It is needful to face the fact that for good or ill, something like a second revolution has begun here in America.

The symbolic figure, who warns us where we now stand, is the dead Medgar Evers. When Evers took the leadership of the NAACP in Mississippi, he cannot have acted from ambition, or in the hope of gain. He must have known the risks he ran. He ran those risks to free his people; and in the end he was brutally and shamefully assassinated.

The assassination of Medgar Evers does not compel us to be piously sentimental. Just the opposite is what is wanted. The murder of Evers calls for indignation, of course; but above all, it calls for realism.

Let the nine Americans out of ten who are white be realists as well. Then they must see at once that the Negro movement could not possibly produce such a man as Evers, to do the sort of thing that Evers did, without a strong tinge of revolutionary fervor. The emotion that induces self-sacrifice is the heart of the matter.

In some other Negro leaders, like James Baldwin for example, it may be reasonable to suspect that the element of self-pity is stronger than the element of self-sacrifice. But that does not alter the equation. Any student of the risings of the subject peoples against the colonial empires, is well aware that the self-pitying revolutionaries are generally more numerous than self-sacrificing ones.

These rising of subject peoples against colonial empires are the cases to consider. They are the cases to consider, moreover, not because our own American Revolution was the first and the most fruitful rising, but because they tell us so much that we need to know about the second revolution that has imperceptibly begun in our midst.

For the nine Americans out of ten who are white, the object of this new revolution is the key point to weigh. Its object, one must always remember, is not to subvert or destroy or replace the American system. The Negroes' object, rather, is only to gain the full American citizenship that the Constitution guarantees to them.

For the one American in every ten who is a Negro, the extreme peculiarity of the Negro revolutino is the key point to weigh. This movement, for all its kinship to one of the anti-colonial risings, is also set apart by a profound difference. The Negro claims may be just, but those who make the claims are still a minority; and the susceptibilities and even the prejudices of the majority must therefore be considered at all times.

Hence realism urgently requires the Negro leaders and their followers to avoid excess. That does not mean avoiding the insistent presentation of just claims. But it does mean refraining from pressing these claims by violence, or in other ways that can profoundly alienate the white majority. There is far more danger of this than many good people as yet imagine.

By the same token, however, realism also urgently requires the American white majority not to blink at, or try to wish away, or blur over the harsh outlines of the problem confronting us. This is not the moment for carneying arguments that the Constitution puts property rights ahead of civil rights, or for wishful suggestions that everything would be all right if it were not for a handful of "agitators."

Before they faced the truth, the British in India also talked about "agitators." As for the truth that the British in India finally had to face, it was bleakly simple. The truth was that they had only two practical choices open to them.

One choice was to concede to the Indian people what they were clamoring for, without weak half-measures or self-deluding compromises. And the other choice was to shoot enough Indians to make a new silence in the land, as Nikita S. Khrushchev later did in Hungary.

The British did not make Khrushchev's choice, essentially because they did not want to live in the kind of country that would do that kind of thing. What the Negro people in America are clamoring for is very different from what the Indians demanded of the British. But the practical choices open to the white American majority will surely be found, in the end, to be as limited as the British choices were, and for much the same reasons.

HOMEMADE "ART" — Attorney General Robert Kennedy's high-domed Justice Department office is profusely decorated with "original" art. Most of it is the product of his brood of pre-teenage children, and involves everything from pencil sketches, through crayons to oils.

Bobby explains that it gives him a lift to be reminded of his family while he's engrossed in governmental and political affairs, and it gives his children assurance when they visit him that he's not forgotten them in the rush of his official life.

A visitor recently walked around the room and inspected some of the "art." Among the pictures hanging on the walls was an original in oil by the noted abstract painter William Walton.

With a perfectly straight face, the visitor turned to the attorney general and remarked, "Say, this one's pretty good for a kid."

"CULTURE VULTURE"? — Some members of Congress are backing a proposal to create a Federal Advisory Council on the Arts, a move designed to elevate the cultural level of the nation.

Among them is Rep. Frank Thompson of New Jersey. He addressed a convention of the American Federation of Musicians the other day, and in commenting on his stand said:

"I am beginning to become known around Washington as a 'culture vulture.' I don't mind it too much. That's not a bad title for a guy who plays the washboard. But I want to serve notice here and now that I am not going to grow a beard and carry a guitar."

Early Tests Might Prevent Heart Damage

By Theodore R. Van Dellen

The life of many a man has been cut short in the late forties or early fifties by a heart attack. In all probability, damage to the coronary arteries could have been prevented had certain tests been made 5 to 10 years previously. This is said because several of the abnormalities that make a person more susceptible to heart disease are correctable.

The blood cholesterol is one clue but we are not sure about its importance. The saturated fats in our diet have been blamed, especially those from meats and dairy products. There is no doubt that up to 80 per cent of all victims of heart attacks have an elevated reading but we don't know whether the high cholesterol is responsible for hardening of the coronary arteries. In addition, lowering the level does not prevent recurrences of coronary thrombosis.

The cholesterol level may reflect the status of the thyroid gland. In this respect, the amount in the blood may be controled by the thyroid in much the same way as the elevated blood sugar level of the diabetic is controled by the pancreas. The reading goes up when a thyroid deficiency exists, which in turn may damage the arteries.

Several specialists administered small daily doses of thyroid to men who have had heart attacks and found it reduced the cholesterol level and prevented recurrences. But this extract should not be used indiscriminately because it might backfire and make the ailing heart work harder.

Obesity is another high risk factor and the low caloric diet will bring on weight loss. This diet should contain few saturated fats but more vegetable oils. High blood pressure must be corrected to lessen susceptibility to heart attacks. Certain changes in the mode of living are necessary, especially those associated with overwork, fatigue, and stimulation. Emotional upheavals such as anger must be eliminated too.

LOW SODIUM DIET

J. H. writes: I'm supposed to cut down on table salt and foods high in sodium. What items should be omitted?

REPLY

Among such foods are certain types of cereals, cheeses, and crackers, as well as bacon and products such as catsup and mustard. Send stamped, self-addressed envelope for leaflet on foods highest in sodium content.

SPREAD OF VIRUS

P. K. writes: What would cause encephalitis with the mumps?

REPLY

Mumps is caused by a virus. Now and then the virus spreads to the brain, causing encephalitis as a complication.

JOINT CHANGES

W. N. writes: Is there such a thing as painless arthritis?

REPLY

Yes, in that the X-ray may show evidence — often extensive — of arthritis but the individual has no pain, swelling, or limitation of movement of the joint.

HEALING AFTER SURGERY

R. C. writes: After an abdominal operation, does a person heal faster on the outside than the inside?

REPLY

Healing takes place at the same rate, provided it is not altered by strain, infection, or movement.

TEST AFTER INSPECTION

Mrs. B. writes: Is a urinalysis necessary after an attack of tonsilitis?

REPLY

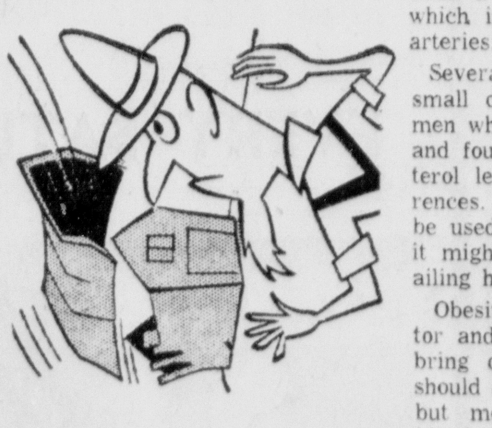
Not absolutely necessary but urinalysis often is advised to determine whether infection has spread to the kidneys.

To the limit of space questions pertaining to the prevention of diseases will be answered. Personal replies will be made when return stamped envelope is enclosed. Telephone inquiries not accepted. Dr. Van Dellen will not make diagnoses or prescribe for individual diseases.

Try And Stop Me

By Bennett Cerf

Francis Coburn tells of a typically laconic storekeeper in northeastern Vermont who has never let anything upset him very much. At the height of the 1937 hurricane in those parts, for instance, the storekeeper, watching trees, barns, and trucks swept away, would only admit. "It's a bit airy, ain't it?" There was a day, too, when a perfectly attired sportsman from Boston dropped in to inquire, "Do you carry shot for grouse?" The storekeeper regarded him sourly, then answered, "If you mean cartridge for partridge, we've got it."



Every session of Britain's House of Commons is called to order by the Speaker, who marches into the halls with the flowing train of his black gown held up by a page, looking for all the world like a character in Gilbert & Sullivan. On the way to the House, he strides through the visitors' hall, a herald preceding him to call out "Hat's Off, Strangers!" Tourists who have gathered from all parts of the world to watch the colorful and traditional ceremony, obediently doff their headgear as the procession goes by.

One day a great personal friend of the Speaker, named Neil McLean, was in the gathering in the visitors' hall. The Speaker spotted him as he walked through and impulsively cried out, "Neil! Neil!" Every tourist present promptly dropped to his knees!

Jim Bishop: Reporter

By Jim Bishop

Americans feel an enormous pride in the Revolution of 1776. The school studies in this country are prejudiced, biased and, in some cases, in disagreement with the facts. As a war, it was one of the most poorly fought of all time. George Washington was the epitome of honor, a fox-hunter and a good dancer, but, as a general, he spent a great deal of time trying to avoid a decisive action with the British.

The Yankee colonists wanted a nation. The British crown wanted a subservient colony. That was the issue. Each put an army into the field. The Redcoats were a well-disciplined group, accustomed to standing in company front and firing muskets en masse. The colonists were farmers with no knowledge of tactics, except to hide behind trees and stone walls and fire independently.

The Continental Congress spent much of its time in Philadelphia, playing politics by day and throwing wild parties by night. Sometimes, these perfumed gentlemen ignored Washington's anguished pleas for more men, more arms, and more money. Sometimes, to keep him quiet, they made promises. The men of congress fled Philadelphia when the British army arrived, just as they would desert the city of Washington in the War of 1812.

At Valley Forge, our army never numbered more than about 3,000 men. The enemy wasn't the English, living high in Philadelphia. It was malnutrition, gangrene and desertion. Sir William Howe, who held a secret admiration of the colonists, had been replaced by Sir Henry Clinton, a man who decided to ignore General Washington and, instead, pillage and burn the colonies. Howe missed the lace handkerchief set in the court of George III. Clinton wanted to win quickly by destroying the will of the people to resist.

Washington had two first-rate field tacticians: Benedict Arnold and Mad Anthony Wayne. The first became a traitor; the second inspired fear as an impetuous maniac. The war should have ended in June 1778, instead of three years later, but Washington missed one more glittering opportunity when he caught up with Clinton's Army at Englishtown, New Jersey.

In history, it is referred to as the Battle of Monmouth. Clinton was leading his regulars from Philadelphia to Sandy Hook, there to embark on British ships which would take them to New York. Washington led his ragamuffins from Valley Forge, across the Delaware, and made contact with Clinton's Army. The British, with a slow baggage train 12 miles long, were hung up half way to the fleet and safety.

Washington's weakness was a sense of honor. Instead of ordering his little band to attack both flanks in the middle and cut the British in half, he called a council of war. Wayne yelled: "Fight! I tell you, fight!" Gen. Charles Lee, a fear-ridden man, advised nothing more daring than small irritating forays. General the Marquis de LaFayette said "Do battle now." Alexander Hamilton murmured, with contempt, that the council would "do honor to the most Honorable Society of Midwives."

Caution sat on Washington's shoulders like the spectre of death. The colonies had just achieved an alliance with France and, if his army was defeated, the French might withdraw their support. He was afraid to fight, and afraid not to. He held a second conference with his generals at Hopewell. Only Generals Greene, Wayne, LaFayette and the handsome aide, Hamilton, favored a battle.

Clinton, locked on an alien road, 16 miles from vanguard to rear guard, was properly worried. Washington ordered an engagement and made the mistake of sending Lee, an hysteric, to feel out the British left flank. He specified that the attack was to be in the "rear" of the enemy army. This was another mistake. The rear was composed of 3,000 Philadelphia tories and their luggage. He should have cut Clinton's flashing fighting force in half.

Continental cavalry should have hit the head of the long snake. George Washington had little understanding of cavalry and less faith in it. Charles Lee started a battle he had opposed. He ordered Wayne and LaFayette out in front. The British wheeled to meet them.

In less than an hour, Lee was roaring: "You don't know British soldiers! We cannot stand against them!" And in those ten words went the Battle of Monmouth and a quick end to the war. The temperature in the fields was 96, Hessians in full uniform collapsed and died amid swarms of mosquitoes, Continental farmers fled, their wool shirts plastered to their backs.

George Washington rode up, tired and disillusioned. Hamilton called to him: "We are betrayed sir. General Lee has betrayed the army." Washington found Lee and dressed him down like a trooper. Lee's excuse was that his orders had been disobeyed. Only Washington could have retrieved the situation, and Washington did. He rode his white horse up and down the line, exhorting the men to face the enemy and fight.

General Steuben was a hero that day. So was Col. Monckton of the British. There were others, unknown, unsung. The Americans were winning at sunset, too late. Clinton withdrew in the night, marched his army to Highlands, and crossed to Sandy Hook. The war would go on three more years until Lord Cornwallis surrendered at Yorktown.

History is more than dates. It is men and mistakes . . .

Md. Senators In Favor Of Civil Rights Bill

The Senators from Maryland and Virginia are divided on President Kennedy's civil rights program.

Maryland's Senators, Republican J. Glenn Beall and Democrat Daniel B. Brewster, are among the co-sponsors of the President's program. They are prepared to vote for cloture (debate limitation) to break through an expected Southern filibuster.

Sen. Harry F. Byrd (D-Va.) said that he "will do all that I can against it."

A spokesman for Virginia's junior senator, A. Willis Robertson (D), said he regards Mr. Kennedy's whole seven-part package as either unconstitutional or unnecessary.

The division among the Senators of the two States is reflected in the views of their chief executives.

Gov. J. Millard Tawes of Maryland has generally endorsed the President's legislative proposals, including the highly controversial ban on discrimination in privately owned hotels and other establishments.

Gov. Albertis S. Harrison of Virginia is opposed to the program and has suggested more local cooperation and negotiation to settle interracial disputes.

Beall, who was a co-sponsor of civil rights measures proposed by other GOP Senators in March, said in a statement:

"I have consistently supported realistic civil rights legislation throughout my political life and will continue to do so.

"As an American, I cannot countenance two classes of citizenship. There should be no discrimination in the United States because of race. Obviously, I will support such legislation as reflects these views. Should there be a filibuster designed to prevent voting on appropriate civil rights measures I would support a cloture motion."

Brewster was understood to be willing to support a cloture motion if the civil rights bill at stake is one he favors and if there has been adequate debate.

In a statement issued when the President proposed his program, Brewster termed Mr. Kennedy's civil rights message "an eloquent and historic appeal to the Congress and to the conscience of America."

Byrd, a leader of the Senate's bloc of conservative Democrats, expressed his expected opposition to civil rights legislation in a statement to a reporter.

He and Robertson may have much more to say later, particularly if there is to be a Southern filibuster.

Barn Destroyed At Wiley Ford

Volunteer firemen from three companies were fighting a fire in the Wiley Ford area at noon yesterday, with officials estimating the loss at $65,000.

The fire destroyed a hay-filled barn on property owned by Michael Pinto, near Scenic Lane, just off West Virginia Route 28.

Firemen said the blaze was discovered around 5:30 a. m., with Wiley Ford Fire Company responding with two pieces of equipment and 20 men, Ridgeley with one truck and 15 men, and Wiley Ford with one vehicle and 12 men.

There were 6,000 bales of hay stored in the barn, firemen said, in explaining why the fire was so difficult to extinguish.

Lost in the flames, besides the barn and hay, were a tractor, hay conveyor and hay wagon. Some other equipment and a nearby milk house were saved from the flames, according to firemen. There were no cattle in the two-story structure when the blaze started, it was reported.

Pinto informed firemen the loss was partially covered by insurance. It could not be determined how the fire started, firemen said.

Arch construction was understood by the Sumerians as early as 3600 B.C.

County Appoints Three New Teachers

Three 1963 graduates of Frostburg State College have been appointed to elementary grade teaching posts in Allegany County, it was announced by Ralph R. Webster, superintendent of schools.

Accepting appointments were Miss Kay Frances Roach, of RD 1, Flintstone, Miss Linda Sue Cooper, of 516 Conrad Street, city, and Miss Donna C. Lewis, of 12 East Main Street, Lonaconing.

Miss Roach has been assigned to the faculty of Flintstone Elementary School, where she will teach the first grade.

She is a 1959 graduate of Flintstone High School and received her bachelor of science degree in June at Frostburg where she was active in the Student Education Association, Little Theatre and Collegiate 4-H Club. She did her practice teaching at Flintstone school.

Miss Cooper has been assigned to teach combined grades one and two at Gephart Elementary School, where she performed her practice teaching.

A 1959 graduate of Allegany High School, Miss Cooper was active in the Lutheran Club, Modern Dance Club and Fencing Club at the Frostburg college, where she also received her bachelor of science degree in elementary education last month.

Miss Lewis has been assigned to the faculty of Midland Elementary School.

A 1959 graduate of Valley High School, Miss Lewis likewise received her degree in elementary education last month at Frostburg. In college, she was active in the band, chorus and Day Student Association. Her practice teaching was done at Cresaptown Elementary School.

Finnigan's Hollywood

BY JOSEPH FINNIGAN

HOLLYWOOD (UPI) — Ever since television began presenting family type shows, viewers have complained about video parents being unrealistic.

Mom never smokes a cigarette, they grouse. Or, dad hardly ever tells his wife to go jump in the lake, as a brave husband is expected to do occasionally.

Television mothers have rules which they must abide by. We took a survey of some popular video housewives to learn the taboos.

Whitney Blake, the mother on "Hazel," says "I don't know if television knows what a housewife is. I'm not talking about this show specifically."

Citing specific complaints, the pretty Whitney said, "You don't make love to your husband. You can't be too affectionate or too angry. If you're angry, it's tempered. You can't wear trousers, although I will in one of the shows. Mothers don't wear bikinis."

Television moms not only have to be circumspect in their own shows, they must not soil their image on other series. Such is the case with June Lockhart, the mother on "Lassie."

"Any work that I do has to be within the image and concept of the mother on 'Lassie,'" she said. "The character is a very even-tempered woman."

Miss Lockhart doesn't wear slacks on her show. And she can't wear shoes with heels that are too high. Emotion is something else June is rationed.

In only one scene has she been allowed to indulge in a touch of good old female hysteria. That was when she was riding in a truck which was about to fall off a cliff. Any mother would get excited on the edge of a cliff.

Donna Reed, one of television's most successful mothers, said, "in the beginning I wasn't allowed to lose my temper frequently enough, but that was only the first few months."

Donna believes that television's moms should reflect some of the human errors of their real life counterparts, maybe even break a dish once in a while or burn the dinner.

Bible School To Open At First Nazarene

Vacation Bible School will be conducted in the First Church of the Nazarene beginning Monday, July 8, and continuing through Friday, July 19.

Classes will be instructed from 9 a. m. to noon each day under the supervisions Miss Gloria Files and Miss Dorothy Adams.

Those wishing to register in the school may do so in the regular Sunday school session Sunday.

Fire Destroys Hay Baler After Crash On Route 40

A hay baler machine was destroyed by fire Thursday when a farm tractor which was hauling the device apparently "slipped" its brakes while stopped along U.S. Route 40, a half mile west of Grantsville.

State Police said the two machines crossed the highway and plunged over a steep embankment, after which fire broke out.

The tractor was being operated by John M. Beachy, of Grantsville, who told police he had pulled off the highway and descended from the tractor when it suddenly "shot across the highway."

The rig struck two cars during the incident, resulting in slight injury to Mrs. Frances Henry, 63, of Berttstown, Pa. She was treated at Miners Hospital, Frostburg.

Also struck by the rig was a car operated by Hazel Haenstling. Accident, who escaped injury.

Police said traffic on the highway was blocked for a half hour while members of the Grantsville Volunteer Fire Company fought the fire.

In another accident on Route 40 Thursday, Mrs. Cecelia Karalewitz, of Newport, Mich., ran into the back of a loaded pulp wood truck.

She told authorities she took her eyes from the highway just prior to turning off at a restaurant when her car struck the truck.

The driver of the truck, Floyd Pullin, Grantsville, was treated at Miners for minor injuries. Damage to the two vehicles was estimated at $1,500.

Md. Senators In Favor Of Civil Rights Bill

The Senators from Maryland and Virginia are divided on President Kennedy's civil rights program.

Maryland's Senators, Republican J. Glenn Beall and Democrat Daniel B. Brewster, are among the co-sponsors of the President's program. They are prepared to vote for cloture (debate limitation) to break through an expected Southern filibuster.

Sen. Harry F. Byrd (D-Va.) said that he "will do all that I can against it."

A spokesman for Virginia's junior senator, A. Willis Robertson (D), said he regards Mr. Kennedy's whole seven-part package as either unconstitutional or unnecessary.

The division among the Senators of the two States is reflected in the views of their chief executives.

Gov. J. Millard Tawes of Maryland has generally endorsed the President's legislative proposals, including the highly controversial ban on discrimination in privately owned hotels and other establishments.

Gov. Albertis S. Harrison of Virginia is opposed to the program and has suggested more local cooperation and negotiation to settle interracial disputes.

Beall, who was a co-sponsor of civil rights measures proposed by other GOP Senators in March, said in a statement:

"I have consistently supported realistic civil rights legislation throughout my political life and will continue to do so.

"As an American, I cannot countenance two classes of citizenship. There should be no discrimination in the United States because of race. Obviously, I will support such legislation as reflects these views. Should there be a filibuster designed to prevent voting on appropriate civil rights measures I would support a cloture motion."

Brewster was understood to be willing to support a cloture motion if the civil rights bill at stake is one he favors and if there has been adequate debate.

In a statement issued when the President proposed his program, Brewster termed Mr. Kennedy's civil rights message "an eloquent and historic appeal to the Congress and to the conscience of America."

Byrd, a leader of the Senate's bloc of conservative Democrats, expressed his expected opposition to civil rights legislation in a statement to a reporter.

He and Robertson may have much more to say later, particularly if there is to be a Southern filibuster.

PHILADELPHIA (UPI) — Hercules Powder Co. said its Dutch subsidiary will build a new factory near Rotterdam to make water soluble polymers. The Dutch Hercules Company already makes resins at the Rotterdam site.

Barn Destroyed At Wiley Ford

Volunteer firemen from three companies were fighting a fire in the Wiley Ford area at noon yesterday, with officials estimating the loss at $65,000.

The fire destroyed a hay-filled barn on property owned by Michael Pinto, near Scenic Lane, just off West Virginia Route 28.

Firemen said the blaze was discovered around 5:30 a. m., with Wiley Ford Fire Company responding with two pieces of equipment and 20 men, Ridgeley with one truck and 15 men, and Wiley Ford with one vehicle and 12 men.

There were 6,000 bales of hay stored in the barn, firemen said, in explaining why the fire was so difficult to extinguish.

Lost in the flames, besides the barn and hay, were a tractor, hay conveyor and hay wagon. Some other equipment and a nearby milk house were saved from the flames, according to firemen. There were no cattle in the two-story structure when the blaze started, it was reported.

Pinto informed firemen the loss was partially covered by insurance. It could not be determined how the fire started, firemen said.

Arch construction was understood by the Sumerians as early as 3600 B.C.

County Appoints Three New Teachers

Three 1963 graduates of Frostburg State College have been appointed to elementary grade teaching posts in Allegany County, it was announced by Ralph R. Webster, superintendent of schools.

Accepting appointments were Miss Kay Frances Roach, of RD 1, Flintstone, Miss Linda Sue Cooper, of 516 Conrad Street, city, and Miss Donna C. Lewis, of 12 East Main Street, Lonaconing.

Miss Roach has been assigned to the faculty of Flintstone Elementary School, where she will teach the first grade.

She is a 1959 graduate of Flintstone High School and received her bachelor of science degree in June at Frostburg where she was active in the Student Education Association, Little Theatre and Collegiate 4-H Club. She did her practice teaching at Flintstone school.

Miss Cooper has been assigned to teach combined grades one and two at Gephart Elementary School, where she performed her practice teaching.

A 1959 graduate of Allegany High School, Miss Cooper was active in the Lutheran Club, Modern Dance Club and Fencing Club at the Frostburg college, where she also received her bachelor of science degree in elementary education last month.

Miss Lewis has been assigned to the faculty of Midland Elementary School.

A 1959 graduate of Valley High School, Miss Lewis likewise received her degree in elementary education last month at Frostburg. In college, she was active in the band, chorus and Day Student Association. Her practice teaching was done at Cresaptown Elementary School.

Finnigan's Hollywood

BY JOSEPH FINNIGAN

HOLLYWOOD (UPI) — Ever since television began presenting family type shows, viewers have complained about video parents being unrealistic.

Mom never smokes a cigarette, they grouse. Or, dad hardly ever tells his wife to go jump in the lake, as a brave husband is expected to do occasionally.

Television mothers have rules which they must abide by. We took a survey of some popular video housewives to learn the taboos.

Whitney Blake, the mother on "Hazel," says "I don't know if television knows what a housewife is. I'm not talking about this show specifically."

Citing specific complaints, the pretty Whitney said, "You don't make love to your husband. You can't be too affectionate or too angry. If you're angry, it's tempered. You can't wear trousers, although I will in one of the shows. Mothers don't wear bikinis."

Television moms not only have to be circumspect in their own shows, they must not soil their image on other series. Such is the case with June Lockhart, the mother on "Lassie."

"Any work that I do has to be within the image and concept of the mother on 'Lassie,'" she said. "The character is a very even-tempered woman."

Miss Lockhart doesn't wear slacks on her show. And she can't wear shoes with heels that are too high. Emotion is something else June is rationed.

In only one scene has she been allowed to indulge in a touch of good old female hysteria. That was when she was riding in a truck which was about to fall off a cliff. Any mother would get excited on the edge of a cliff.

Donna Reed, one of television's most successful mothers, said, "in the beginning I wasn't allowed to lose my temper frequently enough, but that was only the first few months."

Donna believes that television's moms should reflect some of the human errors of their real life counterparts, maybe even break a dish once in a while or burn the dinner.

Bible School To Open At First Nazarene

Vacation Bible School will be conducted in the First Church of the Nazarene beginning Monday, July 8, and continuing through Friday, July 19.

Classes will be instructed from 9 a. m. to noon each day under the supervisions Miss Gloria Files and Miss Dorothy Adams.

Those wishing to register in the school may do so in the regular Sunday school session Sunday.

Fire Destroys Hay Baler After Crash On Route 40

A hay baler machine was destroyed by fire Thursday when a farm tractor which was hauling the device apparently "slipped" its brakes while stopped along U.S. Route 40, a half mile west of Grantsville.

State Police said the two machines crossed the highway and plunged over a steep embankment, after which fire broke out.

The tractor was being operated by John M. Beachy, of Grantsville, who told police he had pulled off the highway and descended from the tractor when it suddenly "shot across the highway."

The rig struck two cars during the incident, resulting in slight injury to Mrs. Frances Henry, 63, of Berttstown, Pa. She was treated at Miners Hospital, Frostburg.

Also struck by the rig was a car operated by Hazel Haenstling, Accident, who escaped injury.

Police said traffic on the highway was blocked for a half hour while members of the Grantsville Volunteer Fire Company fought the fire.

In another accident on Route 40 Thursday, Mrs. Cecelia Karalewitz, of Newport, Mich., ran into the back of a loaded pulp wood truck.

She told authorities she took her eyes from the highway just prior to turning off at a restaurant when her car struck the truck.

The driver of the truck, Floyd Pullin, Grantsville, was treated at Miners for minor injuries. Damage to the two vehicles was estimated at $1,500.

Indians' Donovan Halts Yankees, 4-1; Orioles Divide With Twins

Pitcher Also Gets Two Key Hits For Tribe

AL Leaders Score Lone Run In 7th On Lopez' Homer

CLEVELAND (UPI) — Dick Donovan hurled a six-hitter and lined two key hits Friday night to help the Cleveland Indians defeat the league leading New York Yankees, 4-1.

The veteran right-hander, beaten in both previous starts against New York this year, pitched hitless ball until the fourth and had a shutout until the seventh when Hector Lopez slammed a solo home run.

Donovan also led the attack as the Indians scored three runs against Jim Bouton in the first six innings. The Indians scored their first run in the second when Jerry Kindall walked, moved to third on Donovan's double and scored on a fly ball by Tito Francona.

Cleveland added two more runs in the fifth on singles by Donovan and Al Luplow, Mike de la Hoz's double and an error by Clete Boyer.

In addition to Lopez' home run, Donovan was in serious trouble in only one inning. The Yankees had runners on second and third with two out in the sixth but Donovan struck out Joe Pepitone to end the threat.

The Indians scored their final run in the eighth against Marshall Bridges, who came on after Bouton was lifted for a pinch hitter in the seventh inning.

Red Sox Score Six In First, Whip Chicago

Earl Wilson Cops Eighth Win, 8-3

BOSTON (UPI) — Pitcher Earl Wilson blasted a two-run triple to cap his own six-run first inning rally Friday night in an 8-3 Red Sox victory over the Chicago White Sox.

Wilson, who went the distance for his eighth victory, hit his 380-foot drive off Chicago starter and loser Dave de Busschere, victim of the big Boston start. It was Wilson's first career victory after three losses to the White Sox.

Chicago relievers Eddie Fisher, Frank Baumann and Jim Brosnan held the Red Sox to two runs on seven hits thereafter.

Wilson, who walked only two and struck out one en route to his fifth complete game, gave up a Pete Ward solo homer, his 11th, in the third inning, and two more runs on three hits and a walk in the seventh.

De Busschere got only two men out while making his third start of the season. Chuck Schilling walked, Gary Geiger tripled, Carl Yastrzemski struck out and Frank Malzone singled before Dick Stuart flied out.

Senators Win 4th Straight

Rudolph Defeats Los Angeles, 5-1

WASHINGTON (UPI) — The last-place Washington Senators stretched their modest winning streak to four games Friday night with a late inning batting surge that gave them a 5-1 victory over the Los Angeles Angels.

The winning Senator attack came in the seventh with the score tied 1-1. Don Leppert singled, advanced on Don Lock's walk and scored on Don Zimmer's single. Lock and Zimmer reached second and third on Albie Pearson's fumble on the hit and came home on Ed Brinkman's single.

Washington picked up an insurance run in the eighth when Jim King singled, went to third on Hobie Landrith's double and scored on Lock's sacrifice fly.

Don Rudolph spaced seven hits to gain his fourth victory against nine losses. Dan Osinski was the loser.

Birds Defeat Minnesota In Opener, 4 To 3

Ike Delock Victor, Twins Cop Nightcap Affair in 9th, 7-5

BALTIMORE (UPI) — The Minnesota Twins bounced back with 17 hits and seven runs in the nightcap of a twi-night doubleheader Friday night to down the Baltimore Orioles, 7-5, after they had dropped the first game, 4-3.

Two errors by Zoilo Versalles, two walks and a base-filled single by Boog Powell chased loser Ray Moore, who was making his first start in four seasons.

Ike Delock, who went 5 2-3 innings, won his second game of the year and his first since coming to Baltimore.

The Twins scored their first run in the sixth off Delock on a single and three walks. Stu Miller came on to relieve Dick Hall and squelch a ninth-inning rally after the Twins had scored two runs on back-to-back doubles by Earl Battey and Versalles and a single by John Goryl.

Arnie Palmer Leads "Rest Of The World" To Win Over British

BLACKPOOL, England (UPI)—Arnold Palmer shot a three-under-par 69 to defeat British Ryder Cup captain Dai Rees, 4 and 3, Friday in leading the "rest of the world" to a 6-3 victory over a select British golf team in a special tournament put on by Prince Philip.

Doug Sanders and South Africa's Gary Player also scored victories, but the best U.S. Masters champion Jack Nicklaus could do was a tie with England's Peter Alliss in this colorful exhibition match preceding next week's British Open championship.

All 20 golfers had lunch with Prince Philip and each received solid gold cuff links worth $120 with the duke's initials inscribed.

Sanders delighted the crowd of 2,000 with some trick shots and fired a 34-36--70 to beat Neil Coles of Britain, 1 up. Player shot a 36-33--69 to edge Bernard Hunt of England, 1 up; while Nicklaus shot 35-34--69 to finish all - even with Alliss in the only tie of the day.

Palmer went out the first time in 35 and shot a 34 on the second nine holes to beat Rees, who carded 36-36--72.

Ed Tutwiler Cops 11th State Title

WHITE SULPHUR SPRINGS, W. Va. (UPI) — Forty-three-year-old Ed Tutwiler of Charleston—facing a youngster born two years after he won his first title—defeated A. J. Gray Jr., Wheeling, 4-and-3 here Friday to win an unprecedented 11th State Amateur Golf Championship.

The seemingly ageless Tutwiler set a record for tournament wins when he picked up his 10th title in 1961.

Tutwiler, showing remarkable stamina against the 20 - year - old sensation who upset defending champion Billy Campbell of Huntington in the semi-finals while playing only his second amateur, sewed up the ttile on the 33rd hole of the grinding, 36-hole finals.

San Francisco Giants Sign Pen-Mar Star Wayne Johnson

Mt. Savage Lefty Reports Tomorrow To Virginia Club

The Mt. Savage Old Germans, currently leading the Pen-Mar Baseball League race with a 12-4 record, have lost their pitching star to the professional ranks.

Wayne Johnson, the Old Germans' hard-throwing lefthander, signed a contract with San Francisco on Thursday and will report to the Giants' Salem (Va.) club tomorrow. Salem is a member of the Class A Appalachian League.

Johnson was signed by Giant scout Frank (Chick) Genovese after he beat Hyndman, 7-1, in a Fourth of July contest at Hyndman. The three-hit victory, witnessed by Genovese was the southpaw's ninth of the season against only two losses.

Since first performing in the Pen-Mar circuit in 1961, Johnson has won 29 games and lost 14. He turned in a 5-5 record for Mt. Savage in 1961 and posted a 15-7 mark last year, including a streak of seven straight wins at the end of the season.

The 20-year-old graduate of Valley High School pitched for one season (1960) in the Twilight League, piling up 11 wins in 13 decisions for Lonaconing.

Genovese, who has had his eye on Johnson for some time, believes that Wayne has improved considerably in the past year.

Johnson had a mediocre mound career in high school. In 1959, his sophomore year at Valley, he was 2-3. He dropped to 1-7 the following year and had a 2-3 log in his senior campaign.

Wayne's complete record, including high school, Twilight League and Pen-Mar competition, is 45 wins and 29 defeats.

Ft. Cumberland Post Seeks 6th Straight And District Title

Fort Cumberland Post No. 13 gets an opportunity to wrap up the championship of the Mountain District American Legion Junior Baseball League when it faces Barton Post today at 3:30 p.m., at Municipal Baseball Field.

The defending state champions are 5-0 to date and they could take it all by winning today over a Barton team that has won three and lost two. This is the first year that Barton had fielded a team in the league.

A Barton victory will delay clinching of the title and could extend the race to the final day (July 16) when Cumberland plays at Barton.

Cumberland has beaten Barton by scores of 16-7 and 9-5 with Ronnie Manges and Steve Vandenberg according for the victories.

Pirates Win On Clemente's 2-Run Homer

Mets Suffer 8th Loss In Row, 3-1

NEW YORK (AP) — Roberto Clemente poked an opposite field home run into the upper right field stands with a teammate aboard in the eighth inning to snap a tie and give the Pittsburgh Pirates a 3-1 victory over the New York Mets Friday.

The victim was Tracy Stallard, who had a two-hitter until Clemente's two-out blow. The defeat, New York's eighth in succession, was the sixth for Stallard, who has won three.

Don Cardwell, the Pirates' starter and winner, registered his fifth triumph against nine losses but he needed relief help from Al McBean in the eighth.

Cardwell gave up all five Mets hits, fanned seven and did not issue a base on balls. Stallard permitted only three hits, struck out six but walked four before giving way for a pinch hitter in the eighth.

VFW Scores 5th Rec Win, Edging Bernstein's, 6-5

VFW, after blowing a four-run lead in the early innings, squeezed home a tally in the top of the eighth for a 6-5 decision over Bernstein's in a High School Rec Baseball League battle yesterday at Municipal Field.

Gary Elliott's squeeze bunt scored pinch-runner Bob Henry from third for the run which kept VFW's perfect record intact. The Vets are now 5-0, while Bernstein's suffered its second loss in five games.

Ed Lease walked in the decisive eighth for VFW, and Henry was inserted as a runner. Howard Reynolds then doubled Henry to third and set the stage for Elliott's winning maneuver.

VFW had taken a 5-1 lead after three innings, scoring three times in the second and twice in the third. Allen Foley led off the second with a home run, and Bob Brady followed later with a bases-loaded single.

Larry Miller was the big noise for Bernstein's, slamming a single, double and triple to account for three of his team's five hits.

Reynolds was the winning pitcher and Bob Klinger the loser, both in relief.

Indians' Donovan Halts Yankees, 4-1; Orioles Divide With Twins

Pitcher Also Gets Two Key Hits For Tribe

AL Leaders Score Lone Run In 7th On Lopez' Homer

CLEVELAND (UPI) — Dick Donovan hurled a six-hitter and lined two key hits Friday night to help the Cleveland Indians defeat the league leading New York Yankees, 4-1.

The veteran right-hander, beaten in both previous starts against New York this year, pitched hitless ball until the fourth and had a shutout until the seventh when Hector Lopez slammed a solo home run.

Donovan also led the attack as the Indians scored three runs against Jim Bouton in the first six innings. The Indians scored their first run in the second when Jerry Kindall walked, moved to third on Donovan's double and scored on a fly ball by Tito Francona.

Cleveland added two more runs in the fifth on singles by Donovan and Al Luplow, Mike de la Hoz's double and an error by Clete Boyer.

In addition to Lopez' home run, Donovan was in serious trouble in only one inning. The Yankees had runners on second and third with two out in the sixth but Donovan struck out Joe Pepitone to end the threat.

The Indians scored their final run in the eighth against Marshall Bridges, who came on after Bouton was lifted for a pinch hitter in the seventh inning.

Terry Deremer fired a 4-hitter, struck out seven, collected a homer and two singles and batted in five runs as the Salvation Army crushed the Bedford Road Optimists by the score of 14-1 last night at Penn Avenue Field and retained their half game lead in the Stoves Division of the Hot Stove Baseball League.

The Cumberland Optimists, behind the three-hit pitching of Ralph Leasure, who struck out 14, defeated the Jaycees by the score of 3-0 in the first game of the twin bill and stayed right on the heels of the Salvation Army.

The Salvation Army collected 13 hits which included a triple and single by "Mo" Rosenbaum, a three-bagger by "Rusty" Pfeiffer and two singles each by Teddy Malloy and "Rusty" Kunis. Crawford, Douglas, Harris and Trimble had singles for Bedford Road. Densock relieved Deremer in the 6th inning.

Oscar Lewis and Brady shared four of the Cumberland Optimists' eight hits while Leasure and McFarland rapped doubles. The Jaycees were limited to three singles.

Gary Hixenbaugh, the first of three Jaycee hurlers, was charged with the loss.

In Hot Stove League games played Wednesday, the Kiwanis Club routed the Rotary Club, 19-1, the Lions Club walloped the Elks, 16-2, and the Outdoor Club downed B'nai B'rith, 6-4.

Red Sox Score Six In First, Whip Chicago

Earl Wilson Cops Eighth Win, 8-3

BOSTON (UPI) — Pitcher Earl Wilson blasted a two-run triple to cap his own six-run first inning rally Friday night in an 8-3 Red Sox victory over the Chicago White Sox.

Wilson, who went the distance for his eighth victory, hit his 380-foot drive off Chicago starter and loser Dave de Busschere, victim of the big Boston start. It was Wilson's first career victory after three losses to the White Sox.

Chicago reliefers Eddie Fisher, Frank Baumann and Jim Brosnan held the Red Sox to two runs on seven hits thereafter.

Wilson, who walked only two and struck out one en route to his fifth complete game, gave up a Pete Ward solo homer, his 11th, in the third inning, and two more runs on three hits and a walk in the seventh.

De Busschere got only two men out while making his third start of the season. Chuck Schilling walked, Gary Geiger tripled, Carl Yastrzemski struck out and Frank Malzone singled before Dick Stuart flied out.

Senators Win 4th Straight

Rudolph Defeats Los Angeles, 5-1

WASHINGTON (UPI) — The last-place Washington Senators stretched their modest winning streak to four games Friday night with a late inning batting surge that gave them a 5-1 victory over the Los Angeles Angels.

The winning Senator attack came in the seventh with the score tied 1-1. Don Leppert singled, advanced on Don Lock's walk and scored on Don Zimmer's single. Lock and Zimmer reached second and third on Albie Pearson's fumble on the hit and came home on Ed Brinkman's single.

Washington picked up an insurance run in the eighth when Jim King singled, went to third on Hobie Landrith's double and scored on Lock's sacrifice fly.

Don Rudolph spaced seven hits to gain his fourth victory against nine losses. Dan Osinski was the loser.

Birds Defeat Minnesota In Opener, 4 To 3

Ike Delock Victor, Twins Cop Nightcap Affair in 9th, 7-5

BALTIMORE (UPI) — The Minnesota Twins bounced back with 17 hits and seven runs in the nightcap of a twi-night doubleheader Friday night to down the Baltimore Orioles, 7-5, after they had dropped the first game, 4-3.

Two errors by Zoilo Versalles, two walks and a base-filled single by Boog Powell chased loser Ray Moore, who was making his first start in four seasons.

Ike Delock, who went 5 2-3 innings, won his second game of the year and his first since coming to Baltimore.

The Twins scored their first run in the sixth off Delock on a single and three walks. Stu Miller came on to relieve Dick Hall and squelch a ninth-inning rally after the Twins had scored two runs on back-to-back doubles by Earl Battey and Versalles and a single by John Goryl.

Arnie Palmer Leads "Rest Of The World" To Win Over British

BLACKPOOL, England (UPI)—Arnold Palmer shot a three-under-par 69 to defeat British Ryder Cup captain Dai Rees, 4 and 3, Friday in leading the "rest of the world" to a 6-3 victory over a select British golf team in a special tournament put on by Prince Philip.

Doug Sanders and South Africa's Gary Player also scored victories, but the best U.S. Masters champion Jack Nicklaus could do was a tie with England's Peter Alliss in this colorful exhibition match preceding next week's British Open championship.

All 20 golfers had lunch with Prince Philip and each received solid gold cuff links worth $120 with the duke's initials inscribed.

Sanders delighted the crowd of 2,000 with some trick shots and fired a 34-36--70 to beat Neil Coles of Britain, 1 up. Player shot a 36-33--69 to edge Bernard Hunt of England, 1 up; while Nicklaus shot 35-34--69 to finish all-even with Alliss in the only tie of the day.

Palmer went out the first time in 35 and shot a 34 on the second nine holes to beat Rees, who carded 36-36--72.

Ed Tutwiler Cops 11th State Title

WHITE SULPHUR SPRINGS, W. Va. (UPI) — Forty-three-year-old Ed Tutwiler of Charleston—facing a youngster born two years after he won his first title—defeated A. J. Gray Jr., Wheeling, 4-and-3 here Friday to win an unprecedented 11th State Amateur Golf Championship.

The seemingly ageless Tutwiler set a record for tournament wins when he picked up his 10th title in 1961.

Tutwiler, showing remarkable stamina against the 20-year-old sensation who upset defending champion Billy Campbell of Huntington in the semi-finals while playing only his second amateur, sewed up the ttile on the 33rd hole of the grinding, 36-hole finals.

San Francisco Giants Sign Pen-Mar Star Wayne Johnson

Mt. Savage Lefty Reports Tomorrow To Virginia Club

The Mt. Savage Old Germans, currently leading the Pen-Mar Baseball League race with a 12-4 record, have lost their pitching star to the professional ranks.

Wayne Johnson, the Old Germans' hard-throwing lefthander, signed a contract with San Francisco on Thursday and will report to the Giants' Salem (Va.) club tomorrow. Salem is a member of the Class A Appalachian League.

Johnson was signed by Giant scout Frank (Chick) Genovese after he beat Hyndman, 7-1, in a Fourth of July contest at Hyndman. The three-hit victory, witnessed by Genovese was the southpaw's ninth of the season against only two losses.

Since first performing in the Pen-Mar circuit in 1961, Johnson has won 29 games and lost 14. He turned in a 5-5 record for Mt. Savage in 1961 and posted a 15-7 mark last year, including a streak of seven straight wins at the end of the season.

The 20-year-old graduate of Valley High School pitched for one season (1960) in the Twilight League, piling up 11 wins in 13 decisions for Lonaconing.

Genovese, who has had his eye on Johnson for some time, believes that Wayne has improved considerably in the past year.

Johnson had a mediocre mound career in high school. In 1959, his sophomore year at Valley, he was 2-3. He dropped to 1-7 the following year and had a 2-3 log in his senior campaign.

Wayne's complete record, including high school, Twilight League and Pen-Mar competition, is 45 wins and 29 defeats.

Ft. Cumberland Post Seeks 6th Straight And District Title

Fort Cumberland Post No. 13 gets an opportunity to wrap up the championship of the Mountain District American Legion Junior Baseball League when it faces Barton Post today at 3:30 p.m., at Municipal Baseball Field.

The defending state champions are 5-0 to date and they could take it all by winning today over a Barton team that has won three and lost two. This is the first year that Barton had fielded a team in the league.

A Barton victory will delay clinching of the title and could extend the race to the final day (July 16) when Cumberland plays at Barton.

Cumberland has beaten Barton by scores of 16-7 and 9-5 with Ronnie Manges and Steve Vandenberg according for the victories.

Mets Suffer 8th Loss In Row, 3-1

NEW YORK (AP) — Roberto Clemente poked an opposite field home run into the upper right field stands with a teammate aboard in the eighth inning to snap a tie and give the Pittsburgh Pirates a 3-1 victory over the New York Mets Friday.

The victim was Tracy Stallard, who had a two-hitter until Clemente's two-out blow. The defeat, New York's eighth in succession, was the sixth for Stallard, who has won three.

Don Cardwell, the Pirates' starter and winner, registered his fifth triumph against nine losses but he needed relief help from Al McBean in the eighth.

Cardwell gave up all five Mets hits, fanned seven and did not issue a base on balls. Stallard permitted only three hits, struck out six but walked four before giving way for a pinch hitter in the eighth.

VFW Scores 5th Rec Win, Edging Bernstein's, 6-5

VFW, after blowing a four-run lead in the early innings, squeezed home a tally in the top of the eighth for a 6-5 decision over Bernstein's in a High School Rec Baseball League battle yesterday at Municipal Field.

Gary Elliott's squeeze bunt scored pinch-runner Bob Henry from third for the run which kept VFW's perfect record intact. The Vets are now 5-0, while Bernstein's suffered its second loss in five games.

Ed Lease walked in the decisive eighth for VFW, and Henry was inserted as a runner. Howard Reynolds then doubled Henry to third and set the stage for Elliott's winning maneuver.

VFW had taken a 5-1 lead after three innings, scoring three times in the second and twice in the third. Allen Foley led off the second with a home run, and Bob Brady followed later with a bases-loaded single.

Larry Miller was the big noise for Bernstein's, slamming a single, double and triple to account for three of his team's five hits.

Reynolds was the winning pitcher and Bob Klinger the loser, both in relief.

Chuck McKinley Beats Aussie To Cop Wimbledon Singles Crown

First American To Win Since Trabert In 1955

Billie Jean Moffitt Gets Chance For U.S. Sweep Today

By ROBERT JONES
Associated Press Sports Writer

WIMBLEDON, England (AP)—Charles (Chuck) McKinley, a compact tennis missile, brought the Wimbledon men's singles crown back to the United States after an eight-year absence Friday with a 9-7, 6-1, 6-4 victory in the finals over Fred Stolle, a tall, blond bank clerk from Sydney, Australia.

McKinley, a St. Louis boy who calls Texas his home now, also broke a three-year Australian stranglehold on the title, most glittering prize in amateur tennis.

And before he swept to victory he had to endure 35 minutes of battering from the power-stroking Stolle that would have wilted a lesser tennis player.

Tony Trabert, the Cincinnati sailor, was the last American-born star to capture the title, although Peruvian Alex Olmedo—who played for the U.S. in the Davis Cup—won in 1959.

Rejects Pro Offer

Trabert, now the chief spokesman for the touring pro tennis players, promptly offered McKinley $50,000 for the first year to turn pro—and McKinley just as promptly turned it down. He said he wanted to finish his mathematics course at Trinity University, San Antonio, Tex.

McKinley returns to school in September and will not finish until January. His next assignment is with the U.S. Davis Cup team.

Billie Jean Moffitt, a 5-foot-6 chatterbox in horned rim glasses, gets a chance to make it an American Wimbledon sweep Saturday, when she battles top-seeded Margaret Smith of Australia, who stands four inches taller.

The 6-foot-3 Stolle had seven inches on his American rival, and for the first 14 games of the match he reeled off a succession of hammer blows.

But Chuck, 155 pounds of bounce and acrobatic agility, held on, retrieving impossible shots and salvaging his service games after falling behind again and again.

Then, so suddenly that it took the 18,000 crowd by surprise, it was Stolle who cracked.

Stolle Double Faults

At 7-7 and 40-15 on his serve, Stolle double faulted—as he was to do six times in the match. Then McKinley lofted a lob just inches inside the corner that caught Stolle charging in. He scuttled back and fluffed it, for duece.

McKinley hit Stolle's serve right back at him for one point and the Australian double-faulted for the game.

McKinley then kept the pressure on throughout.

Princess Marina, mother of the Duke of Kent and president of the Lawn Tennis Association, presented McKinley with the championship cup while the gallery stood and applauded what the experts called the best final in four years.

McKinley, seeded fourth, never lost a set in the tournament.

Has Business Plans

McKinley said of the pro offer that he plans to go into business in Texas, which he now considers his home, after he finishes school next year.

He said, however, it would be foolish to say that he definitely will turn down the pro offer.

Uncle Sam also had a shot at a share of the women's doubles and mixed doubles titles. Darlene Hard, who comes from Long Beach, Calif., as does Miss Moffitt, is teamed with Maria Bueno of Brazil in the finals Saturday against the top-seeded pair of Miss Smith and Robyn Ebbern of Australia.

In mixed doubles, Miss Hard and Bob Jewitt of Australia meet Australian Ken Fletcher and Miss Smith in the final.

A WINNER'S SMILE — Chuck McKinley, of St. Louis, Mo., holds his trophy high after winning men's singles tennis championship yesterday at Wimbledon, England. The Trinity University, San Antonio, Texas, student beat Fred Stolle of Australia 9-7, 6-1, 6-4 to become first U. S. player to take the title since 1955.

Mt. Savage To Seek 4th In Row Over Old Exports

Hermans To Visit Frostburg Sunday; Two Games Today

Mt. Savage's Old Germans journey to Barrelville Sunday to do battle with Manager "Buck" Fiorita's Old Exports in the fourth game of the Pen-Mar League series between the teams this season.

The Old Germans, leading the league by 1½ games, will be gunning for their fourth straight win, having beaten Barrelville by scores of 6-0, 9-7 in ten innings and 8-0.

Frostburg's Merchants, right on the heels of the leaders, are scheduled to play at Hyndman today at 3:30 p.m., and play host to the Cumberland Hermans Sunday at 2:30.

Manager Gary Keedy's club holds 8-4 and 8-2 decisions over Hyndman while their third meeting resulted in an 8-inning 2-2 tie, halted by darkness.

Cumberland has had the Indian sign on Frostburg this season and the Mountain City team will be seeking its first victory when the teams meet for the fourth time. The Hermans have won by scores of 5-4 in 14 innings, 3-2 and 2-0.

In another Saturday game, Barrelville plays at Lonaconing at 3:30 p.m.

Lonaconing has beaten Barrelville thrice by scores of 8-0, 3-1 and 13-12.

Rounding on the Sunday schedule is the Hyndman at Lonaconing tilt. These teams stand even-Stephen in their series. Coney won the opener, 11-4, Hyndman took the second game, 11-4, and the third contest ended in a 6-6 tie.

In games played July 4, Mt. Savage trimmed Hyndman, 7-1, Cumberland downed Lonaconing 13-7 and Frostburg edged Barrelville 3-2.

Cubs Nip Phils In 11 Innings For 5th In Row

McDaniel Credited With 3-2 Victory

CHICAGO (AP) — Ernie Banks, for the second time in the past three games, scored the winning run as the Chicago Cubs captured their fifth straight, a 3-2 11-inning thriller Friday from the Philadelphia Phillies.

Banks doubled with one out in the 11th, took third on a wild pitch by loser Johnny Klippstein, and scored on Andre Rodgers' sacrifice fly to Johnny Callison.

Lindy McDaniel was credited with the victory and now is 5-2.

The Phillies took a 1-0 lead in the second when Frank Torre stroked a leadoff double, took third on Clay Dalrymple's fly and scored on Dick Bertell's throwing error trying to pick him off third.

The Cubs matched this in the third on Don Landrum's double and Billy Williams' single.

Ruben Amaro, a .170 hitter at the game's start, hit the second homer of his major league career and his first since 1961 leading off the fifth.

The two starting pitchers, Ray Culp and Larry Jackson, both both were out of action after the Cubs pulled into a 2-2 tie with an unearned run in the eighth.

Ron Santo singled home the tying run in the eighth after Landrum reached base on an error and took second on a sacrifice.

Jack Cheney Hurls No-Hit Game For Little League Sox

Jack Cheney, pitching his team's second no-hitter of the season, hurled the Red Sox into a tie for first place in the Little League's Dapper Division yesterday by blanking the Orioles, 8-0, at Post Field.

In Dan Division action yesterday, the Tigers thumped the Dodgers, 12-1, at Dapper Dan Field, and the Senators beat the Athletics, 4-1, at Constitution Park.

Cheney joined teammate Bobby Deremer in the "no-hit" club yesterday. Deremer held the Yankees hitless two weeks ago yesterday as the Red Sox romped, 10-0.

Fifteen Oriole batters went down on strikeouts, while Cheney issued four bases on balls. Billy Eyler rapped three singles and Gary Wilkins had a triple for the Red Sox, who are tied for the division lead with the Giants, each with 5-1 records.

The Tigers, in racking up their sixth straight Dan Division triumph without a loss, clubbed 16 hits off two Dodgers pitchers. Glenn Cross led the barrage with two doubles and a single, while Tommy Green had a triple and single, and Richard Kienhofer a two-bagger and single. Kevin Kienhofer had three hits of the one-base variety.

Bobby Fields, with a triple and single, accounted for two of the five hits the Dodgers obtained off Merv Uhl, who struck out eight.

Jimmy Crump, of the Senators, allowed just two hits in turning back the Athletics. Steve Drenning paced the Senators at the plate with a triple and single, and Eddie Plummer and Jimmy Keating collected two hits apiece. Wilkins and McLaughlin had the Athletics' only safeties.

Roster Changes Made In Pen-Mar

Player changes involving two Pen-Mar Baseball League teams have been announced by Howard Northcraft, league secretary-treasurer.

Cumberland signed John Schaber and gave Russell Jones his release. Barrelville added Richard Stiffey to its roster and released Jim Brown and Robert Pugh.

Ford Leads In Canada

Doug Paces Open With Score 210

TORONTO (AP) — Doug Ford, Tam O'Shanter, N.Y., veteran, shook off his challengers over the wind-buffeted Scarboro course Friday with a three-over-par 74 in the third round of the Canadian Open Golf Championship, retaining at 210 a two-stroke lead for Saturday's windup.

Ford was three strokes under par for the 54-hole distance. His earlier rounds were 69 and 67.

Herman Keiser, 48-year-old part time tour golfer from Barberton, Ohio, and Jack Fleck of Los Angeles, U.S. Open winner in 1955, were closest to the 40-year-old Ford with 212.

Keiser started his third round at 138, two strokes behind Ford, and had to settle for a 74 also. Fleck, starting with 141, shot an even-par 71.

Moe Norman of Toronto, with three consecutive 71s, and Dan Keefe of Wayland Mass., with a 69 in the third round, were alone in the 213 bracket.

In the 214 bracket were George Knudson of Toronto with a third-round 74; Bill Eggers of Henderson, Nev., with 69; Jerry Barber and Charles Sifford, both of Los Angeles and both with 71s.

Blanked for three innings, Westernport exploded for 13 runs in the last four frames to crash the LaVale Pirates yesterday by the score of 13-2 in a Bi-State Pony Baseball League game at Shehan Field, LaVale.

The win was Westernport's 8th in 10 outings and enabled them to maintain their 1½ games lead over idle Mt. Savage which plays the Little Moes today at 10 a.m., at Frostburg.

Leo Mazzone, who came on in the second inning, received credit for the win while Gary Robinette, who started for the Pirates, was tagged with the loss.

LaVale had only three hits, one a homer by Gary Rymer.

Al Clifford collected three singles and John Prado had two hits for the league leaders.

Keith Schell's single following a hit by Bernie Connors and an error produced the winning run in the 7th as Charley Ware's Frostburg Mounties edged the LaVale Cubs at Frostburg by the score of 10-9.

Bill Cutter, who releived Dennis Clark in the 7th, recorded his 4th win against a single loss. Jeff Williams took the loss.

Bobby Seibert, Vic Ryan, Leo Christner and Connors shared eight of the Mounties 12 hits while Fike blasted a triple. Bill Poorbaugh garnered a double and single and Jeff Williams had a pair of base knocks for the Cubs.

Tom Shockey's single scoring Bill Marley, who had walked and advanced to second on Ray Kirby's hit, broke a tie in the 9th inning and gave Lonaconing a 4-3 decision over Cresaptown in an extra inning battle staged at Cresaptown.

Jim Love went the distance for Lonaconing, yielded seven hits and struck out 16. Lonaconing racked up 12 hits, including a triple and single by Ray Kiddy and two singles each by Tomy Shockey, Keith Kiddy and Gene Broadwater. Pete Martz garnered a double and two singles and George Strickland banged a two-bagger and single for the losers.

George Strickland, who relieved Larry Beachy in the 6th, was charged with the loss.

Pennsy Angler Lands Largest Fish Ever Caught At Deep Creek

Andrew Lesko Hooks Great Northern Pike Exceeding 18 Pounds

OAKLAND, Md. (AP)—A Pennsylvania insurance man caught a Great Northern Pike Friday which was said to be the largest of its kind ever taken in Maryland and the largest fish of any species taken in Deep Creek Lake.

The Deep Creek Lake-Garrett County Promotion Council said Andrew Lesko of Dravosburg, Pa., hooked the fish weighing 18 pounds, 6 ounces and measuring 41 inches on a minnow, as he trolled near Glendale Bridge.

Lesko, a summer resident at the resort lake, has been fishing there for 12 years.

The council said the old record for Maryland's largest fish was one weighing 15 pounds, 13 ounces and measuring 39 inches caught by Robert Fetty of Morgantown, W.Va., in June, 1962.

Cornell Crew Is Finalist In Henley Regatta

HENLEY -ON- THAMES, England (UPI) — Cornell's heavyweight crew advanced to the final of the Grand Challenge Cup in the Henley Regatta Friday and became a strong favorite to win the crown from the University of London.

The Big Red, making its first appearance here in six years, utilized its awesome power to defeat the London Rowing Club by three-quarters of a length.

Two other American crews were successful, although the Cornell lightweights were eliminated from the Thames Cup. Joe and Tom Amlong of Philadelphia assumed the favorite's role for the silver goblets by easily beating J. Sutton and P. Sharp of the Sons of the Thames Club in the semifinals and Rollins College of Florida remained in contention for the Thames Cup by edging the combined Emmanuel and Churchill College crew from Cambridge.

The Cornell lightweights, outweighed by 17 pounds a man, trailed all the way against Queens College of Cambridge and despite a late rally lost the quarterfinal race by nearly two lengths.

Pen-Mar League Umpires Assigned

Umpiring assignments for coming games in the Pen-Mar Baseball League have been announced by Howard (Farmer) Northcraft, umpire-in-chief.

The all-star game, scheduled for next Saturday at Cumberland's Municipal Field at 3:30 p. m., will be handled by Joe Geatz, John Boyle and Al Martin.

Other assignments follow:

Sunday, July 14—Barrelville at Cumberland, Russ Minnicks and Rock Ingram; Lonaconing at Mt. Savage, Mel Nee and Boyle; Hyndman at Frostburg, Geatz and Bill Andrews.

Wednesday, July 17—Hyndman at Frostburg, Martin and George Charuhas; Mt. Savage at Lonaconing, Howard Brode and John Angellatta; Cumberland at Barrelville, Chick Snider and Gene Wilt.

TV Cameraman Hurt In Fall At Races

DAYTONA BEACH, Fla. (AP)—Peter Weis, 38-year-old cameraman for the ABC television network, was in critical condition Friday with injuries received when he toppled from a 35-foot tower during the Firecracker 400 stock car race on July 4.

Dr. A. H. Monaco said the Lynbrook, N.J., cameraman has a fractured spine and residual paralysis from the waist down.

Chuck McKinley Beats Aussie To Cop Wimbledon Singles Crown

First American To Win Since Trabert In 1955

Billie Jean Moffitt Gets Chance For U.S. Sweep Today

By ROBERT JONES
Associated Press Sports Writer

WIMBLEDON, England (AP)—Charles (Chuck) McKinley, a compact tennis missile, brought the Wimbledon men's singles crown back to the United States after an eight-year absence Friday with a 9-7, 6-1, 6-4 victory in the finals over Fred Stolle, a tall, blond bank clerk from Sydney, Australia.

McKinley, a St. Louis boy who calls Texas his home now, also broke a three-year Australian stranglehold on the title, most glittering prize in amateur tennis.

And before he swept to victory he had to endure 35 minutes of battering from the power-stroking Stolle that would have wilted a lesser tennis player.

Tony Trabert, the Cincinnati sailor, was the last American-born star to capture the title, although Peruvian Alex Olmedo—who played for the U.S. in the Davis Cup—won in 1959.

Rejects Pro Offer

Trabert, now the chief spokesman for the touring pro tennis players, promptly offered McKinley $50,000 for the first year to turn pro—and McKinley just as promptly turned it down. He said he wanted to finish his mathematics course at Trinity University, San Antonio, Tex.

McKinley returns to school in September and will not finish until January. His next assignment is with the U.S. Davis Cup team.

Billie Jean Moffitt, a 5-foot-6 chatterbox in horned rim glasses, gets a chance to make it an American Wimbledon sweep Saturday, when she battles top-seeded Margaret Smith of Australia, who stands four inches taller.

The 6-foot-3 Stolle had seven inches on his American rival, and for the first 14 games of the match he reeled off a succession of hammer blows.

But Chuck, 155 pounds of bounce and acrobatic agility, held on, retrieving impossible shots and salvaging his service games after falling behind again and again.

Then, so suddenly that it took the 18,000 crowd by surprise, it was Stolle who cracked.

Stolle Double Faults

At 7-7 and 40-15 on his serve, Stolle double faulted—as he was to do six times in the match. Then McKinley lofted a lob just inches inside the corner that caught Stolle charging in. He scuttled back and fluffed it, for duece.

McKinley hit Stolle's serve right back at him for one point and the Australian double-faulted for the game.

McKinley then kept the pressure on throughout.

Princess Marina, mother of the Duke of Kent and president of the Lawn Tennis Association, presented McKinley with the championship cup while the gallery stood and applauded what the experts called the best final in four years.

McKinley, seeded fourth, never lost a set in the tournament.

Has Business Plans

McKinley said of the pro offer that he plans to go into business in Texas, which he now considers his home, after he finishes school next year.

He said, however, it would be foolish to say that he definitely will turn down the pro offer.

Uncle Sam also had a shot at a share of the women's doubles and mixed doubles titles. Darlene Hard, who comes from Long Beach, Calif., as does Miss Moffitt, is teamed with Maria Bueno of Brazil in the finals Saturday against the top-seeded pair of Miss Smith and Robyn Ebbern of Australia.

In mixed doubles, Miss Hard and Bob Jewitt of Australia meet Australian Ken Fletcher and Miss Smith in the final.

A WINNER'S SMILE — Chuck McKinley, of St. Louis, Mo., holds his trophy high after winning men's singles tennis championship yesterday at Wimbledon, England. The Trinity University, San Antonio, Texas, student beat Fred Stolle of Australia 9-7, 6-1, 6-4 to become first U. S. player to take the title since 1955.

Mt. Savage To Seek 4th In Row Over Old Exports

Hermans To Visit Frostburg Sunday; Two Games Today

Mt. Savage's Old Germans journey to Barrelville Sunday to do battle with Manager "Buck" Fiorita's Old Exports in the fourth game of the Pen-Mar League series between the teams this season.

The Old Germans, leading the league by 1½ games, will be gunning for their fourth straight win, having beaten Barrelville by scores of 6-0, 9-7 in ten innings and 8-0.

Frostburg's Merchants, right on the heels of the leaders, are scheduled to play at Hyndman today at 3:30 p.m., and play host to the Cumberland Hermans Sunday at 2:30.

Manager Gary Keedy's club holds 8-4 and 8-2 decisions over Hyndman while their third meeting resulted in an 8-inning 2-2 tie, halted by darkness.

Cumberland has had the Indian sign on Frostburg this season and the Mountain City team will be seeking its first victory when the teams meet for the fourth time. The Hermans have won by scores of 5-4 in 14 innings, 3-2 and 2-0.

In another Saturday game, Barrelville plays at Lonaconing at 3:30 p.m.

Lonaconing has beaten Barrelville thrice by scores of 8-0, 3-1 and 13-12.

Rounding on the Sunday schedule is the Hyndman at Lonaconing tilt. These teams stand even-Stephen in their series. Coney won the opener, 11-4, Hyndman took the second game, 11-4, and the third contest ended in a 6-6 tie.

In games played July 4, Mt. Savage trimmed Hyndman, 7-1, Cumberland downed Lonaconing 13-7 and Frostburg edged Barrelville 3-2.

Cubs Nip Phils In 11 Innings For 5th In Row

McDaniel Credited With 3-2 Victory

CHICAGO (AP) — Ernie Banks, for the second time in the past three games, scored the winning run as the Chicago Cubs captured their fifth straight, a 3-2 11-inning thriller Friday from the Philadelphia Phillies.

Banks doubled with one out in the 11th, took third on a wild pitch by loser Johnny Klippstein, and scored on Andre Rodgers' sacrifice fly to Johnny Callison.

Lindy McDaniel was credited with the victory and now is 5-2.

The Phillies took a 1-0 lead in the second when Frank Torre stroked a leadoff double, took third on Clay Dalrymple's fly and scored on Dick Bertell's throwing error trying to pick him off third.

The Cubs matched this in the third on Don Landrum's double and Billy Williams' single.

Ruben Amaro, a .170 hitter at the game's start, hit the second homer of his major league career and his first since 1961 leading off the fifth.

The two starting pitchers, Ray Culp and Larry Jackson, both both were out of action after the Cubs pulled into a 2-2 tie with an unearned run in the eighth.

Ron Santo singled home the tying run in the eighth after Landrum reached base on an error and took second on a sacrifice.

Pepsis Notch 4th Straight

The Pepsi-Colas downed the Old Exports, 6-3, yesterday at Stitcher Field for their fourth straight win following three losses at the beginning of the season.

Bob Hook went all the way for the Pepsis and limited the Exports to six hits, while the winners collected nine safeties off Gene Hess.

Vernon Shrout, Whitey Slonaker and Mike Clark had two hits apiece for the Pepsis. Jim Taylor homered, and Hank Page collected two hits for the Old Exports.

Jack Cheney Hurls No-Hit Game For Little League Sox

Jack Cheney, pitching his team's second no-hitter of the season, hurled the Red Sox into a tie for first place in the Little League's Dapper Division yesterday by blanking the Orioles, 8-0, at Post Field.

In Dan Division action yesterday, the Tigers thumped the Dodgers, 12-1, at Dapper Dan Field, and the Senators beat the Athletics, 4-1, at Constitution Park.

Cheney joined teammate Bobby Deremer in the "no-hit" club yesterday. Deremer held the Yankees hitless two weeks ago yesterday as the Red Sox romped, 10-0.

Fifteen Oriole batters went down on strikeouts, while Cheney issued four bases on balls. Billy Eyler rapped three singles and Gary Wilkins had a triple for the Red Sox, who are tied for the division lead with the Giants, each with 5-1 records.

The Tigers, in racking up their sixth straight Dan Division triumph without a loss, clubbed 16 hits off two Dodgers pitchers. Glenn Cross led the barrage with two doubles and a single, while Tommy Green had a triple and single, and Richard Kienhofer a two-bagger and single. Kevin Kienhofer had three hits of the one-base variety.

Bobby Fields, with a triple and single, accounted for two of the five hits the Dodgers obtained off Merv Uhl, who struck out eight.

Jimmy Crump, of the Senators, allowed just two hits in turning back the Athletics. Steve Drenning paced the Senators at the plate with a triple and single, and Eddie Plummer and Jimmy Keating collected two hits apiece. Wilkins and McLaughlin had the Athletics' only safeties.

Roster Changes Made In Pen-Mar

Player changes involving two Pen-Mar Baseball League teams have been announced by Howard Northcraft, league secretary-treasurer.

Cumberland signed John Schaber and gave Russell Jones his release. Barrelville added Richard Stiffey to its roster and released Jim Brown and Robert Pugh.

Ford Leads In Canada

Doug Paces Open With Score 210

TORONTO (AP) — Doug Ford, Tam O'Shanter, N.Y., veteran, shook off his challengers over the wind-buffeted Scarboro course Friday with a three-over-par 74 in the third round of the Canadian Open Golf Championship, retaining at 210 a two-stroke lead for Saturday's windup.

Ford was three strokes under par for the 54-hole distance. His earlier rounds were 69 and 67.

Herman Keiser, 48-year-old part time tour golfer from Barberton, Ohio, and Jack Fleck of Los Angeles, U.S. Open winner in 1955, were closest to the 40-year-old Ford with 212.

Keiser started his third round at 138, two strokes behind Ford, and had to settle for a 74 also. Fleck, starting with 141, shot an even-par 71.

Moe Norman of Toronto, with three consecutive 71s, and Dan Keefe of Wayland Mass., with a 69 in the third round, were alone in the 213 bracket.

In the 214 bracket were George Knudson of Toronto with a third-round 74; Bill Eggers of Henderson, Nev., with 69; Jerry Barber and Charles Sifford, both of Los Angeles and both with 71s.

Blanked for three innings, Westernport exploded for 13 runs in the last four frames to crash the LaVale Pirates yesterday by the score of 13-2 in a Bi-State Pony Baseball League game at Shehan Field, LaVale.

The win was Westernport's 8th in 10 outings and enabled them to maintain their 1½ games lead over idle Mt. Savage which plays the Little Moes today at 10 a.m., at Frostburg.

Leo Mazzone, who came on in the second inning, received credit for the win while Gary Robinette, who started for the Pirates, was tagged with the loss.

LaVale had only three hits, one a homer by Gary Rymer.

Al Clifford collected three singles and John Prado had two hits for the league leaders.

Keith Schell's single following a hit by Bernie Connors and an error produced the winning run in the 7th as Charley Ware's Frostburg Mounties edged the LaVale Cubs at Frostburg by the score of 10-9.

Bill Cutter, who releived Dennis Clark in the 7th, recorded his 4th win against a single loss. Jeff Williams took the loss.

Bobby Seibert, Vic Ryan, Leo Christner and Connors shared eight of the Mounties 12 hits while Fike blasted a triple. Bill Poorbaugh garnered a double and single and Jeff Williams had a pair of base knocks for the Cubs.

Tom Shockey's single scoring Bill Marley, who had walked and advanced to second on Ray Kirby's hit, broke a tie in the 9th inning and gave Lonaconing a 4-3 decision over Cresaptown in an extra inning battle staged at Cresaptown.

Jim Love went the distance for Lonaconing, yielded seven hits and struck out 16. Lonaconing racked up 12 hits, including a triple and single by Ray Kiddy and two singles each by Tomy Shockey, Keith Kiddy and Gene Broadwater. Pete Martz garnered a double and two singles and George Strickland banged a two-bagger and single for the losers.

George Strickland, who relieved Larry Beachy in the 6th, was charged with the loss.

Pennsy Angler Lands Largest Fish Ever Caught At Deep Creek

Andrew Lesko Hooks Great Northern Pike Exceeding 18 Pounds

OAKLAND, Md. (AP)—A Pennsylvania insurance man caught a Great Northern Pike Friday which was said to be the largest of its kind ever taken in Maryland and the largest fish of any species taken in Deep Creek Lake.

The Deep Creek Lake-Garrett County Promotion Council said Andrew Lesko of Dravosburg, Pa., hooked the fish weighing 18 pounds, 6 ounces and measuring 41 inches on a minnow, as he trolled near Glendale Bridge.

Lesko, a summer resident at the resort lake, has been fishing there for 12 years.

The council said the old record for Maryland's largest fish was one weighing 15 pounds, 13 ounces and measuring 39 inches caught by Robert Fetty of Morgantown, W.Va., in June, 1962.

Cornell Crew Is Finalist In Henley Regatta

HENLEY -ON- THAMES, England (UPI) — Cornell's heavyweight crew advanced to the final of the Grand Challenge Cup in the Henley Regatta Friday and became a strong favorite to win the crown from the University of London.

The Big Red, making its first appearance here in six years, utilized its awesome power to defeat the London Rowing Club by three-quarters of a length.

Two other American crews were successful, although the Cornell lightweights were eliminated from the Thames Cup. Joe and Tom Amlong of Philadelphia assumed the favorite's role for the silver goblets by easily beating J. Sutton and P. Sharp of the Sons of the Thames Club in the semifinals and Rollins College of Florida remained in contention for the Thames Cup by edging the combined Emmanuel and Churchill College crew from Cambridge.

The Cornell lightweights, outweighed by 17 pounds a man, trailed all the way against Queens College of Cambridge and despite a late rally lost the quarterfinal race by nearly two lengths.

Pen-Mar League Umpires Assigned

Umpiring assignments for coming games in the Pen-Mar Baseball League have been announced by Howard (Farmer) Northcraft, umpire-in-chief.

The all-star game, scheduled for next Saturday at Cumberland's Municipal Field at 3:30 p. m., will be handled by Joe Geatz, John Boyle and Al Martin.

Other assignments follow:

Sunday, July 14—Barrelville at Cumberland, Russ Minnicks and Rock Ingram; Lonaconing at Mt. Savage, Mel Nee and Boyle; Hyndman at Frostburg, Geatz and Bill Andrews.

Wednesday, July 17—Hyndman at Frostburg, Martin and George Charuhas; Mt. Savage at Lonaconing, Howard Brode and John Angellatta; Cumberland at Barrelville, Chick Snider and Gene Wilt.

TV Cameraman Hurt In Fall At Races

DAYTONA BEACH, Fla. (AP)—Peter Weis, 38-year-old cameraman for the ABC television network, was in critical condition Friday with injuries received when he toppled from a 35-foot tower during the Firecracker 400 stock car race on July 4.

Dr. A. H. Monaco said the Lynbrook, N.J., cameraman has a fractured spine and residual paralysis from the waist down.

A truck struck a guy wire supporting the tower on which Weis was standing.

Ortega Is Favored In Bout At Garden

NEW YORK (UPI) — Pug-nosed Billy Bello, young New York welterweight, makes his big-time debut Saturday night in a nationally televised 10-rounder with ex-challenger Gaspar Ortega of Mexico at Madison Square Garden.

Despite 20-year-old Bello's left hook, ruggedness and boxing skill Ortega is favored at 2-1 to beat him and spoil Billy's first Garden main event and first television bout.

Mets Get Gonder

NEW YORK (UPI)—The New York Mets acquired catcher Jesse Gonder Friday to complete the involved waiver deal in which Charlie Neal and Sammy Taylor were sent to the Cincinnati Reds.

The 26-year-old Gonder, most valuable player in the Pacific Coast League last season at San Diego, brings a .313 batting average from the Reds.

ORDER OF PUBLICATION

The object of this suit is to procure a divorce A VINCULO MATRIMONII and custody of the minor children of the parties.

The Bill of Complaint states that the parties were married on April 25, 1946, by a minister of the Gospel in Allegany County, Maryland; that three children were born of said marriage; Raymond Francis Tallman, Blaine Philip Tallman, and Harry Lee Tallman; that even though the conduct of the Complainant was that of a kind affectionate, and chaste spouse, yet the said Respondent did desert and abandon her on or about the 14th day of August, 1954, and that said desertion and abandonment has continued uninterrupted for more than eighteen months prior to the filing of the Bill of Complaint; that both of the parties are adults; that the Complainant has been a resident of Allegany County, Maryland, for more than one year next immediately preceding the filing of this Bill of Complaint and that the respondent is a nonresident of Maryland and that his present address is unknown;

It is, thereupon, this 27" day of June, 1963, ORDERED by the Circuit Court for Allegany County, Maryland, sitting in Equity, that the Complainant, by causing a copy of this Order to be inserted in some newspaper published in Allegany County, Maryland, once in each of four successive weeks before the 28" day of July, 1963, giving notice to the said absent Respondent of the object and substance of the Bill of Complaint, warning him to appear in Court, in person or by Solicitor, on or before the 29" day of August, 1963, to show cause, if any he have, why a Decree ought not be passed herein as prayed.

Sally Carroll Cops West Virginia Title

WHITE SULPHUR SPRINGS, W. Va. (UPI)—Sally Carroll of Wheeling won her third West Virginia Women's Amateur Golf championship Friday — matching her record with that of Mrs. Nancy Stumpp—by defeating her old friend and rival one-up on the 17th hole.

Her victory continued the dominance which she and Mrs. Stumpp have maintained in state women's golf in recent years since the reign of seven-time champion Berri Long Copen.

Sally won in 1959 and 1960, lost to Berri the next year in the finals, and passed up the tourney last year to take a shot at the women's national title.

Mrs. Stumpp was defending champion after whipping Berri in last year's finale. She won previously in 1950 and 1957. Berri, who married during the past year, did not enter this year's event.

Woodie Held Injured, Tribe Calls Brown

CLEVELAND (AP) — Woodie Held, who has played the outfield and all infield positions except first base for the Cleveland Indians, has a bone chip on the index finger of his right hand and will be out of action from 10 to 14 days, the Indians announced Friday.

Held was injured in practice before Thursday's doubleheader with the Boston Red Sox, but played second base in the opener. Xrays revealed the extent of his injury.

The Indians also announced they were calling infielder Larry Brown from their Jacksonville farm club in the International League and that a player, yet to be named, would be sent out to make room for him on the roster. Brown, brother of catcher Dick Brown, of the Baltimore Orioles, has a .285 batting average with Jacksonville.

Shirley Englehorn's 71 Leads Golf Meet

SUTTON, Mass. (AP)—Defending champion Shirley Englehorn shot a one-under-par 71 Friday to take the first round lead in the $10,000 Lady Carling Eastern Open Golf Tournament.

Miss Englehorn came through an early thunderstorm and cold winds later with a two-stroke lead over Clifford Ann Creed. The rains, accompanied by lightning, delayed play on the 6,405-yard course for 30 minutes.

Tied at 74 were two of the tournament's longest hitters, Kathy Whitworth and JoAnne Gunderson.

Mickey Wright, winner of seven tournaments, fell off the pace early with an eight on the par-4 sixth hole, where a ruling led to her disqualification in last year's tournament. Miss Wright hit her drive into trees and her third shot into a pond on the way to her eight.

Mt. Storm, Smith Hope To Extend Long Win Streaks

Mount Storm, winner of 15 consecutive games, and leading the Town & Country Softball League by 1½ games over Loch Lynn, will attempt to stretch its victory streak Sunday when it hosts Friendsville in a twin bill at 2 p.m.

Rich Smith, Mount Storm's pitching ace, with a 14-2 record, will also try to extend his 13-game win streak.

Loch Lynn is at Accident, Kitzmiller opposes Oakland at Southern High School Field, the National Guard visits Petersburg and Markleysburg invades Swallow Falls for the other Sunday doubleheaders.

Mount Storm owns a 16-2 record and Loch Lynn is right behind with 14-3. Markleysburg trails Loch Lynn by two games with a 12-5 mark.

ORDER OF PUBLICATION

The object of this suit is to procure a divorce A VINCULO MATRIMONII and custody of the minor children of the parties.

The Bill of Complaint states that the parties were married on April 25, 1946, by a minister of the Gospel in Allegany County, Maryland; that three children were born of said marriage; Raymond Francis Tallman, Blaine Philip Tallman, and Harry Lee Tallman; that even though the conduct of the Complainant was that of a kind affectionate, and chaste spouse, yet the said Respondent did desert and abandon her on or about the 14th day of August, 1954, and that said desertion and abandonment has continued uninterrupted for more than eighteen months prior to the filing of the Bill of Complaint; that both of the parties are adults; that the Complainant has been a resident of Allegany County, Maryland, for more than one year next immediately preceding the filing of this Bill of Complaint and that the respondent is a nonresident of Maryland and that his present address is unknown;

It is, thereupon, this 27" day of June, 1963, ORDERED by the Circuit Court for Allegany County, Maryland, sitting in Equity, that the Complainant, by causing a copy of this Order to be inserted in some newspaper published in Allegany County, Maryland, once in each of four successive weeks before the 28" day of July, 1963, giving notice to the said absent Respondent of the object and substance of the Bill of Complaint, warning him to appear in Court, in person or by Solicitor, on or before the 29" day of August, 1963, to show cause, if any he have, why a Decree ought not be passed herein as prayed.

Sally Carroll Cops West Virginia Title

WHITE SULPHUR SPRINGS, W. Va. (UPI)—Sally Carroll of Wheeling won her third West Virginia Women's Amateur Golf championship Friday — matching her record with that of Mrs. Nancy Stumpp—by defeating her old friend and rival one-up on the 17th hole.

Her victory continued the dominance which she and Mrs. Stumpp have maintained in state women's golf in recent years since the reign of seven-time champion Berri Long Copen.

Sally won in 1959 and 1960, lost to Berri the next year in the finals, and passed up the tourney last year to take a shot at the women's national title.

Mrs. Stumpp was defending champion after whipping Berri in last year's finale. She won previously in 1950 and 1957. Berri, who married during the past year, did not enter this year's event.

Woodie Held Injured, Tribe Calls Brown

CLEVELAND (AP) — Woodie Held, who has played the outfield and all infield positions except first base for the Cleveland Indians, has a bone chip on the index finger of his right hand and will be out of action from 10 to 14 days, the Indians announced Friday.

Held was injured in practice before Thursday's doubleheader with the Boston Red Sox, but played second base in the opener. Xrays revealed the extent of his injury.

The Indians also announced they were calling infielder Larry Brown from their Jacksonville farm club in the International League and that a player, yet to be named, would be sent out to make room for him on the roster. Brown, brother of catcher Dick Brown, of the Baltimore Orioles, has a .285 batting average with Jacksonville.

Shirley Englehorn's 71 Leads Golf Meet

SUTTON, Mass. (AP)—Defending champion Shirley Englehorn shot a one-under-par 71 Friday to take the first round lead in the $10,000 Lady Carling Eastern Open Golf Tournament.

Miss Englehorn came through an early thunderstorm and cold winds later with a two-stroke lead over Clifford Ann Creed. The rains, accompanied by lightning, delayed play on the 6,405-yard course for 30 minutes.

Tied at 74 were two of the tournament's longest hitters, Kathy Whitworth and JoAnne Gunderson.

Mickey Wright, winner of seven tournaments, fell off the pace early with an eight on the par-4 sixth hole, where a ruling led to her disqualification in last year's tournament. Miss Wright hit her drive into trees and her third shot into a pond on the way to her eight.

Mt. Storm, Smith Hope To Extend Long Win Streaks

Mount Storm, winner of 15 consecutive games, and leading the Town & Country Softball League by 1½ games over Loch Lynn, will attempt to stretch its victory streak Sunday when it hosts Friendsville in a twin bill at 2 p.m.

Rich Smith, Mount Storm's pitching ace, with a 14-2 record, will also try to extend his 13-game win streak.

Loch Lynn is at Accident, Kitzmiller opposes Oakland at Southern High School Field, the National Guard visits Petersburg and Markleysburg invades Swallow Falls for the other Sunday doubleheaders.

Mount Storm owns a 16-2 record and Loch Lynn is right behind with 14-3. Markleysburg trails Loch Lynn by two games with a 12-5 mark.

Stocks Show Smart Gains As Trading Loafs Along

NEW YORK (UPI) — Stocks ambled through a post - holiday pre - weekend session to smart gain Friday in the slowest trading in more than six months.

Dow-Jones industrials rose 3.09 to 7.16.45 and Standard & Poor's more comprehensive 500 stock index jumped 0.28 to 70.22.

Trading loafed along at 2,910,000 shares compared with 4,030,000 shares Wednesday. Friday's volume was the slowest since the first session of the year on Jan. 2 when trading amounted to 2,543,720 shares.

Advances again outnumbered declines as 596 issues rose and 391 retreated. Of the 1,253 issues traded, 52 rose to new 1963 highs and 16 dropped to new lows.

Rails were the only major group to lose ground, dropping 0.84 in the Dow-Jones averages. However, brokers said, the threat of a nationwide strike which depressed the group also overshadowed some other sections including steels and motors.

Goodyear was the most active issue, rising ⅛ to 34⅝ on a turnover of 50,500 shares.

Steels were narrowly mixed with Republic and U.S. Steel backtracking while Bethlehem tacked on a fraction and Youngstown held unchanged.

Motors showed fractional improvement. American Motors, General Motors and Ford all gained ⅜ while Chrysler tacked on ¼.

IBM jumped 3¼ in a higher electronics section followed by Electronic Associates up 1⅛.

Metals turned in another good performance featuring U.S. Smelting up 2¾, American Smelting up 1; Newmont Mining up 1⅛ and Alcoa up 1⅜.

Xerox and Polaroid, the glamour twins, gained 4½ and 2⅜ respectively.

On the American Exchange prices were higher on a turnove of 930,000 shares compared with 870,000 shares Wednesday. Data control again topped the market in activity climbing 4⅛ to 23⅜ on a turnover of 105,200 shares.

Chicago Grains

CHICAGO (UPI) — A little flurry of buying pulled soybean futures out of early lows and boosted them to strong levels Friday on the Chicago Board of Trade.

Other grains finished lower.

At the final bell, wheat was unchanged to off 1½; corn off ½ to ¾; oats unchanged to off ⅞; rye off ½ to 1⅛ and soybeans up ½ to 2¾.

A sudden upsurge in soybean meal brought active buying to soybeans and prices soared more than 4 cents a bushel from earlier levels.

Corn and soybean crops received helpful rains over the holiday and moderate selling resulted.

Corn weakened on elevator house selling and mixed commission house trade.

Hedge selling depressed wheat prices.

Rye declined in spreading activity and light trade.

DAILY CRYPTOQUOTE — Here's how to work it:

A X Y D L B A A X R
is L O N G F E L L O W

One letter simply stands for another. In this sample A is used for the three L's, X for the two O's, etc. Single letters, apostrophies, the length and formation of the words are all hints. Each day the code letters are different.

Stocks Show Smart Gains As Trading Loafs Along

NEW YORK (UPI) — Stocks ambled through a post-holiday pre-weekend session to smart gain Friday in the slowest trading in more than six months.

Dow-Jones industrials rose 3.09 to 7.16.45 and Standard & Poor's more comprehensive 500 stock index jumped 0.28 to 70.22.

Trading loafed along at 2,910,000 shares compared with 4,030,000 shares Wednesday. Friday's volume was the slowest since the first session of the year on Jan. 2 when trading amounted to 2,543,720 shares.

Advances again outnumbered declines as 596 issues rose and 391 retreated. Of the 1,253 issues traded, 52 rose to new 1963 highs and 16 dropped to new lows.

Rails were the only major group to lose ground, dropping 0.84 in the Dow-Jones averages. However, brokers said, the threat of a nationwide strike which depressed the group also overshadowed some other sections including steels and motors.

Goodyear was the most active issue, rising ⅛ to 34⅝ on a turnover of 50,500 shares.

Steels were narrowly mixed with Republic and U.S. Steel backtracking while Bethlehem tacked on a fraction and Youngstown held unchanged.

Motors showed fractional improvement. American Motors, General Motors and Ford all gained ⅜ while Chrysler tacked on ¼.

IBM jumped 3¼ in a higher electronics section followed by Electronic Associates up 1⅛.

Metals turned in another good performance featuring U.S. Smelting up 2¾, American Smelting up 1; Newmont Mining up 1⅛ and Alcoa up 1⅜.

Xerox and Polaroid, the glamour twins, gained 4½ and 2⅜ respectively.

On the American Exchange prices were higher on a turnove of 930,000 shares compared with 870,000 shares Wednesday. Data control again topped the market in activity climbing 4⅛ to 23⅜ on a turnover of 105,200 shares.

Chicago Grains

CHICAGO (UPI) — A little flurry of buying pulled soybean futures out of early lows and boosted them to strong levels Friday on the Chicago Board of Trade.

Other grains finished lower.

At the final bell, wheat was unchanged to off 1½; corn off ½ to ¾; oats unchanged to off ⅞; rye off ½ to 1⅛ and soybeans up ½ to 2¾.

A sudden upsurge in soybean meal brought active buying to soybeans and prices soared more than 4 cents a bushel from earlier levels.

Corn and soybean crops received helpful rains over the holiday and moderate selling resulted.

Corn weakened on elevator house selling and mixed commission house trade.

Hedge selling depressed wheat prices.

Oats ran into hedging and weakened.

Rye declined in spreading activity and light trade.

DAILY CRYPTOQUOTE — Here's how to work it:

A X Y D L B A A X R
is L O N G F E L L O W

One letter simply stands for another. In this sample A is used for the three L's, X for the two O's, etc. Single letters, apostrophies, the length and formation of the words are all hints. Each day the code letters are different.

In Memoriam

In memory of my Father, William "Billy" Green, who passed away July 6, 1958.

The sixth of July brings sad memories
But as I stand beside your grave
And look up in the sky
I feel like you are looking down
from your home on high
I feel your presence near trying to cheer me on
Just like you used to do
In days that now are gone
And someday when life's journey is over
I hope I can be with you forever more

In Memoriam

In memory of my Father, William "Billy" Green, who passed away July 6, 1958.

The sixth of July brings sad memories
But as I stand beside your grave
And look up in the sky
I feel like you are looking down
from your home on high
I feel your presence near trying to cheer me on
Just like you used to do
In days that now are gone
And someday when life's journey is over
I hope I can be with you forever more

Wife, Bessie, Children and Grandchildren

Cresaptown Boy Is Killed Riding Bicycle

Strikes Truck On Route 220

A nine-year-old boy was killed yesterday while attempting to ride his bicycle across U.S. Route 220 near Cresaptown.

David G. Werner, son of Mr. and Mrs. Kenneth C. Werner, Darrows Lane, Cresaptown, died of multiple head injuries after striking a half-ton pickup truck.

William A. Collins, 21, of RD 2, Baltimore Pike, driver of the truck, was travelling south on Route 220 when the boy, who was cycling east on Lone Oak Road, failed to stop at the intersection and ran into the front fender of the vehicle.

The accident marked the first fatality of the four-day Fourth of July weekend in Maryland.

David would have entered the fourth grade at Cresaptown Elementary School in September. He was a member of SS. Peter and Paul Catholic Church.

He was born in Frostburg. He is survived by two brothers, Kenneth Jr. and Rodney; two sisters, Judith Ann and Mary Francis; his maternal grandmother, Mrs. Harriet Thoerig, Mt. Savage; and his paternal grandmother, Mrs. Gertrude Werner, also of Mt. Savage.

The body is at the George Funeral Home, where friends will be received today from 7 until 9 p.m. and Sunday from 2 until 4 p.m. and 7 until 9 p.m.

Woman Hurt In Accident

An Illinois woman was hospitalized yesterday following a two-car accident at the intersection of Henderson Avenue and Frederick Street.

Mrs. Cecelia Weise, 50, of Elgin, Ill., was admitted to Sacred Heart Hospital for X-rays and observation. She received a laceration on her forehead.

Her husband, Henry Weise, and daughter, Marlene, were treated and released at the same hospital.

City Police Officer Clarence D. Valentine said the Weise vehicle was traveling west on Henderson Avenue and failed to stop at a stop sign at the intersection. The Weise car was struck by a car operated by Mrs. Dorothy Wagner, 422 National Highway, who was going north on Frederick Street.

The accident occurred at 11:35 a.m.

W.Va. Woman Drowns Near Moorefield

A Fairmont, W. Va., woman drowned Thursday about 7:30 p.m. in a boating accident on the South Branch of the Potomac River, about six miles north of Moorefield, W. Va.

Trooper A. J. Wade of the West Virginia State Police detachment at Moorefield identified the victim as Mrs. Mary Louisa Pinson, 68, wife of M. L. Pinson, 416 Haymond Street, Fairmont.

Trooper Wade, who investigated the mishap, said Mrs. Pinson and a companion, Mrs. Pauline Hayes, of RD 7, Fairmont, were among a group who were camping on the Louis Scott farm.

The two women were drifting along the stream in a 10-foot plywood rowboat when they noticed they were approaching swift riffles. Mrs. Pinson endeavored to turn the boat away but was unsuccessful.

The craft was swept toward a tree with branches low over the water and the boat apparently capsized when the two women leaned toward the same side to avoid the branches.

Mrs. Hayes was able to grab a branch of the tree when she surfaced, but Mrs. Pinson was swept downstream. She had been in the water some 15 or 20 minutes before her body was located by campers who came to the rescue when alerted by Mrs. Hayes' screams.

Trooper Wade said the dress of the Pinson woman was caught in branches of another low-lying tree some distance downstream. Artificial respiration was unsuccessful, as was an attempt with a respirator of the Moorefield Volunteer Fire Company whose members were summoned by telephone.

The investigating officer said the Pinson family had been camping on the Scott farm for a number of years and was familiar with the rather swift and deep water of the South Branch in that vicinity.

Mrs. Pinson's body was returned to the Carpenter Funeral Home, Fairmont.

Jose Jimenez Pilot For New Fall Format

By RUTH B. THOMPSON

Now filming in Hollywood for NBC's Sunday night fall lineup is "The Bill Dana Show" which — quite predictably—will center on the doings of Jose Jimenez,the wistful Latin-American who a fair share of the time outwits the wily and most of the time charms just about everybody.

Jose, created accidentally for a one-shot gag when Bill Dana was a writer on the old Steve Allen Show, has risen to unbelievable heights in comedy becoming, among other things, the astronauts' favorite astronaut.

JOSE JIMENEZ

That "OK, Jose" comment that first U. S. Spaceman Alan Shepard, tossed into the intercom just before the first U. S. manshoot was inspired by none other than Jimenez. In fact, Shepard had the "Jose the Astronaut" album piped to him while waiting for blastoff on that historic morning. And not only is Jose their official mascot, but Bill has become a personal friend not only of the original Mercury-7 group but of the second group as well. He thinks just about one of the nicest things ever to hit his ears was the comment of one of them, who said, "You were my idol before I even dreamed of joining the space program."

Jose is coming down to earth for the new NBC series but he is in a spot where just about everything on earth could happen to him . . . he's a bellhop in a luxury hotel (plenty of room for celebrity guests as well as everyday dilemma). Of the hotel, Bill Dana—in his creator-writer guise —says, "It's so complete that if it had a cemetery on the roof you'd never have to leave the place."

In an age when the baby sort of got thrown out with the wash water when it comes to dialect comedy, Jose is a modern miracle. Nobody's yelling "stereotype." Instead he's being commended widely (including by Latin American groups) as an example of good taste.

His national origin, though, is impossible to pin exactly. Even Bill Dana—who should know if anybody does — pondered and came up with no clear answer.

Bill himself is easier, and even more fascinating, to track down.

Our interview was conducted in his penthouse suite in New York's Hampshire House (a luxury hotel but smallish). Bill was perfectly winning to trace back and see what had led him to becoming what has more than once been characterized as "today's Chaplin." Bill says he's flattered by the comparison but that there are strong differences between the basically tragic Chaplin tramp and the wistful Jose. Though Joe can be touching (witness his famous "mail call" episode, also as an album) Jose's upbeat. He has, and causes, plenty of tribulations and complications but it's in his nature to triumph.

Bill was born in Quincy, Mass., one of the five sons of Joseph and Dena Szathmary. Bill traded in his Hungarian family name for a variation of his mother's given name when he went into show business.

The brothers have done pretty well for themselves, too. Arthur ("The genius of the family") is a professor of philosophy at Princeton University. Two of the brothers are in music; Sidney being a concert violinist and Irving being musical director for some of the Danny Thomas Productions (of which the "Bill Dana Show" is the newest). Al is a rancher who also has a hand in the construction business.

Bill kids around so much, you can't always be sure it's gospel he's telling you . . . but the way he recalls it he was just a so-so student through high school.

It's on the record from there, though, that when he came back from his World War II military service he completed his studies at Emerson College in three years and was graduated with honors. His proud alma mater, incidentally, has since conferred an honorary degree on him.

New Video Shows, Casts In Readiness

Each week brings new bulletins from the networks about new shows in the works and additional casting on shows already announced.

ABC's major interest this week focused on "The Patty Duke Show" in which the teenage Academy Award winner will portray look-alike cousins (one of them, however, will have a Scottish accent so viewers can keep track of which cousin is "on.").

Jan Byron will play the mother of one of the Patty Dukes' and Paul O'Keefe, star of the hit musical "Oliver" will play a younger brother.

Also from ABC comes word that looking ahead a year, the network will present a series called "Great Bible Stories" with Henry Denker as executive producer. Denker wrote, directed and produced "The Greatest Story Ever Told," which ran for ten years on ABC's Radio Network and is said to have won more awards than any other program in broadcasting history.

NBC, also looking a year ahead, is making plans to base a series on a Pulitzer Prize-winning book, none other than "Profiles In Courage," by President John F. Kennedy. There are now ninety separate foreign language editions of the book, written when the President was hospitalized after corrective surgery for his World War II injuries back in 1955. The series, which will be produced by Robert Sudek will not premiere until after the presidential elections of 1964.

Rocky Road?

The mixup that's been happening ever since they both put on gloves shows signs of abating. CBS-TV has issued a wistful little announcement to newspapers noting that is it ex-champion Rocky Graziano, not ex-champion Rocky Marciano, who is the "featured regular" comedy relief on the Tuesday night Keefe Brasselle Show.

No Complaints

NEW YORK (UPI)—Loud singing can be heard frequently at the Hotel Edison these days but the guests aren't complaining. Mitch Miller and his "Sing Along with Mitch" television show rehearse at the hostelry for their weekly program.

New Video Shows, Casts In Readiness

Each week brings new bulletins from the networks about new shows in the works and additional casting on shows already announced.

ABC's major interest this week focused on "The Patty Duke Show" in which the teenage Academy Award winner will portray look-alike cousins (one of them, however, will have a Scottish accent so viewers can keep track of which cousin is "on.").

Jan Byron will play the mother of one of the Patty Dukes' and Paul O'Keefe, star of the hit musical "Oliver" will play a younger brother.

Also from ABC comes word that looking ahead a year, the network will present a series called "Great Bible Stories" with Henry Denker as executive producer. Denker wrote, directed and produced "The Greatest Story Ever Told," which ran for ten years on ABC's Radio Network and is said to have won more awards than any other program in broadcasting history.

NBC, also looking a year ahead, is making plans to base a series on a Pulitzer Prize-winning book, none other than "Profiles In Courage," by President John F. Kennedy. There are now ninety separate foreign language editions of the book, written when the President was hospitalized after corrective surgery for his World War II injuries back in 1955. The series, which will be produced by Robert Sudek will not premiere until after the presidential elections of 1964.

Rocky Road?

The mixup that's been happening ever since they both put on gloves shows signs of abating. CBS-TV has issued a wistful little announcement to newspapers noting that is it ex-champion Rocky Graziano, not ex-champion Rocky Marciano, who is the "featured regular" comedy relief on the Tuesday night Keefe Brasselle Show.

No Complaints

Party Friend Of Wally Cox Defends Jazz

The ordinary public sometimes gets the wrong idea about jazz musicians. Listen to the experience of Georgia Brown.

"I went to a party with Wally Cox," she says. "He's a love. The hostess found out that I sing jazz. I guess she felt that all musicians are on dope or something. She offered to send out and get some.

"People automatically think that a jazz singer must be a swinger. They assume that my private life is wild. But a jazz singer can be a very normal person. I hate vile language, for example; when I hear it, I freeze inside."

Georgia Brown is the black-haired British belter now starring on Broadway in "Oliver!" While there is a difference of opinion about the show, there is none about Miss Brown. She's a solid performer and her singing of "As Long As He Needs Me" is one of the memorable moments of this lackluster Broadway season.

She breathes fire into the song, which reflects her feeling about music in general.

"Words have an almost sensual appeal," she says. "The sounds made by lips and tongue and teeth are really quite sensual. Noel Coward knows this and knows how to use sounds. Take the opening line of 'Mad About the Boy'—you could almost know what he was talking about even if you didn't understand the language."

Bid Accepted By Danny Kaye For Reds' Show

Danny Kaye has accepted the invitation—officially transmitted through the U. S. State Department—to be an honored guest of the third Moscow International Film Festival which commences July 7 and ends July 21.

Before departing, Kaye met in Washington with Edward R. Murrow, United States Information Agency Director and George Stevens Jr., head of USIA's International Motion Picture Service, chairman of the U. S. delegation to the festival.

Kaye, who's become known as Ambassador-at-Large for UNICEF (The United Nations Children's Fund) went to the USSR a week early to tour children's orphanages, clinics and schools, as he has done all over the world. Language has never been a barrier between Danny Kaye and children. As proven in a documentary of his early world-visits to children ("The Secret Life of Danny Kaye" by CBS) they catch his sense of comedy regardless of words and loud laughter is their standard reaction to his antics.

Swimming Around The Channels

The marriage of sparkling Betty White and Allen Ludden set a lot of joy bells ringing among show folk. Both are enormously well-liked by teevee insiders, in fact the demand for them as a guest duette on other people's programs may delay the honeymoon. Fittingly Allen himself had Betty on hand for his own "Password" right after the good news became known.

Network publicity says that talking horse "Mister Ed" has his own makeup man, which is understandable enough (he can't be expected to dab on his own chalk)—BUT, his own morror? Well come now!

Sleek blond newsgal on the ABC lineup, Lisa Howard, who gets to talk to such fellows as Castro and Khrushchev, used to be an actress. Sharp-eyed viewers may remember her in the early days of "Edge of Night."

Harry Von Zell has joined the Navy, "McHale's" that is . . . it started as a one-shot but producer Ed Montagne says the veteran announcer will be back repeatedly next season.

Among the television stars who will be showing up on the straw-hat circuit are Michael "Third Man" Rennie, Earl "Wide Country" Holliman and Anthony "Checkmate" George.

That Vince Edwards' appearance in an Thanksgiving Day musical at last reports was so up in the air it may never get on the air.

Something New Added To NBC's 'Today Show'

Something new has been added to the "Today" Show. It looks like an irregularly wedged pie but actually it's a daily table of contents showing at approximately what portion within an hour a given feature will be presented "so viewers can see at a glance when guests will be interviewed."

The program's range of guests includes government officials, authors, entertainers, other celebrities. The clock face is changed every hour, and is held up frequently by one of the show's regulars, Hugh Downs, Jack Lescoulie or Pat Fontaine

H. G. Marshall Honored By N. Y. Bar Association

E. G. Marshall, star of "The Defenders," has been cited by the New York State Bar Association for his "realistic portrayal of the lawyer in action."

Though the association annually presents awards to the newspaper, radio and television fields for "factual works . . . about the administration of justice," this is said to mark the first time the association has so honored a "purely-fictional, entertainment-type program."

Party Friend Of Wally Cox Defends Jazz

The ordinary public sometimes gets the wrong idea about jazz musicians. Listen to the experience of Georgia Brown.

"I went to a party with Wally Cox," she says. "He's a love. The hostess found out that I sing jazz. I guess she felt that all musicians are on dope or something. She offered to send out and get some.

"People automatically think that a jazz singer must be a swinger. They assume that my private life is wild. But a jazz singer can be a very normal person. I hate vile language, for example; when I hear it, I freeze inside."

Georgia Brown is the black-haired British belter now starring on Broadway in "Oliver!" While there is a difference of opinion about the show, there is none about Miss Brown. She's a solid performer and her singing of "As Long As He Needs Me" is one of the memorable moments of this lackluster Broadway season.

She breathes fire into the song, which reflects her feeling about music in general.

"Words have an almost sensual appeal," she says. "The sounds made by lips and tongue and teeth are really quite sensual. Noel Coward knows this and knows how to use sounds. Take the opening line of 'Mad About the Boy'—you could almost know what he was talking about even if you didn't understand the language."

TOOK 'TAKE TWO' — Don McNeill, above, can write his own ticket. He took summer show series "Take Two" (ABC, Sundays, 4:30 p. m.) only because it originates from Chicago, home base of his ABC radio broadcast, "Breakfast Club."

Buddy "Beverly Hillbillies" Ebsen says some people never know when to take it easy and he isn't thinking about their hearts . . . he's thinking that after they've passed their driving tests, "too many people think they can pass anything."

Bid Accepted By Danny Kaye For Reds' Show

Danny Kaye has accepted the invitation—officially transmitted through the U. S. State Department—to be an honored guest of the third Moscow International Film Festival which commences July 7 and ends July 21.

Before departing, Kaye met in Washington with Edward R. Murrow, United States Information Agency Director and George Stevens Jr., head of USIA's International Motion Picture Service, chairman of the U. S. delegation to the festival.

Kaye, who's become known as Ambassador-at-Large for UNICEF (The United Nations Children's Fund) went to the USSR a week early to tour children's orphanages, clinics and schools, as he has done all over the world. Language has never been a barrier between Danny Kaye and children. As proven in a documentary of his early world-visits to children ("The Secret Life of Danny Kaye" by CBS) they catch his sense of comedy regardless of words and loud laughter is their standard reaction to his antics.

Swimming Around The Channels

The marriage of sparkling Betty White and Allen Ludden set a lot of joy bells ringing among show folk. Both are enormously well-liked by teevee insiders, in fact the demand for them as a guest duette on other people's programs may delay the honeymoon. Fittingly Allen himself had Betty on hand for his own "Password" right after the good news became known.

Network publicity says that talking horse "Mister Ed" has his own makeup man, which is understandable enough (he can't be expected to dab on his own chalk)—BUT, his own morror? Well come now!

Sleek blond newsgal on the ABC lineup, Lisa Howard, who gets to talk to such fellows as Castro and Khrushchev, used to be an actress. Sharp-eyed viewers may remember her in the early days of "Edge of Night."

Harry Von Zell has joined the Navy, "McHale's" that is . . . it started as a one-shot but producer Ed Montagne says the veteran announcer will be back repeatedly next season.

Among the television stars who will be showing up on the straw-hat circuit are Michael "Third Man" Rennie, Earl "Wide Country" Holliman and Anthony "Checkmate" George.

That Vince Edwards' appearance in an Thanksgiving Day musical at last reports was so up in the air it may never get on the air.

NBC-TV's 90-minute "The Virginian" color series sometimes has three production units going at once—with a helicopter shuttling stars back and forth.

NEW IMAGE — Diana Lynn (above) is quietly creating a new image, not that the old one was bad. She feels that her movie career established her as a star before she knew her trade. Since, she has learned to act, and has done difficult roles on television. "But I still want to do harder things," she says.

Something New Added To NBC's 'Today Show'

Something new has been added to the "Today" Show. It looks like an irregularly wedged pie but actually it's a daily table of contents showing at approximately what portion within an hour a given feature will be presented "so viewers can see at a glance when guests will be interviewed."

The program's range of guests includes government officials, authors, entertainers, other celebrities. The clock face is changed every hour, and is held up frequently by one of the show's regulars, Hugh Downs, Jack Lescoulie or Pat Fontaine

ABC Newsman Gets Married In Moscow

ABC newsman Sam Jaffe (not to be confused with his uncle, actor Sam Jaffe) has been married in Moscow to Elizabeth Jeune Gorgeson. In accordance with Soviet law the marriage took place at Moscow's Palace of Marriages.

Jaffe is ABC's Moscow correspondent. His bride, who is a native of New Zealand, is employed by the American Embassy in the Russian capital.

No Lie, 'Tell Truth' Marks Anniversary

Whereas the Gregorian calendar has 365 days, the "television strip-series" calendars have 261 days (five day weeks for fifty-two week years—give or take a holiday or preemption now and then). And for the daytime version of "To Tell the Truth," the 261st has been passed, making it a happy first anniversary on CBS-TV. The program has used 1,566 contestants in that time.

Say "Pepsi, please!"
